The Hymns of the Rig-Veda, in the Samhita and Pada Text, by Professor F. Max Müller, M.A., in two Volumes. Price Rs. 24; packing and postage, Re. 1-12.

 The Rig-Veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class-books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholarlike knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammars, and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country.—Extract from Preface.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE SANITARY COMMISSIONER FOR BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1874.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.—SANITATION

Calcutta, the 3rd August 1875.

READ—

The Report of the Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal for the year 1874, by Surgeon-Major John Martin Coates, M.D.

1. THE Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe the greater punctuality with which this report has been submitted, and the concise and practical form in which it has been prepared. The Sanitary Commissioner has divided it into five principal sections, in which he treats, 1st, of the results of registration during the year; 2nd, of the general death-rates and birth-rates of the year; 3rd, of the comparative prevalence of the several principal diseases; 4th, of his own personal proceedings; and 5th, of the principal topics of interest in each district in matters of health and sanitation. Appendix I of the report gives an interesting account of the nature and causation of the Burdwan fever, by Dr. Wilkie, who was specially deputed to enquire into the origin and the phenomena of this disease.

2. The general statistics of mortality have not been printed, as the results are not considered trustworthy, though it is noticed that they show an improvement over the returns of former years. The average death-rate per thousand of population is shown at 8.42 throughout the whole of the Lower Provinces, against 7.75 recorded in 1873.

3. The statistics of births and deaths in the selected areas have been printed in Appendix II of the report.

4. The number of selected areas has increased from 100 in 1873 to 139, of which 76 are urban and 63 are rural areas. The Sanitary Commissioner quotes, and apparently accepts as approximately correct, a calculation which estimates the average duration of life in India at thirty years and eight months, at which rate the average annual death-rate would be 32·57 per thousand of population. But it is doubtful how far this estimate can be assumed to be correct for the Lower Provinces of Bengal; and in reviewing the registration of the year, Dr. Coates has entered as approximately correct those results which exhibit a death-rate exceeding 25 per thousand. This result was obtained in 27 urban tracts and in 19 rural tracts among the selected areas. But in the majority of these the apparent improvement in registration was really due to an increase of actual mortality, owing to the prevalence of severe or epidemic disease during the year. There remain, however, seven urban and eight rural tracts in which the reverse was the case, the mortality having been lower, and the areas having maintained their place in the list entirely through more efficient registration. Conspicuous among these are Lohardugga, Patna, Dinagore, and Moorshedabad, in all of which districts the results of the year's registration are creditable to the officers concerned, though even in some of these the figures at page 4 of the report show that more attention is required to the returns of the general circles. On the other hand, it is observed that Fureedpore was the most unhealthy district of Bengal in 1874, owing to the prevalence and severity of malarious fever. In the town itself the mortality was 47·56 per thousand, in the selected rural areas it was 57·51; but the general returns of the district show a mortality of only 5·80, though there is no ground for believing that the general mortality was lower than that of the selected areas.

5. The suggestions made in the report for the improvement of registration practically resolve themselves into the employment of a paid agency for the purpose. This is already carried out to some extent in the selected areas; but it is manifestly impracticable in the general circles. And even in the selected areas it would seem that the employment of a paid agency has not so marked an effect as the personal attention and supervision of the officers concerned. In Jessore, where a grant is made to meet the expenses of registration, the results are not so satisfactory as in some districts which do not enjoy a similar advantage. The Commissioner has made no reference in his report to the Bengal Council Act IV of 1873, under which registration can be enforced in those areas to which the law is extended. The subject is however under consideration in a separate correspondence, and it appears in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion generally desirable to extend the Act over several of the selected area localities, and especially over those town areas in which municipalities are established. It may also be hoped that the operation of the Village Chowkidari Act VI of 1870 will result in improving the character and trustworthiness of the rural police, through whose agency the registration of these statistics is now principally carried out in the rural areas. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that Dr. Ghose, Civil Surgeon of Rungpore, is noticed as having exerted himself earnestly and successfully in the collection of vital statistics: and that a zemindar, Babu Romoni Mohun Roy, was induced by Dr. Ghose to undertake the collection of some special returns, which the Sanitary Commissioner considers to be entirely accurate. On the whole, it may be said that the results of the year show a decided improvement in registration, and encourage the hope that steady perseverance will gradually remove imperfections and supply deficiencies, and will furnish us with data from which trustworthy conclusions may be drawn.

6. As there has been no retrogression in the accuracy of registration, Dr. Coates is of opinion that the diminution of the death-rate under any specified disease argues a real decline in the prevalence of that disease. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that there was a decided increase in the number of deaths from injuries and accidents, and as there is no reason for supposing that such deaths were really more numerous, this difference is entirely due to improved registration. The same argument would tend to show that cholera and small-pox were less prevalent in 1874 than in the previous year. But in this case it is possible that the decrease arises in part from a more accurate classification of disease, and not from a real diminution of mortality. Still, taking all diseases together, it is shown that in the majority of districts the public health was better than in 1873. It was anticipated that the famine in Northern Bengal and Behar would seriously increase the mortality, not only by deaths from actual starvation, but by debilitating the people and predisposing them to disease. But fortunately this apprehension proved to be unfounded. The reports of the local medical officers, and the personal observations of Dr. Coates himself, in his tours through the distressed districts, show that the relief measures adopted by Government entirely arrested the sickness which ordinarily attends privation. Preparations were made, in accordance with the desire of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, for sending a special deputation of scientific medical officers to investigate the extraordinary sickness and mortality which it was feared would ensue on the scarcity. But the investigation proved to be uncalled for, and the deputation was never sent.

7. At page 14 of the report, the Commissioner gives particulars of the mortality in some places in which it may be supposed that the supervision is more complete than elsewhere. In the town of Calcutta the deaths were 28·26 per 1,000 of population, a result which Dr. Coates thinks cannot be accepted as correct. But he is apparently not aware that the census of Calcutta has never been accurately taken, and that consequently no conclusions can be drawn from the ratio of the reported mortality to the recorded population. In the 14 military cantonments in Bengal the deaths amounted to 22·49 per 1,000, showing that registration in these areas is still very imperfect. In the several Government dispensaries the returns of sickness and mortality showed a death-rate of 7·53 to every 1,000 patients who were under treatment. From a comparison of the mortality in dispensaries with that in the country generally under the several classes of disease, Dr. Coates concludes that a large proportion of the deaths which occur from cholera and bowel complaints are not reported by our registering agencies. But it may be doubted whether this opinion is justified by the facts. It appears probable that in cholera only bad cases are treated in the dispensaries, and that the proportion of deaths is consequently higher than the general average; and that the more correct classification of diseases in dispensaries results in many deaths being shown in their returns as due to cholera and dysentery which, in Bengal generally, are entered as cases of fever.

8. There was a marked improvement in the registration of birth statistics during the year. What the actual birth-rate in the Lower Provinces is, and to what extent the births outnumber the deaths, we are still unable to say; but there can be no reasonable doubt that accurate figures would show an excess of births over deaths. In 1873 the excess of registered deaths over births was 9·66 per 1,000 of population; in 1874 the selected town areas showed an excess of only 5·14; while in the selected rural areas there was an excess of births over deaths amounting to ·36 per thousand. It has been shown above that this cannot be attributed to a more imperfect registration of deaths, and the improvement is consequently real; and the Sanitary Commissioner considers that satisfactory progress is being made in this department of registration. As regards the proportions of the sexes, the rate is 117 boys to 100 girls; whereas we know that in England 104 boys are born to every 100 girls. It is extremely probable that some part at least of this discrepancy is due to the less accurate registration of female births in Bengal as compared with those of males, but what the true proportion is we have as yet no sufficient data to show.

9. The third section of the report, which treats of the history of the principal diseases of the year, is illustrated by a series of useful and interesting diagrams, showing the monthly prevalence and fatality of the special diseases in the several circles, and in the urban and rural areas. Cholera occurred in every district, but less extensively and less severely than in 1873. It is observable that cholera was less prevalent in Behar than in any other circle of the Lower Provinces. The disease became epidemic in Midnapore just after the cyclone of October last, and it is noticed that the same result followed the cyclone of 1864. There was no serious outbreak of cholera at any of the large fairs during the year, conservancy arrangements having been well attended to.

10. Small-pox also was less prevalent than in 1873, in which year, however, the disease was unusually severe. The slight increase of mortality in some of the circles is attributed to more effective registration. Twelve districts are specified as having suffered most from the disease, the deaths being most numerous in Bankoorah, where they amounted to '93 per 1,000 of population. It is noticed that none of these districts are protected by the circle system of vaccination and superintendence, and that this system is in force in all the districts in which the presence of the disease was slight or very mild in character. In a separate resolution lately recorded upon this subject, the Lieutenant-Governor has expressed an opinion, which he desires to repeat here, that desultory efforts for the extension of vaccination are of very little use, and that endeavours should be made to establish a complete system of protection within the areas which are taken in hand. The prejudice against vaccination, which still exists in some parts of the country, will be most effectually removed by practically showing the people that it is possible to ensure entire freedom from this terrible malady.

11. The general healthiness of the year was further shown by the fact that the mortality from fever, like that from cholera and from small-pox, was decidedly less than in 1873. It has long been known that the returns of deaths from this disease cannot be implicitly accepted, as the word fever is commonly used by the ignorant as a conventional term for all cases in which febrile symptoms are present from any organic disease. But, even when all allowances are made for incorrect classification, the Sanitary Commissioner thinks there can be no doubt that in Bengal fevers cause a far higher mortality than any of the other diseases. The most unhealthy months in the Lower Provinces are November and December, and this is entirely due to the prevalence and severity of fever. In 1874 the mortality from this cause was lower in Orissa than in any other circle, but even in Orissa it amounted to 4.56 per 1,000 of population. In the selected areas of the Fureedpore district, the deaths from fever were no less than 37.15 per 1,000 of population.

12. An interesting notice of the Burdwan fever, by Dr. Wilkie, who was specially deputed to examine the question, is appended by the Sanitary Commissioner to the present report. Dr. Coates expresses his concurrence in the conclusion arrived at by Dr. Wilkie, which is also supported by Dr. French, that the disease is purely malarious, and not of a typhoid character, and consequently is not contagious. Any discussion of Dr. Wilkie's theory regarding the origin of the fever would be out of place in the present Resolution, but the Lieutenant-Governor desires to commend the report to the perusal of members of the medical profession, as an expression of the views of an officer who is described by Dr. Coates as having had a good scientific training, and as being a careful and exact observer of the phenomena of the disease.

13. In the concluding section of the report, the principal topics of interest in each district are discussed in some detail, and the sanitary progress of the year is shown. It is satisfactory to learn that there is a general improvement in the sanitation of municipal towns. The towns of Dacca, Patna, Durbhunga, and Chittagong are noticed as special instances of this improvement, and in many other stations the relief works undertaken during the famine have been of a kind likely to have a good effect on the public health.

14. On the whole, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that this report may be accepted as evidence of real and not inconsiderable progress made during the year, and as full of encouragement for the future. Registration is more carefully carried out, and the results are presented in a manner likely to be of practical service in calling attention to the existing causes of disease and to the conditions under which mortality most extensively prevails. The duty of inspection was actively and zealously performed by Dr. Coates, and the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that the visits of the Sanitary Commissioner to mofussil stations cannot fail to be of much assistance to local officers. Sir Richard Temple desires to thank Dr. Coates for his interesting and well arranged report, which has been drawn up in entire accordance with the instructions communicated in the orders upon the report of last year. Dr. Coates has now left India upon furlough, but the Lieutenant-Governor has every confidence that the important duties of the Sanitary Commissioner will be efficiently discharged by the officer who has succeeded to the appointment.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 31st July 1875.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.
Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIVN.	1 Burdwan, Aug. 2,* '75	3.19	Rainfall at Jehanabad 1.35, Raneejung 3.70, Culna .45, Rood-bud 1.21 inches. Plenty of rain has fallen at the Sudder station and at Raneejung during the past week, but complaints of want of rain continue to be made in the other subdivisions. Health fair.
	2 Bankoora, July 31, "	3.90	Heavy showers throughout the greater part of the district. Except in some few places, there has been sufficient rain to allow of the paddy being transplanted, and prospects generally are very fair. The manufacture of indigo has commenced.
	3 Beerbhoom, " 31, "	3.35	Showery weather. State and prospects of crops continue good.
	4 Midnapore, " 31, "	1.85	Weather dry during the beginning of the week, and showery the last few days. The rainfall is generally reported to be insufficient. The present is the season when abundant rain is most needed for the late rice, and though the total rainfall has been good, it has not been favorably distributed in respect of time.
	5 Hooghly, " 31, "	.94	Rainfall at Chinsurah 1.37, Bansberiah .92, Dhoneakhally .54, Ballagore .70, Serampore 1.47, Chunditolla 1.10, Huripal 2.05, Pandooah 1.66, Kristonagore .42 inches. Weather cloudy generally, but without rain: unfavorable to a full crop in most parts of the district from want of rain, and dryness of the soil, just when the early rice should come into ear. Transplanting, too, of the late rice is delayed for the same reason. Rain threatens, but does not fall. A good fall would right matters if not too long delayed. A few cases of small-pox and cholera, but general health is fair.
PRESIDENCY DIVN.	Howrah, " 31, "	.97	Weather very favorable for the crops. State and prospects of the crops are exceedingly good.
	Central Districts.
	6 24-Pargunnahs, Aug. 2,† '75	2.08	Weather warm with drizzling rain, except Wednesday and Thursday. The early and late rice are doing well. The late gale and heavy fall of rain did little appreciable damage. Transplanting progressing rapidly. Fever decreasing at Barripore. A case of small-pox reported from Satkhira.
	7 Nuddea, July 31, "	1.68	Weather hot, and very little rain. Complaints are general of want of rain, and prices have been rising. Both early and late rice have suffered. Rain has fallen on each of the last three days at the sudder station. If the rest of the district has been equally fortunate, the loss from drought will not be very great as regards the early rice. The rivers are late in rising. Indigo is giving better produce than was expected, but the plant is stunted. The health of the people is generally good.
	8 Jessore, " 31, "	1.92	Weather cloudy, with moderate rain. Transplanting of the late rice continues. Prospects remain good.
RAJSHAHYE DIVN.	9 Moorsshedabad, " 30, "	1.99	Weather cool owing to rain almost every day. Total of rainfall at Jungpore 1.09, Ramporehat 2.39, Lallbaugh 1.35. The rainfall of the week has done considerable good. It has enabled the cultivators to renew the transplantation of the aman , or late rice, and saved the badai and aman seedlings, which had suffered from previous want of rain. Rivers rising rapidly. It is feared that it will flood the low lands now planted with aman rice. Sugarcane is favorably reported on. Prices steady. Few cases of cholera and small-pox in thanas Shahanagore, Manoolia Bazar, and Bhadoorhat. Cholera still lingers at Soojagunge.
	10 Dinagepore, " 30, "	2.06	The Collector's rain gauge, a mile and half off, gives 4.34 inches. The drought broke up on Monday, since which there has been good rain—about an inch a day. The Collector has hardly yet heard of the effects of the rain, but it must be good. Transplanting has been pushed forward vigorously, and nearly half the late rice planted out. The badai , or early rice, much damaged by the drought; probably full half is lost. Jute and sugarcane are reported well off.
	11 Maldah, " 31, "	3.34	Weather cloudy during the first half of the week and rainy afterwards. Prospects of the next rice crop, the badai , have been improved by the rain, and are generally fair. Transplanting of the winter or late rice has been delayed by the dry weather. The Indiau-corn and millets have begun to be reaped, and promise well.
	12 Rajshahye	Return not received.

* Telegram of the 2nd August, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

† Report of the 2nd August, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

BENGAL.—(Contd.)
Central Districts.—(Contd.)
HAJSHAHIB DIVN.—(Contd.)	13 Rangpore, July 30, '75	5.86	A good downpour of 4 inches during last two days. Reports of rain having fallen are coming in from outlying sub-divisions, and the position is being retrieved. The aus , or early rice, has generally yielded a fair harvest. Transplanting of amun , or late rice, is now being actively proceeded with, but much damage has been done to the seedlings by the dry weather.
	14 Bogra, „ 28, „	1.11	Weather very hot though cloudy. Rain was greatly wanted, but the heavy fall on the 27th July has done some good. The aus , or early rice, will not, the Collector thinks suffer, but the amun , or late rice, is in grievous want of rain for transplanting. If heavy rain falls during the week, the crops will do well; if not there will be risk. (Report for the second half of the week not received.)
	15 Pubna, „ 31, „	1.41	Seasonable rain since the 28th July; rather more at Serajgunge than at Pubna. There is every appearance of more rain falling; that which has fallen has done good, but more is needed. The rivers are now rising, and the prospects of the crops are better than last week.
COOCH BEHAR DIVN.	16 Darjeeling, „ 30, „	7.08	Rain fell more or less every day of the week. In the hills all the crops are progressing favorably; in the terai , the transplantation of the late rice is going on, but more rain is wanted.
	17 Julpigoree, „ 31, „	10.64	Weather seasonable, except that there was an unusually heavy fall of rain on Wednesday. Prospects of crops are good. One case of cholera in the police lines at Julpigoree, but the disease is disappearing.
	Cooch Behar, „ 29, „	3.90	In the beginning of the week the weather was very hot. There have been some heavy showers of rain during the latter part of the week. More rain is still wanted to remove all apprehensions, respecting the prospects of the late rice crop
Eastern Districts.
DACCA DIVN.	18 Dacca, Aug. 2,* '75	8.59	Nearly five inches of rain fell on the 1st instant; looks like continuing. Crops are good. This rain will do much good to crops in high lands, and no harm anywhere.
	19 Fureedpore, July 31, „	4.76	Rainy and cloudy throughout the week, and the inundation is increasing. The prospects of crops continue good.
	20 Backergunge, „ 29, „	4.34	Rain has fallen in the district, and the prospects of the season are good. All is well, save that there is a little cattle-disease in the police stations of Bowfal, Gulshikhall, and Baramuddi. The health of the people is very good.
	21 Mymenagh, „ 30, „	3.45	The early part of the week was dry and sultry, and the last three days showery. The water in the rivers has fallen some six feet. The prospects of the crops are at present favorable, and the only immediate danger of injury is from a sudden rise of waters, from present rainfall.
	22 Tipperah, „ 30, „	8.98	Heavy rain all over the district except in the north, where more rain is wanted. Weather cloudy, and threatening more rain. Both the great rice crops are in good condition. The aus , or early rice harvest, has commenced, and promises to be a good one.
CHITTAGONG DIVN.	23 Chittagong, „ 29, „	5.59	Weather very hot up to the 26th July; since then high wind and much rain. Insects had begun to attack the plants, but this rain will remedy that. Crops promising well everywhere. Cattle-disease is still prevalent in Cox's Bazar sub-division.
	24 Noakholly, „ 29, „	9.62	Weather cloudy and rainy. Incessant heavy rain for last three days, attended with strong south-easterly wind. The reaping of the early rice crops has begun in some places. The insect called " kala ganda ," has also appeared within the jurisdiction of Raypore. Transplantation of the amun , or late rice crop, continues. The heaviness of the rain is generally unfavorable for the crops.
	25 Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 27, „	.74	Occasional falls of rain during the week. Indian-corn is now ripe, and is brought for sale. The paddy and cotton crops are thriving well. Prospects on the whole are good, but a heavy fall of rain would be welcome.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 28, „	.77	Weather fair till the 26th July; since then it has been stormy, with showers of rain off and on. Maize is being sold in the markets, and the aus , or early rice crop, is being reaped in places. The prospects of all crops now growing continue good.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVN.	26 Patna, Aug. 2,* „	2.48	Weather partly clear and partly cloudy, with rain at intervals. Bhadai and rice crops doing well, except those on high lands, which are said to suffer somewhat from want of sufficient rain. Health generally good, except few cases of cholera scattered over the district.
	27 Gya, July 31, „	2.64	Weather moderately warm, with cool showers of rain. Highest reading of dry maximum thermometer was 92.6. Rain at Aurungabad 3.7. Bhadai crops look flourishing everywhere. Transplanting of rice going on. No sickness reported except from Aurungabad; but cholera there is said to be decreasing.

* Telegram of the 2nd August, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

BEHAR.—(Contd.)
PATNA DIVN.—(Contd.)	28	Shahabad. July 31, '75	1.64	Weather unsettled, and hot till the end of the week. The rain which fell during the week has done considerable good. Transplanting of the late rice has been expedited. The bhadoi crops promise well. More rain is wanted in the sub-divisions of Bhuboah and Buxar. Cholera almost entirely stopped.
	29	Durbhunga, „ 31, „	1.89	During the early part of the week a strong east wind prevailed, with heavy clouds constantly passing overhead, but no rain. Since Thursday afternoon the wind has been in the west, and rain has fallen. The prospects of the bhadoi crops in the southern sub-division (Tajpore) are good; elsewhere the crop has suffered much from want of rain. The rainfall is still insufficient for transplanting rice, and unless heavy rain falls within a fortnight, the consequence will be serious.
	30	Mozufferpore, „ 31, „	3.56	Weather hot and cloudy. The rain that has fallen in Mozufferpore sub-division has done immense good to the crops. Transplantation of rice is going on briskly, and the bhadoi crops promise well. In Hajepore sub-division the rainfall has been 1.85 inches, and all crops are much improved. In Seetamurhee sub-division, there have been only one or two very slight showers, and prospects at present are decidedly bad. Very little rice has been planted out, and the nurseries are getting dried up and withered. The bhadoi crops are beginning to suffer from drought. Great anxiety prevails in the sub-division, and prices are rapidly rising.
	31	Saran. „ 31, „	1.87	Rainfall at Sowan 1.13 inches. Weather was hot and close during the early part of the week, and seasonable for the last two days; east wind prevailing. There was a slight fall of rain throughout the district, except within the jurisdiction of thana Pura, in the Sudder sub-division. The prospects of the bhadoi crops are favorable. Manufacture of indigo going on. Transplantation of the late rice is retarded for want of rain, which is most anxiously awaited. General health good.
	32	Chumparun. „ 30, „	.83	The weather has been somewhat better this week than last, and the heavy showers that fell on Sunday have been general, and have done much good. More rain is, however, wanted for the rice crop, and it is to be hoped that the present threatening weather will not pass away without a general fall. The bhadoi crops are excellent, and the rice crop, though in want of rain, has not yet been seriously damaged by drought.
BHAGULPORE DIVN.	33	Monghyr. „ 31, „	5.12	Seasonable weather. From Jamui the sub-divisional officer reported that rain was much wanted, and indeed two days ago it was wanted all over the district. There has been heavy rain, the Collector believes, all over the district during the past 48 hours, and the prospects are good.
	34	Bhagulpore, Aug. 2,* „	9.03	Ample rain for all purposes. Satisfactory reports from all parts of the district. The bhadoi , or early crop, ought now to be a good one, and all danger to it is passed. Transplanting of aughani , or late rice, is being pushed on everywhere. General health very good.
	35	Purneah. „ 31, „	6.12	Heavy rain on the 30th and 31st July. The late rain has saved the early rice crop, and transplanting of the late rice is said to be going on fast, everywhere except in Kishengunge, where the rainfall has been less than in other parts of the district. There is every prospect of a fair bhadoi , or early crop, now.
	36	Sonthal Perghe „ 31, „	2.7	Weather warm, with heavy showers of rain about Doomka. Heavy rain in Deoghur; hardly any at Rajmehal and Godda. State and prospects of crops are good everywhere, but rain is wanted in the north. A good deal of cholera in Deoghur.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVISION	37	Cuttack. „ 24, „	7.20	Heavy rain nearly every day. The rivers have risen, and in some places there have been slight floods, which soon passed off, doing no damage to the crops. The early rice is in excellent condition. Cholera is still prevalent in some places.
	38	Pooree. „ 29, „	3.45	Rainy and cloudy. The rivers have risen highly and over-flooded portions of the country. Cultivation and transplantation are going on on high lands. The crops on low lands have been submerged by the flood and breaches of embankments. Weeding operations are going on in Khoordah.
	39	Balasore, „ 30, „	1.41	The weather continues showery with a moderate rainfall, and is highly favorable to the growing crops. Cholera continues unabated—not in an epidemic but in a sporadic form. This district has certainly been infested with cholera during the present year to a very unusual extent.

* Telegram of the 2nd August, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, July 30, '75	1.88	Weather seasonable and cool. No change to report. A little fine weather would however, be very beneficial.
41	Lohardugga, „ 31, „	2.30	Rain more or less every day. The goondli and murwa millets, and mackai , Indian-corn, have been somewhat damaged by the rain, but the prospects, both of the early and late rice crops are very favorable. In Palamow cholera is still prevalent, but not increasing, and cases of small-pox continue to be reported.
42	Singbhoom, „ 30, „	6.05	Seasonable weather. State and prospects of crops are favorable. District generally healthy. Only one fresh case of cholera during the week reported from Dhulbhoom.
43	Manbhoom, „ 31, „	2.51	Weather seasonable, but the rainfall seems to have varied throughout the district. The reports are generally good. In the south-east corner of the district, for want of rain the paddy has not been planted out, and a partial failure of the crop may be looked for. Elsewhere all crops are said to be doing well excepting Indian-corn, where it has been planted in too low ground.

The dew point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

* * * The Rig-Veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class-books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholarlike knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammars, and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country.—Extract from Preface.

Bengal Civil Fund.

AT a Half-yearly General Meeting of Subscribers to the Bengal Civil Fund, held at the Town Hall, Calcutta, on Wednesday, the 28th July 1875.

PRESENT.—The Hon'ble V. H. Schaleh, c.s.a.; the Hon'ble W. F. McDonell, v.c.; the Hon'ble H. J. Reynolds; W. S. Wells, Esq.; J. D. Maclean, Esq.; G. K. Webster, Esq.; W. H. Grimley, Esq.; W. M. Souttar, Esq.; W. H. Verner, Esq.; H. J. S. Cotton, Esq.; and C. P. L. Macaulay, Esq.

W. S. Wells, Esq., in the Chair.

Read the following report submitted by the Managers:—

REPORT.

The Managers submit their proceedings for the past half-year for the consideration and sanction of the meeting.

Subject to the approval of Subscribers, they have admitted to the benefits of the Fund the following families:—

Mrs. Macnaghten	£ 300	The widow and five children (two daughters and three sons) of the late Mr. E. Macnaghten, who died at Allahabad on the 18th March last.
Less $\frac{1}{2}$ under Rule 7	118-6-8
	591-13-4
The widow of the late Mr. William Travers (an annuitant of 1855, who died in England on the 4th April last.
Mrs. Travers	£ 300
The widow of the late Mr. E. J. Boldero (an annuitant of 1867), who died in England on the 23rd May last.
Mrs. Boldero	£ 300
The widow and three children (one daughter and two sons) of the late Mr. E. H. Harrison, who died at Simla on the 5th June last.
Mrs. Harrison	£ 300

subscriber. The Managers have informed him that the date on which widower rates of subscription become payable is the date on which the Decree Nisi is made absolute, or six months after the date of the decree.

The Managers submit for the decision of the meeting, under Article 5, the case of Mr. W. Lambe, who failed to report his marriage until more than six months had elapsed. They propose the infliction of the minimum fine, Rs. 500, with arrears of subscription, carrying interest at 8 per cent., as provided by the rule.

Mrs. Morris, formerly Mrs. Drew, having applied to the Managers to be allowed to bequeath £50 per annum to her sole surviving daughter by her husband, the late Mr. Drew, without entailing a reduction in the pension of £100 allowed to her daughter from the Fund, was informed that, under the old rules, Article 24 was a bar to her request being granted; but that, if a satisfactory medical certificate of her daughter's mental infirmity were supplied, the Managers, under the special circumstances of the case, would be prepared to recommend her petition to a general meeting. Mrs. Morris has submitted the certificate of the family medical attendant, testifying that her daughter was placed 30 years ago in an asylum, and has been since that time, and until recently, under restraint; that she is still suffering from mental infirmity, which renders her unable to maintain herself; and that the expense of her care and maintenance are necessarily great. The above case is submitted to the meeting for its favourable consideration.

The Managers regret to report the death of the actuary, Mr. Brown. His report on the Fund, which was unfinished at his death, cannot, the Managers are informed, be completed, owing to the difficulty experienced in tracing the process adopted by him. The new actuary, Mr. R. Hardy, of the London and Provincial Law Assurance Society, has therefore begun a fresh report, and he states that the work is already well in hand, and will not be delayed.

With reference to the resolution passed at the meeting of the 27th January last, the Managers have again addressed the Secretary to the Government, Home Department, regarding the admission of natives of India under 33 Vic., Chapter III, to appointments hitherto filled by subscribers to the Fund, in order to elicit further information on the subject, but have not yet received an answer.

Proposed by Mr. Webster, seconded by Mr. Macaulay, "that the proceedings of the Managers in admitting to the benefits of the Fund the families of the late Mr. E. Macnaghten, Mr. William Travers, Mr. E. J. Boldero, and Mr. E. H. Harrison, be confirmed."

Carried unanimously.

Proposed by Mr. Webster, seconded by Mr. Verner, "that the Manager's proposal in the case of Mr. W. Lambe be approved and adopted."

An amendment proposed by Mr. J. D. Maclean, "that the facts as set forth in his written statement be made public to the service in the report of this meeting, which will be circulated," was not seconded.

The original resolution was carried.

Proposed by Mr. Macaulay, seconded by Mr. Verner, "that the Manager's proposal in the case of Mrs. Morris be adopted, in case the amount which she proposes to leave to her daughter is savings from her pension; and that, if it be not savings, the question be brought before the next general meeting after due advertisement."

Mr. Souttar objected that this course was irregular, and proposed, as an amendment, "that the consideration of the question be postponed till the next general meeting."

The amendment was lost, 3 votes being for it and 7 against. The original proposal was carried by 7 votes, but lost under Article 16, by which 9 votes are necessary to carry any resolution.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Chairman.

SURVEY AND DEMARCATION OF LAND.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved that the report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the survey of land and for the establishment and maintenance of boundary marks, be taken into consideration in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill. When this Bill was referred to a Select Committee, the Committee called for opinions and suggestions from those most qualified to give them. They amended the Bill, reported upon it preliminarily, and suggested that their report be published in the Gazette. Further suggestions were then received, and after considering them carefully, the Committee had submitted the Bill in this form. Considerable alterations had been needed in the Bill since it went into Committee, and he would now state briefly the scheme of the Bill and the shape in which it now appeared.

The second Part of the Bill provided that the Lieutenant-Governor might order a survey of any tract of land and the demarcation of its boundaries; that he might appoint a Superintendent of Survey and assistants—special officers—if the proceedings to be taken were large enough, otherwise the Collector of the district would perform the functions of the Superintendent of Survey. Section 5 provided that a proclamation should be published, addressed to the occupants of the lands which were about to be surveyed, and of the contiguous lands, and to all persons employed on or connected with the management of, or otherwise interested in the lands, calling upon them to look after their own interests and to give assistance. This was only a general proclamation, and non-compliance with its directions was not attended with any penal consequences: there was no legal obligation to obey the order. But by a subsequent section the Collector was empowered to issue a special notice on any persons interested whose attendance he required, and then such persons would be legally bound to attend and do the things mentioned in section 5 (namely, give all necessary information, point out boundaries, and so on) which were necessary for the prosecution of the survey. Sections 8 to 10, however, distinctly enacted that the materials provided, and the laborers supplied, should be paid for. It had been represented to the Select Committee that one of the causes of the unpopularity of surveys was that the people were compelled to give their labor and supply petty materials without payment. The Committee hoped that this section would remove that ground of dissatisfaction.

Sections 11 to 13 were intended to obviate the great delay which occurred in these survey proceedings from the unfortunate habit which those interested in the land in this country seemed to have of not taking objections at the time when objections ought to be taken, and when they could most easily be inquired into, and then at the last stage coming forward with some objection which would re-open the whole proceedings. The object of the sections was to enable the Collector, when he had reason to believe that any person had any objections to make, to compel him to come forward with them. The penalty was not summarily to exclude the person from objecting if he did not do so within the time appointed; but if the objections were not brought forward till a subsequent stage, to throw on the objector the expenses of any further inquiry that might be necessary, and this whether his objections were valid or not.

The proviso of section 11 was one which had been introduced at the request of their colleague, the representative of the zemindars, on the ground that very often the local agents of zemindars did not like finally to pledge themselves to accept boundaries on behalf of their absentee principals without sending maps and papers to them for approval. That seemed a natural objection, and in deference to it the Committee provided that when the Collector called upon the local representative of the zemindar to agree to the boundaries laid down, or to state in their objections within fifteen days, the zemindar's agent might either signify his agreement or might say:—"Before giving a formal consent, I must send the maps and papers to my principal in Calcutta; and as a pledge that I am in earnest about it, here, within the time allowed, I deposit the price of making copies of the maps, and I will give the answer of my principal within the time fixed by law."

Part III contained the germ from which this Bill sprang. It enabled the Collector to erect boundary marks and to recover the expense of such erection from the zemindars and tenure-holders. When the Bill was introduced into Council, its history was fully explained and was on the records of the Council, and it was unnecessary for Mr. Dampier to go into that again. He would only explain the system the Committee had adopted for apportioning the expenses of the boundary marks. In the process of a survey the first thing required was generally temporary boundary marks. The ameen or other survey officer traced out and went over the boundaries first, and put up small mounds of earth or similar marks, which served to guide those who came afterwards. Section 14 provided that these marks should be preserved and kept in order until the permanent marks were erected. But the work was trifling, and would be so much more readily done by persons on the spot than by absent zemindars, that it was thought better to give the Collector power to call upon any occupant, even a cultivating ryot, to look after the temporary marks put up until the survey operations should be concluded and a final award given as to disputed boundaries, or until permanent boundary marks were erected. Sometimes it was found convenient to put up permanent boundary marks before the survey had passed over the ground; but whether before or after, permanent boundary marks had to be put up, and they consisted generally of pillars, about two feet high, or of rough pieces of unhewn stone: and to look after these was a duty imposed upon the zemindars, farmers, or tenure-holders. It was their duty to protect these boundary marks, to give notice to the Collector if any were removed or injured, or required repairs, if of masonry. Having had these permanent marks put up, the Collector was to recover the expense of erecting them from the parties interested. Under the original Bill, the recovery of expenses was to be made from zemindars only. The Select Committee had included tenure-holders, because it was often the case that the zemindar really knew nothing of his estate, and had very little interest in its local circumstances. For instance in Midnapore, where the survey was now going on, Watson & Co. were putnee-holders of large estates, and the zemindars had but little interest in them, and it would not be fair to throw the whole expense upon the zemindars in such cases. Therefore the Committee had provided for the apportionment of expenses between the zemindars and tenure-holders. The provisions for apportioning those expenses would be mentioned further on.

In section 17 the Committee had followed the Road Cess Act. The Collector was to recover the expense from the zemindars, and the zemindars were empowered to recover from their tenure-holders. But the Council was aware that the country was studded with unregistered lakhiraj holdings, of which the position was not clearly defined. The Government had not recognized them as being free from the general liability for the payment of revenue. In these cases, following the procedure of the Road Cess Act, it was provided that any lakhiraj holding, which was not registered by the Collector, should be considered to be part of the estate within which it was geographically situated; and that if it was not geographically surrounded by the lands of one estate, that the Collector should arbitrarily order that the lakhiraj holding should be included within estate A or estate B for the purposes of the Act. No rights would be affected. It was merely a mechanical contrivance for the purposes of this Act.

There had been some difference of opinion as to whether the Collector should put up the boundary marks by his own men or require the zemindar or tenure-holders to do so. Arguments had been urged on both sides, and the Committee had provided that the Collector should ordinarily put up the boundary marks through the agency of his own men; and then in section 21 they had provided that where the persons concerned preferred it, the Collector might leave it to the zemindar and occupiers of land to put up pillars in the places indicated by the Collector.

He now came to the fourth Part of the Bill, "of apportionment and the recovery of expenses." It had been very strongly pressed upon the attention of the Select Committee, in communications which they received, that this apportionment of expenses was disposed of in the North-Western Provinces' Act and in the Bombay Act by two short sections, of which the summary was that the Collector was to apportion the expenses at his own discretion. Both the Committee and the mover personally had been strongly urged not to go into the tedious and elaborate details which Part IV now contained. But the system of subinfeudation which prevailed in Bengal, whether it were good or bad, made a marked distinction in this respect between Bengal and Bombay or the North-Western Provinces. There were also other considerations which influenced the Committee; one of which was that the zemindars, the class mainly affected by the Bill, and who were watching its progress most anxiously, would look upon such summary provisions with extreme disfavor. The hon'ble member opposite (Baboo Kristodas Pal) would support that statement. The provisions in the Bill had entailed a good deal of more trouble in drafting than would have been caused if the form of the Bombay and North-Western Provinces' Acts had been adopted. But if the Committee had succeeded in removing some ground of distrust among those affected by the Bill, he thought the trouble taken had been well bestowed.

He would first explain the most elaborate procedure which could be entailed in any case that could occur. The Collector having made up his account of the expense of putting up the boundary marks in any convenient tract, would first proceed to apportion those expenses between the different estates concerned without regard to the tenures which they contained. This he would do upon a general consideration of the number of boundary pillars put up on the boundaries of each estate. Having apportioned the amount accordingly, he would issue a notice to the zemindars, telling each of them how much of the expense had been thus provisionally apportioned to him. Then came the section which gave the fullest opportunity of objecting to the zemindar. If any zemindar objected, the Collector must listen to him before he passed the final order of apportionment.

The apportionment on the estate having been finally made, the zemindar might then give in a list of the tenures on his estate and ask the Collector to apportion, say the Rs. 1,000 which had been allotted as the share to be paid by his estate, between him and his tenure-holders. Then the Collector would make a provisional apportionment in accordance with the zemindar's statement, and serve notices upon the tenure-holders concerned, and any one might make objections before the Collector passed the final order. If no objections were preferred, or when they were decided, the Collector would make the final apportionment between the zemindar and the tenure-holders.

This was the most elaborate and lengthy process that any case could go through, and it was lengthy enough there was no doubt. It would meet the case of a captious zemindar, of a Collector who unfortunately had not the confidence of the people with whom he was dealing, and cases of really intricate and difficult apportionment, if any such should arise. But the Committee hoped, from the experience of the Embankment Act, that not in one case out of twenty would these proceedings be required. The apportionment of expenses between the estates was a mere matter of calculation when you knew the number of boundary pillars put up on each estate. Therefore the Committee believed that not in one case out of twenty, or even fifty, would the zemindar object to the apportionment made by the Collector. Assuming this, the Committee had endeavoured to shorten the general procedure with regard to dividing the expenses between the zemindar and his tenure-holders. They found that the Collector had in his office a mass of information regarding under-tenures which had been collected in connection with the Road Cess Act and other matters. Therefore they had provided that simultaneously with the Collector's first provisional apportionment of the expenses on the zemindars of the different estates, he should, whenever he had sufficient information to do so, also issue a summary provisional apportionment of the amount apportioned to the estate between the zemindar of the particular estate and his tenure-holders. The Committee were assured by local officers, who had experience of these things, that in a great majority of cases this summary apportionment of expenses would end the proceedings; neither the zemindar nor the tenure-holders would have any objection to make. In short, then, having provided all that the most distrusting zemindars would require as a protection for themselves, the Committee believed that in nine cases out of ten the distribution of expenses would be settled as summarily as under the Bombay or North-Western Provinces' Acts.

When the apportionments were finally concluded, the Collector would issue a notice—if the zemindars wished him to do so, and deposited the cost—requiring the tenure-holders to pay the amounts due to the zemindar; the zemindar having the same power of recovering as for the recovery of arrears of rent.

Section 39 was a provision of the old Bill, declaring that the money which had been advanced for putting up the boundary pillars by the Government since November last was to be recovered under this law. The money was advanced by the Government of India for the erection of boundary pillars in Midnapore and in the Ganges Dearahs on this understanding.

In Part V the Committee had dealt with boundary disputes. In the original Bill it was proposed to give survey officers the same powers as were given to officers making settlements by Regulation VII of 1822; but those provisions had been so overlaid by subsequent legislation, that the Committee had thought it better not to refer to Regulation VII of 1822, but distinctly to lay down the powers which survey officers should exercise. The ordinary rule was that when a case occurred of a boundary dispute, the survey officer should decide it on the ground of possession: that was the present practice, and that decision, according to possession, would have the effect of a declaratory decree of a Civil Court until it was upset by the Civil Court itself. In section 44 there was another provision, which was to facilitate executive working. When a survey officer came across a boundary which he found was laid down some time ago either by a competent court or a settlement officer, but found that possession was not in accordance with the boundary as so laid down, he might relay that boundary and show in his map its relative position to the boundary which actually existed according to possession. This would have no effect on possession; but was merely to facilitate matters in any future suit or inquiry, by recording the position of the boundary as previously laid down while the professional and competent officers were on the spot, rather than leave it to be done by a Civil Court Ameen at a future time. It was merely a local inquiry to assist the future judicial decisions. Mr. Dampier thought that such a provision would be useful and good: it would help the person who had been wrongfully dispossessed, and would simplify matters if he chose to go to the Civil Court to recover the land of which he had been dispossessed. It would be well understood that relaying the old boundary did not affect the right to possession in any kind of way. It was merely a local inquiry by the survey officer instead of by means of the Civil Court Ameen.

Then came the miscellaneous provisions, with regard to which there was not much to notice. Section 51 provided a daily fine, which was already imposed under the existing law, for delay in supplying information and papers. Section 57 provided that every amount due to the Collector under the Act in respect of any expenses incurred should be deemed to be a demand under Bengal Act VII of 1868. Then followed the appeal and control sections. The Committee had provided that there should be no right of appeal, except in special cases which were detailed in sections 59 and 60, but that the higher revenue authorities had a power of control and supervision over all proceedings. The last section provided that the Lieutenant-Governor might lay down rules generally to provide for the proper performance of all things to be done, and for the regulation of all proceedings to be taken under the Act.

The motion was agreed to.

On the motion of Mr. Dampier the clauses of the Bill were considered in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

Sections 3 to 8 were agreed to.

Section 9 was agreed to, with a verbal amendment.

Section 10 was agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said, before the Council proceeded to the consideration of section 11, he proposed to introduce two new sections, 10a and 10b. As he had explained before, sections 11, 12, and 13, were intended to prevent delay, and to compel the parties interested to make their objections before the Collector within a reasonable time; but it had been brought to his notice by the Superintendent of Survey at Midnapore that great difficulty had often been felt on the spot before the papers got to the Collector. People pointed out the boundaries, the ameen laid them down in his maps and field-books, and then, when he called upon those who pointed them out to sign the papers, they were non inventi: they neither came, nor signed, nor objected. The Ameen sent in his papers, and two or three months afterwards the people who were on the spot, and who might have stated their objections then, made them before the Collector. The Superintendent of Survey had urged MR. DAMPIER to introduce sections such as these, by which the people who pointed out the boundaries should be required either to sign the papers before they were sent to the Collector, or else to state their objections and their reasons for them. The penalty for not doing so was not that the party was precluded from making objections, but that if he did not do so at the time which was most convenient, he must bear the cost of any future inquiry. The sections which MR. DAMPIER proposed were as follows :—

“ 10a. When the demarcation of a village or other convenient tract has been completed, the ameen or other survey officer shall, before sending in to the Collector the maps and papers relating thereto, call upon the persons who have pointed out the boundaries on behalf of those interested to inspect the maps, field-books, and similar papers in which any boundary pointed out by any such person has been represented, and by signing such maps and papers to certify that the boundaries have been laid down in accordance with the boundaries pointed out by them.

Any person so called upon, who may object to sign the maps and papers as aforesaid, shall be required to state his objections in writing, and such statement shall be attached to the record of the demarcation of the village or tract, and shall be submitted to the Collector together with the maps and papers.

10b. Whenever any person, being required by the survey officer to sign any maps or papers, or to give in a written statement of objections as provided in the last preceding section, shall fail so to sign, and shall give in such statement of objections before the papers are sent in by the survey officer to the Collector, and whenever any such person, having both failed to sign and to give in such written statement, shall subsequently prefer any such objection, the Collector may cause to be made such further inquiry, and shall pass such order thereon as he shall think fit.

Provided that if such objection is preferred for the first time to the Collector, and not made in writing to the survey officer before the papers were sent in to the Collector, as required by the last preceding section, the Collector shall make such further inquiry at the expense of the person so objecting ; and if the objection shall seem to the Collector not to be well founded, he may pass such order as he shall think fit in respect of the recovery from the objector of any sum expended by the Collector on the inquiry, and of any necessary expenses incurred by any other person on account of such inquiry.”

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL said he did not object to these sections, but it struck him that if they were carried without modification, they would practically override section 11, in which provision had been made to furnish copies of maps and other papers to the zemindar or his representative, if his representative did not agree to sign the maps before they were sent to the Collector. Section 11 was discretionary, and if the proposed sections 10a and 10b were introduced as now framed, practically the discretion vested in the Collector by that section would not be exercised, and the concession made by the Select Committee, to which his hon'ble friend had referred, would therefore be practically nullified. He would ask the hon'ble member to consider whether some modification might not be made in these two sections so as to preserve the principle recognized in the proviso in section 11. If that point were conceded, he had nothing to say against the amendment.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said he was not prepared at that moment to say off-hand how the alteration suggested by his hon'ble friend could be made ; but if the hon'ble member would be good enough, as MR. DAMPIER did not propose to ask the Council to pass the Bill at that sitting, to prepare such an amendment as would meet his wishes, he thought they would be able to come to an agreement upon the point.

The further consideration of the proposed sections 10a and 10b was then postponed.

Sections 11 to 57 were agreed to.

Section 58 having been read—

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said the general provision was that the Commissioner of the division heard appeals, and he had also a power of general control and supervision over the proceedings of the Superintendent of Survey and his subordinates. That had been found to be sometimes inconvenient. In fact it had been the universal practice, throughout the survey of Bengal which had taken place, not to give the Commissioner this power of control and supervision, but simply to give him the judicial power of hearing appeals, and to leave the power of supervision and control to the Board of Revenue. The object of the proviso which MR. DAMPIER proposed was to enable the Government to eliminate the Commissioner out of the chain of authorities, and to let the Board of Revenue have a control direct where the proceedings were large enough, and where it was found necessary to do so. He therefore moved that the following proviso be added to section 58 :—

“Provided that the Government may order that in the course of any survey under this Act, the functions of the Commissioner shall be restricted to the decision of appeals under Section sixty, and that the general powers of control and supervision over the Superintendent of Survey or Collector and their subordinate officers may be exercised by the Board of Revenue directly.”

The motion was carried, and the section as amended was agreed to.

Sections 59 to 63 were agreed to.

The further consideration of the Bill was then postponed.

AMENDMENT OF THE ABKAREE ACTS.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved that the report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend Act XI of 1849, Act XXI of 1856, and Act IV of 1866 (B.C.), be taken into consideration in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill, and that the clauses of the Bill be considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee; and in so moving he would remind the Council that the Bill was referred to a Select Committee in 1873; it was then brought before the Council, and by general consent its consideration was postponed to give the Government an opportunity of looking thoroughly into the excise administration of Bengal, and of adopting such measures as might be considered advisable to improve it. Hon'ble members had seen the interesting correspondence which had taken place on the subject, the memorials which had been presented, the minute of Mr. Money, the conclusions of the Lieutenant-Governor and those of His Excellency the Governor-General in Council. These conclusions were referred to the Select Committee, and in proceeding to deal with them he found that the Committee, as originally constituted, had dwindled away almost to nothing. Therefore a few weeks ago he proposed that certain members be added to the Select Committee, and the Committee so reconstituted had given full consideration to the correspondence which had been recorded in the matter. The Bill was practically divided into four Parts. The Part numbered two contained amendments of the Calcutta Abkaree Act; the next Part contained amendments of the Mofussil Abkaree Act; the third Part contained a correction of an erroneous wording in the Calcutta Police Act; and the fourth Part contained general provisions which were common to Calcutta and the mofussil, or to Calcutta and a part of the mofussil, i.e. to Calcutta, the Suburbs, and Howrah.

In the amendment of the Calcutta Act, the object of the new sections 4, 8, and 16, was to make the manufacture of spirituous and fermented liquors in Calcutta illegal without a license. Apparently, by an oversight in the old Act, the manufacture of spirituous and fermented liquors was not restricted by the necessity of obtaining a license. These new sections therefore made such manufacture without a license illegal, and gave the same powers for detecting illicit manufacture, and so on, as the abkaree officers and the police possessed under the old law in cases of illicit possession and sale.

The amended section 19 was simply to give police officers the same powers of detention and arrest as the old Act gave to the abkaree officers for the detention and arrest of people who held possession of contraband liquors and drugs.

The amended section 20 contained an important addition which would strengthen the hands of the executive. Under the old law, even under a warrant from the Collector, the abkaree officer could only enter a house, in cases of suspected illicit possession or sale, between sunrise and sunset. Of course their efforts were often frustrated by not being in a position to enter at night. The amended section empowered the Collector to cause a search to be made at night as well as in the day.

Sections 33 and 34, as amended, were not of very great importance; they were merely to facilitate the working of the law in a matter which had caused some difficulty. The law now provided that the Magistrate who decided a case of illegal possession or sale should direct the amount of the fine levied and the value of the article seized to be divided between the informer and the captor in equal proportions. Evidently that might, on occasions, prove inconvenient. A case was before the Board of Revenue at the present time where the Magistrate had awarded the whole to one and the same person, whom he considered to be both the informer and the seizer, and the locality of his decision had been questioned. The existing section contained a compulsory provision that the whole value of the thing seized and the fine should be given away by the Magistrate, and that nothing should go to the Government; the whole must be given to those who were instrumental in causing the seizure. That compulsory provision had been retained. But it had been found in practice that one of the essentials to make rewards effectual was to give them promptly, and not to keep the informer and seizer waiting until the prosecution was concluded and the fine levied; therefore the new section provided that the Collector might give any reward he liked immediately upon the capture being made, and that any amount so awarded should be deducted from the amount which was subsequently awarded by the Magistrate.

Section 4 of the Bill was new. Under the old Act the Collector might, under his warrant to an abkaree officer, cause him to search a house. Section 4 gave precisely the same powers to the Commissioner of Police, to be exercised by warrant addressed to his own police officers. This would of course strengthen the hands of the executive to a great extent.

Then he came to the amendment of Act XXI of 1856. The amended section 33 was to give the Board of Revenue power to subject drugs, when cultivated, to such restrictions and supervision as might be necessary. The powers given by the present Act were not sufficiently stringent; the wording of the law limited the powers in such a way that control could not be sufficiently exercised by the Board.

Section 50, as amended, merely contained a verbal alteration of the present section necessitated by the substantive alteration in section 33, to which he had already referred.

The amended section 74 was one which would not be overlooked. Under the present Abkaree Act those who committed certain offences could be imprisoned in the civil jail only. But some of these offences were of a nature which deserved imprisonment in the criminal jail, and therefore it was proposed, in the case of such offences, to give the option of imprisoning either in the civil or in the criminal jail.

The amended sections 75 and 76 made corresponding alterations to those which he had mentioned in connection with the Calcutta Act in regard to the distribution and levy of fines and rewards.

Part IV was an amendment of the Calcutta Police Act IV of 1866 (B.C.); it was merely to correct a verbal inaccuracy. Section 40 of that Act spoke of certain conditions in a license granted under a certain section. It so happened that the particular section specified did not provide for the grant of licenses at all, and the amendment was merely to put the wording of the section right.

Then came general provisions common to Calcutta and the mofussil, or part of it. Section 10 of the Bill was new, and provided that it should not be lawful for any person to cultivate plants from which intoxicating drugs were produced without a license. At present there was no law under which the revenue authorities could prevent any ryot from cultivating what he chose to call drugs for his own consumption. It was obvious that any attempt to restrict the illicit sale of drugs whilst this liberty was in force was futile. As soon, for instance, as the cost of ganja was found to be inconveniently high, every ryot in certain districts would grow a sort of bastard ganja as if for his own consumption, but really for clandestine sale. But under these sections the Collector would be able to supervise such growth, and if a man wanted to cultivate an intoxicating drug he must get a license to do so.

Section 11 merely applied to cases under the Act the measure of imprisonment which the Penal Code applied generally in default of payment of fine. It provided that a certain amount of fine should be commutable to a certain amount of imprisonment.

There was not much to add to what was already before the Council with regard to the provisions contained in section 12 of the Bill. They were taken from the Tippling Act in England, and had been suggested by Mr. MacEwen, a Judge of the Small Cause Court, who was good enough to attend a meeting of the Select Committee. He showed that there were many suits brought in the Small Cause Court, mostly against Europeans, for comparatively long scores run up for drinks; sometimes five or six drinks in the course of the day. Every time some men passed the drinking-shop they seemed to take a drink. The Committee had taken some pains to ascertain what the effect of this section would be, and the general feeling was that it would impose some sort of check, and that many of these drinks would be abstained from if it were necessary to pay for them down on the spot. Different opinions were held on the point, and there was a good deal to be said on the other side. The principal objection seemed to be that Europeans in this country did not carry about money with them, and some inconvenience might arise from that fact. But the Act had been in existence in England for years, and had worked satisfactorily, and those who had given attention to the subject in this country thought that the good it would do would outweigh the small inconvenience it might sometimes cause. The balance of opinion was in favour of this provision.

Section 13 of the Bill provided that there should be no pawning of articles for the payment of liquor.

The Select Committee had adopted almost all the conclusions which the Government had arrived at in the correspondence which had taken place; but they had not thought it necessary to adopt the recommendation made by Mr. Money, that the wholesale trade in Calcutta should be subjected to license. It was true that in the mofussil it was necessary to take out a license for the sale of liquors wholesale, but the license fee was trifling, only Rs. 16 a year. In the North-Western Provinces and in Oudh, as had been stated to the Council by Mr. Beaufort, these wholesale licenses were known, and were in force; and so far it was an anomaly that a license should not be required to cover wholesale dealings in Calcutta, while it was levied in the interior. But MR. DAMPIER had communicated with the Madras and Bombay authorities, and he found that in those presidency towns no licenses were required for wholesale; and therefore, on the whole, it was thought better that the Calcutta practice should be uniform with that of the other sea-ports and importing presidency towns, rather than that it should be uniform with that of the interior and of the inland provinces.

There was one other point on which the Select Committee had not adopted the suggestions which were made by Mr. Money, namely, on the question of dispensaries. A good deal had been said about this matter; it had attracted much attention, and a petition had been presented to the Lieutenant-Governor which had been handed on to MR. DAMPIER, and from which he would read an extract:

"That your memorialists need not repeat the reasons which suggest the necessity of some provisions of the kind introduced in the draft Bill [referring to the draft Bill which Mr. Money drew up]. The Select Committee argue that the existing law (Act XI of 1849) is sufficiently stringent to meet the evil complained of; but whatever the case may be theoretically, it is notorious that practically it has entirely failed. For more than a quarter of a century that law has been in operation, but the evil under notice, far from being checked, is flourishing in full luxuriance. The executive authorities have not evidently considered the dispensaries to come under it, from the simple fact that prosecutions have been almost nil. It is observable that possibly the Legislature, in enacting Act XI of 1849, had not then this evil in view, inasmuch as it had not then assumed such a formidable magnitude."

And then the memorialists urged the Lieutenant-Governor to cause sections to be introduced,—

"That even if it be supposed that the existing law covers dispensaries, your memorialists beg to submit that it does not provide what quantity of liquor may be stored in a dispensary for bona fide medicinal purposes; that, when it is sold, it should be sold upon a duly authenticated medical prescription; that a register of such sales should be kept; that such register should be open to inspection by authorized officers; that liquor passed clandestinely as medicine with a false label, as is now the practice, would be considered an unlicensed sale. If these regulations and restrictions were imposed by law, the duties of the executive officers and the Magistrates would be well defined: there would be no pretext for either evading or ignoring the law, and the temptation to, or opportunity of, drinking would be minimised for those who supply themselves with liquor under a cloak, who are restrained by a wholesome feeling of self-respect to resort to liquor-shops or open accounts with them."

It seemed to have been assumed, in some of the comments which had appeared, that the Select Committee had treated this matter rather cavalierly; that they had not paid sufficient attention to it. His hon'ble colleagues on the Committee knew well that this was a mistake; that the Committee considered the practicability of introducing restrictive provisions in the sense desired at two meetings; and that on the whole the majority of the Committee did not think anything that could be devised would impose a practical check.

It was agreed, however, that the matter should be brought before the Council by one of the minority, and instead of passing it over and paying no attention to it, the Committee had drawn up the best sections which they thought could be drawn. The majority of the Committee thought that even those sections would not be of any practical use. The introduction of those sections would be proposed, as would be seen from the notice of amendment given by the hon'ble member opposite (Baboo Doorga Churn Law). MR. DAMPIER would reserve his remarks as to the present state of the law, and the view the Committee took until the hon'ble gentleman proposed his amendment.

The motion was then agreed to.

Sections 3 to 10 were agreed to.

The HON'BLE BABOO DOORGA CHURN LAW said, before the Council proceeded to the consideration of the next section, he would make a few remarks. The native community, who were alarmed at the spread of drunkenness, and were anxious for its suppression, seemed to be disappointed at the absence of any provision in the amended Bill for the prevention of clandestine sales of spirituous liquors by chemists and druggists. That some of those people did sell spirituous liquors, was an undoubted fact, and they did so with perfect impunity under cover of their profession. He admitted that the law, as it at present stood, provided for the punishment of these persons if detected, but there was nothing in it which afforded facilities for detection. He did not say that the proposed system of registry would afford a complete check against such clandestine sales; but he thought the introduction of these provisions in the Bill would operate as a wholesome check on the vendors, and the inspection from time to time by police and abkaree officers would open up opportunities for detection which were entirely absent at present. Under these circumstances he proposed that the following sections relating to the sale of spirituous liquors by druggists and chemists, which were rejected by the majority of the Select Committee, be inserted in the Bill after section 10:—

“10a. Notwithstanding anything in this or any other Act contained, chemists, druggists, and apothecaries, not being licensed vendors, may sell spirituous and fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs for bona fide medicinal purposes only ;

Chemists, &c., may sell without license for medicinal purposes only provided that no such chemist, druggist, or apothecary, shall sell such liquors or drugs unless they have been mixed with other ingredients as a medicine, except upon the prescription of a medical officer holding a degree not below that of a licentiate of medicine ; and every sale made by a chemist, druggist, or apothecary otherwise than as in this section provided shall be deemed to be an illegal sale, and the person making such sale shall be liable to all the penalties prescribed for making an illegal sale by the laws in force.

10b. Every such chemist, druggist, and apothecary, shall keep a register in such form as the Board of Revenue may prescribe, in which he shall enter the date and quantity of every sale of such liquors or drugs which have not been mixed with other ingredients as a medicine, and the prescription given in respect thereof, and the name and residence of the purchaser, which register shall at all times be open to the inspection of the Collector, or any excise officer above the rank of jemadar, who may be deputed by the Collector for the purpose of such inspection, or of any other person duly authorized in that behalf.

Register of sales to be kept.

10c. Every such chemist, druggist, and apothecary, who shall neglect to keep such register, or to enter the required particulars regarding any such sale made by him ; or who shall make an incorrect entry thereof ;

Penalty for not keeping register.

or who shall refuse on demand to produce such register for the inspection of the Collector, or other officer duly authorized to inspect it, shall, for every such offence, be liable to a fine of two hundred rupees.”

The HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS said he fully sympathized with the hon'ble member in the motives which had actuated him in proposing this amendment ; and if he believed the amendment calculated to effect the end for which it had been proposed, it would have no more cordial advocate than himself.

They had been told, by those who might be supposed to be well informed on the subject, that the practice of drinking was spreading among the upper classes in Bengal. That intemperance should prevail among any class of the people must be admitted to be a national calamity ; and the evil was intensified when those who yielded to the vice belonged to the higher and educated classes, to whom others naturally looked up for example and guidance. It was said that in England intemperance was the national besetting vice, but he trusted, it might be observed, that it was gradually becoming confined to the lower classes. A hundred years ago an English gentleman would have felt it no disgrace to get drunk, whereas now there was scarcely one of the upper or middle classes who would not feel it to be a degradation; and among the more respectable even of the lower classes, the same influence was making itself felt. But the condition of Bengal was very different from this. The great mass of the people were remarkably temperate, and he trusted that they might always remain so; but there were grounds for fearing that a habit of indulgence of drink was extending among the higher classes, and this must naturally give rise to serious apprehensions that the evil would spread from the educated few to the uneducated many. Any rule or law which would tend to check this most deplorable tendency deserved the cordial support of any one who had the interests of this country at heart.

Nevertheless he was unable to accept the amendment of the hon'ble member. In the first place, it seemed to him that the amendment came in the wrong place. It was an old legislative maxim that the legal remedy should not go beyond the evil which it was intended to remove. Now, he believed that it would be admitted that this evil—the sale of spirituous liquors at dispensaries under the guise of medicine—prevailed only in Calcutta, or at most only in Calcutta and in three or four large towns in the interior. The amendment should, therefore, have been introduced in the Part of the Bill which related to Calcutta, and not among the general provisions of the Bill.

Passing to the words themselves of the amendment, he observed that it was provided that no chemist should sell spirituous liquors unless they had been mixed with other ingredients as a medicine: but was the hon'ble member prepared to say what constituted a medicine? There was a mixture of which some of them had doubtless occasionally partaken, made by mixing a wine glass full of brandy or whisky with hot water, sugar, and lemon. That was a spirituous liquor mixed with other ingredients, and it was impossible to deny that it might be taken as a medicine, and that, under some circumstances, it might be a useful and valuable medicine. The amendment of the hon'ble member would legalise the sale by a chemist of such a mixture as this without any restrictions.

The amendment went on to provide that liquors, even when not mixed with other ingredients, might be sold on the prescription of a medical officer holding a degree not below that of a Licentiate of Medicine. In England such a provision as this would be logical and intelligible; for in England there was a medical body duly recognized by the law, and enjoying a complete monopoly of medical practice. No one was allowed to practice medicine in England unless he possessed a qualifying certificate from the College of Surgeons, or the Society of Apothecaries, or I think from one or two other bodies; but we had no such recognized body of medical practitioners in Bengal. The status of a Licentiate of Medicine was, he believed, entirely unknown to the law, and he thought this Council should pause before agreeing to recognize it in the manner proposed by this amendment.

The next clause declared that every sale made by a chemist, otherwise than as in this section provided, should be deemed to be an illegal sale. He ventured to think that the hon'ble member had not fully considered the effect of enacting a law in such words as these. It appeared to him that the result would be that Messrs. Bathgate & Co. would render themselves liable to a fine of Rs. 500 every time they sold a bottle of eau-de-cologne.

He was aware that it might be said that in such matters we ought to assume that people were possessed of ordinary common sense, and that complaints such as he had suggested would never be made, or, if made, would not be entertained by the Magistrate. But in legislation we had no right to assume anything of the kind. There was nothing more dangerous than to enact a law in wide and general terms, and to trust that it would only be put in force in a cautious and guarded manner. An instance which occurred the other day in England was a note-worthy example of this. There was an old Statute of George II which was originally intended to check seditious and treasonable meetings. It had long been obsolete, but had never formally been repealed. This statute was brought forward and put in force for the purpose of compelling the proprietors of the Brighton Aquarium to close that institution on a Sunday. Nothing could have been further from the object of the original Act; but it was impossible to deny that the complaint came within the wording of the Statute.

The Judge before whom the case was brought said that he would gladly have found a loophole in the law which would have enabled him to dismiss the complaint, but he was unable to do so, and he was compelled to convict and fine the defendants. This case showed the extreme danger of couching enactments in general language, which included indeed what it was desired to prohibit, but included also a number of other things which were perfectly harmless and unobjectionable.

For these reasons he was unable to support the amendment of the hon'ble member, and he must express a hope that it would not be assented to by this Council.

The HON'BLE MR. HOGG said he entirely agreed in the remarks of the hon'ble member who had just addressed the Council. Mr. Hogg submitted that the section as drafted, instead of placing a check on the sale of liquor, had precisely the opposite effect, namely, licensing the sale of liquor; whereas now it was absolutely illegal for a chemist or druggist to sell any liquor. That was the ground upon which he opposed these sections in the Select Committee, and that was the ground upon which he opposed them now.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER might begin by saying that when the memorial which he held in his hand was handed over to him by the Lieutenant-Governor, it was accompanied by an intimation that His Honor thought that more stringent measures were necessary to suppress the sale of liquors in medicine shops. MR. DAMPIER agreed entirely that more restrictive measures, if practically effectual measures could be devised, were desirable. In this belief the Select Committee approached the subject, and in looking into it they found that in the opinion of the majority nothing practical could be devised which would be more efficient than the preventive provisions of the existing law. He would lay those provisions before the Council.

The Calcutta Act in section 4 provided that any retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors without a license was illegal, and provided a penalty of Rs. 500. Section 15 provided that any person not being a licensed dealer having a greater quantity than that specified in section 5 in his possession was to be fined Rs. 500. To that there was an exception, "except in the case of English and Foreign spirits and beer." That touched the present case. Under section 16, such articles were liable to confiscation, and under section 20 any house in which it was supposed that such articles were kept might be searched from sunrise to sunset according to the present law; but under this Bill the power of search and seizure would be further extended to any time, whether in the night or day.

In the mofussil, Act XXI of 1856, section 28 provided that there should be no manufacture or sale of spirituous or fermented liquors except under the Act; section 48 provided a penalty of Rs. 500 for illegal manufacture or sale; section 49 provided for the confiscation of any such liquor or drug which any person might possess, except English and Foreign wines and beer purchased for private use and not for sale, and for the imposition of a penalty on conviction; section 58 provided that a house might be entered and searched if suspected of containing illicit liquors or drugs between sunrise and sunset extended by this Bill to any time either day or night; and section 59 gave police and customs officers all such powers of search and detention.

So that as the law stood, chemists and druggists, both in Calcutta and the mofussil, were precisely in the same position as any other individual as regards the possession and sale of spirituous or fermented liquors: that was to say, that under a strict interpretation of the law they could not sell any spirits or spirituous liquors without incurring a penalty, and they could not possess above a certain quantity of country-made liquor and drugs, but they might have an unlimited quantity of imported spirits or beer on their own premises, just as a private individual might have. The question was, were the Council prepared to restrict the personal rights of those persons who carried on the trade of chemists and druggists within closer limits than the rights of any private individual? Were they prepared to enact that those who had chemists and druggists shops below, and lived with their families above, should not enjoy the same right as any other private individual enjoyed of keeping spirituous or fermented liquors in their houses? And MR. DAMPIER did not think the Council would be prepared to pass such a measure as that. One thing had occurred to him, that where a dispensary was not used also as a private dwelling, the Council might summarily impose the maximum of imported spirits which should be kept on the premises at one time. He had made inquiries, and he believed that one bottle of brandy would be sufficient for the business purposes of a dispensary. Now, if the Council were to pass any restrictive measure, it seemed to him that they should go much farther than the amendment of the hon'ble member; and where premises were used as a dispensary apart from a private dwelling-house, they might impose such a maximum. But where the dwelling-house of the chemist was on the same premises as the dispensary, it was evident that a man who wished to evade the law would keep the stores of liquor in his private apartments or in his bed-room, and when necessary he would produce a bottle to the customer. With all the willingness in the world to provide something that would check the illicit sale of liquors at dispensaries, Mr. DAMPIER had not been able to devise any reasonable measures that would in his opinion further the object in view. The Council would see that the Government only desired to have some measure suggested which should provide an effectual check on such illicit sales; and if any one could suggest a measure which would be useful for the purpose, and not trench too far on the rights of the public in general, who happened to deal in drugs and medicine, he should be the first to support it.

As for the amendments before the Council, he had said that they had been considered in Select Committee. Every one of the difficulties pointed out by the hon'ble member on his right (Mr. Reynolds) had been fully considered. What was a medicine? Who were authorities competent to give prescriptions, and the like? But the Committee had not been able to devise any provisions which should be less defective and less open to objection. They believed the only effect of introducing these provisions would be to create a kind of satisfaction that in deference to the public wish something on the subject had been introduced into the Bill.

As to one point which the memorial urged, that the executive had not considered that the provisions of the present law applied to dispensaries, if there was any one present who was responsible for that reading of the law by the executive in Calcutta, perhaps he would explain whether they entertained such views, and if so, the grounds on which they were based. It seemed to Mr. DAMPIER that the executive had enormous legal powers for the suppression of the illicit sale of liquors by chemists and druggists if they chose to exercise those powers; and it was only in consequence of their powers being exercised with a reasonable discretion in allowing dispensaries to sell liquor really for medicinal purposes, that it was possible for chemists and druggists to carry on their trade at all. He believed that an hon'ble member had some amendment on the anvil restricting the amount of spirituous liquors to be kept in a dispensary at one time, in cases where the person keeping the shop did not reside on the premises. Mr. Dampier doubted whether anything effective could be devised even in that direction. Something must be allowed to be kept on the premises; and even two bottles would provide sufficient for a drinking bout of a few friends, such as, it was said, were held in dispensaries after the licensed liquor-shops were closed; and even two bottles would fill many phials labelled "medicine." Still, if his hon'ble friend would propose something to that effect, the Council might be able to adopt it. As to any interference of that kind with chemists who lived on the premises on which they kept their shops, he could not agree. He could not agree to any thing which would restrict their rights because they happened to have druggists' shops below the premises in which they resided. Mr. Dampier would oppose the amendments proposed, simply on the ground that they were impotent to effect the object desired. It seemed to him that the real way to meet the evil was to make a strong executive movement—a sort of revival in this direction.

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAI said, whatever difference of opinion existed as to the detailed provisions which had been moved by way of amendment, it seemed to be the unanimous opinion in the Council and out of it that the evil complained of did exist. That opinion was first pointed out in some of the memorials to Government; it was admitted in Mr. Money's Minute; it was admitted in the Resolution of the Government, and in its letter to the Board of Revenue; and it was admitted in the letter of the Government of India to the Government of Bengal. Thus there was a consensus of opinion in regard to the existence of the evil complained of. The hon'ble member in charge of the Bill was perfectly justified in stating that this question was fully considered in Select Committee, and that the difficulty was how to make a practical provision for meeting the evil. BABOO KRISTODAS PAL admitted the difficulty, and he was not himself quite satisfied that the provisions prepared by the hon'ble mover of the Bill, and since adopted by the mover of the amendment before the Council, would go to the extent desired in checking the evil. But he felt satisfied that if those provisions would not fully check the evil, they would prove very useful in counteracting it to a great extent. It was true, as observed by several hon'ble members, that the present law was stringent and comprehensive enough. But the fact that the law had all along remained a dead-letter as it were, and that the clandestine sale of liquors in dispensaries had been going on without let or hindrance, and that it had now become a sort of a public nuisance, was, he thought, proof sufficient that the law was not sufficiently strong, or that the executive had not been sufficiently strong under that law. For if that was not the opinion of the executive, surely Mr. Money, the member in charge of the Excise Department in the Board, would not have recommended fresh legislation, nor would the head of the Government have adopted that suggestion and recommended its adoption by the Council. BABOO KRISTODAS PAL agreed with the hon'ble member opposite (Mr. Reynolds) that the evil, whatever it was, was confined chiefly to Calcutta and four or five other towns, and that it was not therefore necessary that these clauses should apply to the provinces generally. In fact, he thought it would be better to confine the operation of the provisions to Calcutta and its suburbs by way of experiment only; and if that suggestion were adopted, then the proposed clauses might come under the other Part of the Bill.

As for the question as to what was a medicine, that objection he thought was met by the provision that the sale was to be made on medical prescription.

[THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER pointed out that if the liquor was mixed with other ingredients then no prescription was required. A prescription was only necessary when the liquor was to be sold pure. Hence the difficulty, at what point did it become mixed?]

THE HON'BLE BABOO KRISTO DAS PAL continued—Then came the question who was to be the authority to give a prescription? and whether the Council should recognize a Licentiate of Medicine. He was a functionary recognized by the Government, by the medical faculty, and by the University. In fact the Licentiate of Medicine was usually known by the name of Sub-Assistant Surgeon, who passed the Medical College, and held a diploma. In Calcutta, the native medical profession chiefly consisted of these Licentiates of Medicine, who were authorized members of the medical profession. It was true that there were many who could not afford to pay for European medicine, or who had not faith in allopathy, and had recourse to the Hindu system of medicine, or to homeopathic treatment. But where allopathic medicines were prescribed, they were usually prescribed by a graduate in medicine, or other medical gentleman holding a diploma. So he did not think the Council would be acting contrary to any recognized rule of the Government by recognizing those who held the diploma of Licentiate of Medicine and Surgery.

He entirely agreed with the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill as to the difficulty of regulating the sale of liquors in dispensaries where the owners had also their private residences on the same premises. But the number of such dispensaries, he thought, was very limited in the town; and if the Council could not reach them, he thought they could very safely reach those dispensaries which were kept merely as medicine shops. He also agreed with the hon'ble member that the provisions contained in the amendment would fail in effect if there were not a special provision also for restricting the quantity of liquor to be kept in store in medicine shops, and with that view he had prepared an amendment to the following effect. He proposed to add a proviso to the new section 10a after the words "Licentiate of Medicine:"—

"Provided also that no such chemist, druggist, or apothecary, shall keep more than two bottles of brandy or other spirituous or fermented liquor in any such shop."

The hon'ble member in charge of the Bill had made inquiries as to the quantity of liquor necessary to be kept in a dispensary, and he had ascertained from one of the most respectable dispensaries in the town that one bottle of brandy at a time would be quite sufficient. To be on the safe side, BABOO KRISTODAS PAL had laid down a maximum limit of two bottles, and then, by way of penalty, he would add at the end of section 10c the words "or who shall keep more than two bottles of brandy or other spirituous or fermented liquor." If these amendments were accepted, he thought they would meet the object of the hon'ble member on his right (Baboo Doorga Churn Law), and, with the other sections, to a great extent meet the views of those who petitioned the Government for some legislation on the subject.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER thought that before the amendment was put, the wording should be very carefully considered, so as not to interfere with premises which were used for private occupation as well as for dispensaries, and therefore he thought the Council should vote upon the amendment subject to careful reconsideration at the next meeting, supposing that they should be inclined to accept the general principle of it.

The original motion that sections 10a, 10b, and 10c, be introduced, was then put and negatived.

Sections 11 to 13 were agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said it was urged upon the Select Committee that they should insert in the Bill a section making over the duty of licensing liquor-shops (at any rate in Calcutta) to the municipal bodies. A good deal of discussion had taken place on that proposal, but the Select Committee were not then in a position to adopt such a provision. It was not a matter on which it would have been right to act in opposition to the Government. Since then the views of the Government had been ascertained, and the result was that under the authority of the Lieutenant-Governor MR. DAMPIER proposed a section by which the Government took power to make over to the municipal body, in any place, the duties connected with the granting of abkaree licenses. He moved the introduction of the following section after section 13 :—

"13a. Notwithstanding anything in this or in any other Act contained, it shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to assign to the Justices of the Peace for the Town of Calcutta, or to any other Municipality, such functions and powers as he shall think fit in respect to the granting, withholding, and withdrawal of licenses for the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs (being functions and powers which, but for such assignment, might legally be exercised by any officer of Government), to be exercised by such Justices or by such Municipality within the limits of their respective jurisdictions, under such conditions and subject to such rules as the said Lieutenant-Governor may impose; and the Lieutenant-Governor may at any time withdraw and revoke any functions and powers which he has assigned under the provisions of this section."

The HON'BLE MR. HOGG said he had not seen a copy of the notice of the proposed amendment before he came into the Council that morning, but it seemed to him to be open to question how far it would be fair to pass a section for imposing peremptorily on the municipality the conduct of Abkaree business, subject to such rules and conditions as the Lieutenant-Governor might prescribe. It might happen that the Justices or other local bodies might not desire to take over the duties connected with the licensing of liquor-shops, subject to the conditions imposed by the Government. He therefore thought that some provision should be added by which the rules and conditions referred to should be made subject to the consent of the municipality concerned. If the hon'ble mover had no objection to add some words providing for such consent, MR. HOGG would have no objection to offer to the section.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER observed that he believed there would be no objection to provide for such consent, and he thought it would be advisable also to make such transfer of functions subject also to the sanction of the Governor-General in Council.

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL said he would support the addition proposed by the hon'ble mover of the Bill, as he had taken the initiative in this matter, although the proposed addition did not seem to him to go far enough. It simply vested the Government with discretion to make over the power of licensing liquor-shops within the town to the Justices. Still he accepted it as a concession, because he assured the Council that there was a strong opinion among the public that municipalities were the best authorities to regulate the liquor traffic, inasmuch as they had a direct interest in the consumption of liquor within the limits of the municipalities. And it was fairly argued that if local bodies were considered fit to exercise control over matters relating to conservancy, surely they were fit to act in a matter so vitally affecting the morals and health of the people in the municipality. He therefore hailed with pleasure the concession made by the Government, and also supported the suggestion made by the hon'ble member on his right (Mr. Hogg), that if the power of granting liquor licenses be conceded to the municipalities, it ought not, without their consent, to be made subject to any conditions or rules, particularly in a town like Calcutta, where the Justices had full control over their own affairs, and they ought not to be fettered by any rules beyond the requirements of the law. Therefore he hoped the hon'ble mover would make the alteration suggested by the hon'ble member who spoke last.

The further consideration of the proposed section and of the Bill were then postponed.

The HON'BLE THE PRESIDENT, before adjourning the Council, said he hoped that at the meeting of the Council on Saturday next, they should be able to take up the consideration of the Calcutta Municipal Bill, and he would take this opportunity of drawing the attention of hon'ble members to the eighth rule of the Council, which required that members who wished to make any original motion at any meeting must give notice of their intention three days before the day of the meeting at which they intend to make the motion. The Bill was a long one, and he thought it would tend much more to the better and early disposal of it if hon'ble members would think of it and give notice of the amendments which they intended to move.

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL asked whether he was in order in stating that he believed it was understood that the report of the Select Committee on the Calcutta Municipal Bill would not be taken into consideration by the Council until November next. He had reason to believe that some of the public bodies, who intended to submit representations, were under the impression that the Bill would not be taken up until that time.

The HON'BLE the PRESIDENT thought that the public business required that the consideration of the Bill should be taken up much earlier, and now, with this notice, he hoped that the public bodies referred to would give the Council the benefit of their assistance before the next meeting, or at latest the meeting after.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 14th instant.

REGISTRATION OF INLAND RIVER TRAFFIC IN BENGAL.

RESOLUTION.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.—STATISTICS.

Calcutta, the 10th August 1875.

THE great importance of the question of the registration of internal traffic within the Bengal Province has of late years been fully recognised, and considerable progress was made under the orders of the late Lieutenant-Governor, Sir George Campbell, for registering and recording this traffic. In the Trade chapters of the Annual Administration Reports of the past three years, it will be found that much valuable information has been collated and published.

2. The most important traffic of Bengal is that which is registered on the Calcutta canals. The returns are taken at toll stations a little outside Calcutta, on the canals which connect the Soonderbuns, Backergunge, parts of Jessore, and the country about the Megna River with Calcutta. They show all the trade which passes by canal from the Soonderbuns or Jessore to Calcutta, and to Western Bengal and Behar. The total quantity of traffic discharged up the canals from Calcutta amounted, in 1873-74, to 39,66,348 maunds; and the total quantity of down traffic brought into Calcutta amounted to 2,23,07,180 maunds.

3. The traffic along the Nuddea Rivers, that is along the Bhagiruthee, the Jellinghee, and the Matabhanga, is also carefully registered. There is a toll station at Jungypore, at the head of the Bhagiruthee, where that river leaves the Ganges. There is another toll station at Nuddea, at the point where the Jellinghee river flows into the Bhagiruthee. There is a third toll station at Kissengunge, which is a place situated about midway of the course of the Matabhanga river. The Matabhanga is the route along which a great part of the traffic of north-east and part of the traffic of Eastern Bengal comes into Calcutta. The traffic from Behar and from Northern and Central Bengal is intercepted on the Bhagiruthee and Jellinghee rivers. The aggregate weight of the up-stream traffic registered at the three toll stations of the Nuddea rivers amounted to 28,25,721 maunds during the year 1873-74; and the total of the down-stream traffic to nearly 71 lakhs of maunds.

4. The Orissa and Midnapore canals have been for some years open to traffic, and have recently, especially the Midnapore canals, been the principal routes for the export of rice from the fertile country which stretches along the south-west coast of Bengal from the mouth of the Hooghly. The traffic on the Midnapore canals is registered. The aggregate maundage of the traffic conveyed through these canals in 1873-74 was 67,72,752 maunds.

5. The above traffic is all registered at toll-collecting stations. In 1872 a commencement was made of establishing registration stations for the sole purpose of registering the traffic. A station was in that year established by Sir George Campbell at Sahebgunge, with the object of registering the traffic between Eastern and Northern Bengal, and the districts of Behar and the North-Western Provinces. Sahebgunge is situated on a rocky headland in the Bhagulpore district, directly under which the deep stream of the Ganges passes, and nearly all the great tributaries of the Ganges enter the river above Sahebgunge, which again is above the point where the Bhagiruthee, the most westerly of the Ganges' mouths, leaves the main stream for the sea. An establishment on Rs. 2,416 a year was sanctioned by the Government of India for the registration of the traffic at Sahebgunge. The total of the down traffic that was registered at Sahebgunge during 1874 amounted to 60,21,235 maunds: the total of the up traffic amounted to 24,89,177 maunds. But it should be explained that no arrangements have yet been made so that the traffic registered at Sahebgunge should not be registered a second time at the toll stations of the Nuddea rivers, or vice versa.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor thinks that the time has now arrived when the system of the registration of traffic should be extended and systematised, and that, if possible, a complete system of the registration of river-borne traffic in Bengal should be established. He has given the subject his careful consideration, and the scheme which is set forth in this Resolution will indicate the principles on which he desires that the system should be carried into effect, and the arrangements to which, after consultation with the Commissioners, His Honor has accorded his provisional sanction.

7. The whole system of registration will be controlled from the Statistical Department of Government, where the returns will be analysed and regularly published and circulated to officers. It would have been possible to have organized what may be called a district system of registration under which all the river-borne traffic within, and from each district, would have been registered at stations within the district itself. But such a localisation of the registration is to be deprecated for many reasons. It would involve the multiplication of small stations; and small stations will generally be far removed from the supervision of a district or sub-divisional officer, and would necessarily have to be placed under low paid clerks, who would, it is to be feared, exercise oppression and interference with the trade. Moreover, goods would be registered more than once if they were registered while traversing the feeder streams, and again at the large central stations. According to the theory of the district system, boats would be registered again and again as they passed through successive districts. The Lieutenant-Governor does not therefore desire that district officers should attempt to undertake a complete registration of the traffic of their own districts. Bengal must be taken as a whole for the purposes of trade registration, and in order to register and ascertain all the traffic of the province, it is indispensable that supervision should be exercised from only one head-quarters, and that a uniform system of forms and returns should be introduced everywhere.

8. Simplicity, moreover, is essential. The Lieutenant-Governor is desirous of organizing a system of registration of river traffic in Bengal on as complete a scale as possible; but in considering the system from a general point of view, and not merely district by district, or division by division, it is evident that a comparatively small number of stations, well chosen, will answer the purpose as well as a great many. It will create expense, and also confusion, if more registration stations are established than are absolutely necessary to register the trade on the main lines of communication. So long as the traffic is once registered at the large stations on the large rivers, there is no occasion for the establishment of several small stations on the affluents and feeders of the large streams. There is no doubt that the purely local traffic that does not fall into the big rivers will fail to be arrested; but it is believed that such traffic is so small and insignificant as to make its registration of no consequence. The question also of the transshipment of traffic must not escape notice. Special precautions are being taken, as will be detailed below, by the issue of tickets to prevent boats being registered twice over. But these precautions will be of no avail if the cargoes are registered twice over—once in the small boats which come down the feeder rivers: and once at central stations, like Serajgunge, Naraingunge, and Goalundo. It is known that goods are sent to these stations from all the small rivers and khalls, and are there transhipped for conveyance to Calcutta. If stations are put upon the feeder rivers, the goods will assuredly be registered twice over, though no boat may be registered more than once. The Lieutenant-Governor therefore does not consider that, for general registration purposes, it will be necessary to retain any registering offices on the contributories or feeder rivers of Bengal. Stations will only be established at a small number of principal places on the large rivers, which are, so to speak, the receiving and distributing depôts of the trade of a large area of country.

9. The Lieutenant-Governor has considered the question of the registration of river-borne traffic in Bengal in connection with the registration of inter-provincial traffic, which is discussed in the report of the delegates of the several provinces of Bengal, the North-Western Provinces, Oudh, the Punjab, and the Central Provinces, who recently met at Allahabad to settle the system of the collection and compilation of inter-provincial trade statistics. His Honor has already intimated his general acceptance of the conclusions arrived at by the Allahabad Conference. It has been agreed that the management of the establishment for registering traffic on the line between the North-Western Provinces and Bengal should be made over to the Government of the North-Western Provinces, to the head-quarters of which it is nearest. It was provided that the registration of the river-borne traffic of the Sarun district only should remain in the hands of the Collector of Sarun.

10. The river-borne traffic between Sarun and the North-Western Provinces (apart from that which is carried on the Ganges) is carried along the Gogra, and it is desirable that some frontier post on this river should therefore be selected. The Lieutenant-Governor has provisionally sanctioned a registering station at Durowlee, which is almost on the North-Western Provinces frontier, with an establishment of—

11. Durowlee is expressly sanctioned for the purpose of registering the inter-provincial traffic in accordance with the scheme approved by the delegates at the Allahabad Conference. It is necessary to establish also a system of registration of river-borne traffic in the Behar province. For this purpose the establishment of a head registry office at Patna, with a branch office at Kevilgunge on the Gogra, and a branch office at Hajepore on the Gunduck, has been proposed. But after the frontier station at Durowlee has been sanctioned, it will not be necessary to retain another station on the river Gogra, and it is evident that while all the Gunduck trade which goes eastwards is already registered at the station at Sahebgunge, so that which goes westwards will be registered at the Patna office, should a registry station be established at that city; and it is, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks, in all respects desirable that Patna, which is the great receiving and distributing mart of the Behar province, should be chosen as a principal station for the registration of the river traffic. The position of Patna on the Railway and on the Ganges, just where the Ganges, Gogra, Gunduck, and Soane become united, gives it in this respect great advantages. His Honor has approved the choice of Patna as a registering station, and has sanctioned the following establishment for the registration of river-borne trade at Patna:—

12. At Sahebgunge the present registration station will remain on its existing establishment.

13. The Nuddea rivers toll stations will also, of course, remain unaffected. But nearer Calcutta it has been represented by the Commissioner of Burdwan that the position of the Collector's office on the banks of the river at Hooghly, and the character of the river itself at that point, afford an excellent situation for the establishment of a registration station. The greater portion of the Ganges-borne trade with Calcutta passes by the station of Hooghly, and the Commissioner urges, as another reason for placing an establishment at this point, that the existence of a station may serve as a check on the illicit trade in smuggled opium, from the opium-producing districts, which is now believed to be carried on with the French territory of Chandernagore. The station also will be under the immediate inspection and control of the Collector. The Lieutenant-Governor approves the Commissioner's proposal, and is pleased to sanction for the Hooghly station an establishment of—

14. Turning now to North-Eastern Bengal, it will be necessary to make arrangements for registering the traffic on the three great rivers of the Brahmapootra or Jamoona, the Pudda, and the Megna. The first station which suggests itself to the Lieutenant-Governor on the Brahmapootra is Chilmaree in the district of Rungpore, which is the last point where there is land under the administration of the Bengal Government on both sides of the river. Chilmaree is, moreover, an essential station for the registration of inter-provincial traffic between Bengal and Assam, and must be kept up for that purpose, even if it was not thought desirable to retain it for the registration of internal trade. The Chilmaree station will be under the direct supervision of the sub-divisional officer of the newly appointed sub-division at Kurigaon. The Lieutenant-Governor sanctions the following establishment for the Chilmaree registering station :—

				Rs.

15. Proceeding down the river, it is evident that Serajgunge must also be an obligatory station. Serajgunge is the principal emporium of trade of the districts of Pubna and Mymensingh, and of parts of Bogra, Rungpore, and Dinagepore. It is the greatest jute market in Bengal. The amount of the jute trade for Serajgunge was estimated at thirty lakhs of rupees in 1871-72. In 1872-73, 1,508,900 maunds of jute were exported by steamers, and it is understood that more than half the jute from this mart leaves in country boats. The total value of the steamer trade from Serajgunge in 1871-72 is stated at Rs. 66,38,525, and about as much was sent in country boats. The whole of the Teesta trade, as it comes down the Brahmapootra, as well as of other smaller streams, will be registered at Serajgunge. The Lieutenant-Governor sanctions, for the registration station at Serajgunge, an establishment of—

16. The next position of registration will be Goalundo, which is situated at the point of junction between the Pudda and the Jamoona. It is probable that Goalundo will be the most important of all the registering stations in Bengal. Besides registering the boats that come up from Eastern Bengal and down the Pudda, Goalundo will have to catch the traffic that pours down the Attrai, the Kuratiya, the Boral, the Oorasagor, and other large feeder rivers which make a great net-work of streams and fall into the Jamoona a few miles above Goalundo. The river, moreover, is very wide, and the current violent, and registration will in practice be found difficult to effect at Goalundo. The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to sanction for this station—

17. The Lieutenant-Governor has approved also of a registration station at Kooshtea at the mouth of the Gorai river. The following establishment is sanctioned for Kooshtea :—

18. There will also be a registration station at Khoolna in the Jessore Soonderbuns. Khoolna, the seat of a sub-division and the capital of the Soonderbuns, is situated at the point of the junction of the Atharabanka (which is the channel along which all the traffic of the Modhumattee passes onwards on its way to the west) and Bhoyrob rivers. The Bhoyrob is the river which conveys the Backergunge produce to Calcutta. At Khoolna the Lieutenant-Governor sanctions an establishment of—

19. In the immediate neighbourhood of Calcutta, the Calcutta Canals registration will remain unaffected.

20. In Eastern Bengal it is considered advisable to establish a registering station on the Brahmapootra at Nasirabad, the sudder station of the Mymensingh district. There will be no special difficulties at Mymensingh, and the following establishment will suffice :—

21. Bhoyrob Bazar, which is on the Megna at the trijunction point of the three districts of Tipperah, Sylhet, and Mymensingh, is a position of more importance, and a great deal of traffic will be registered there. The Lieutenant-Governor sanctions for Bhoyrob Bazar an establishment of—

	Rs.
1 Registration clerk	40
1 Mohurrir	15
1 Boat	40
1 Peon	6
Total	101

22. Lastly, there is Naraingunge, which is the principal mart of Eastern, as Serajgunge is of North-Eastern Bengal, and must certainly be an obligatory station. For Naraingunge the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to sanction—

	Per month.
	Rs.
2 Registration clerks, at Rs. 40 each	80
1 Mohurrir	15
2 Boats, at Rs. 40 each	80
2 Peons, at „ 6 „	12

23. Excluding the cost of the existing establishment at Sahebgunge, or Rs. 200 a month which is defrayed by the Government of India, and of the Calcutta canals and Nuddea rivers and Midnapore establishments, the financial effect of the scheme now sanctioned is as follows :—

	Per month.
	Rs.

Hooghly	167
Chulmarce	192
Serajgunge	198

But in addition to this, it is necessary to allow for one clerk in each of the nine districts where the system of registration is now being newly introduced at a fixed salary as marginally noted. The duties of these clerks in collating the daily registers and preparing the monthly statements for submission will be subsequently explained. At Sarun it will be possible to prepare the Durowlee returns in the Collector's office without the appointment of an additional clerk. The Sahebgunge establishment will prepare its own monthly returns, and submit them to Government through the Collector of Bhagulpore as at present. The total expenditure then will be—

	Rs.
Patna	30
Hooghly	30
Rungpore	30
Pubna	30

	Rs.
Nuddea	30
Jessore	30

	Rs.
For 11 registration establishments	1,493
„ 9 office clerks	270

or a total gross expenditure per annum of Rs. 21,156. It may perhaps be said that this is a large expenditure, but the Lieutenant-Governor does not think that in practice the establishments now sanctioned will be found more costly than the maintenance of a large number of petty establishments, and he trusts and anticipates that the outlay will afford some really useful and valuable results. The full sanctioned establishment will in many cases not be required for the whole year; after the rainy season the establishments will, where possible, be reduced, and the Lieutenant-Governor relies on the discretion of district officers in effecting economy in this respect. It must be distinctly understood, moreover, that all the establishments now sanctioned are provisional, and subject to the further orders of Government.

24. Such temporary establishments as have already been sanctioned in the Dacca and Rajshahye Divisions, in anticipation of the sanction of Government, must be broken up on receipt of these orders. An account of the expenditure that has actually been incurred should be submitted, in order that a formal sanction may be sent to the Accountant-General's office.

25. Sir Richard Temple desires that the above arrangements for registering the river-borne traffic in Bengal should be introduced at all the stations with effect from the 1st September next. A notice giving the widest publicity to the intentions of Government has, under separate orders of the Lieutenant-Governor, been sent to all district officers, with instructions to distribute it and disseminate its meaning at all the riverside stations in their jurisdictions. For facility of reference, a copy of this notice is annexed as the first appendix to this Resolution.

26. It remains now to explain the nature of the forms of registers and returns that the Lieutenant-Governor has considered it advisable to introduce generally for the registration of river traffic. The same forms are to be used at all stations both in Behar and in Bengal, and they are to be substituted for the forms now used at Sahebgunge, and on the Nuddea rivers, and on the Calcutta and Midnapore canals.

27. It is obvious that the forms should be as simple as possible, at all events on the first introduction of the registration. If necessary, they can be afterwards expanded. The forms in use at present at Sahebgunge and on the Nuddea Rivers are too cumbrous for adoption, although they supply a great deal of detailed information that it is important to obtain. A simpler arrangement of forms was proposed by the Conference at Allahabad. The Lieutenant-Governor has examined these forms, and believes that they are generally well suited for the registration of Bengal traffic. With slight modifications they are reproduced in the forms which constitute the second appendix to this Resolution.

28. The classification of the articles registered is a matter of importance, and in this respect also the Lieutenant-Governor has accepted the conclusions arrived at by the Allahabad Conference. A classified list of the goods to be registered constitutes the third appendix to this Resolution. It is a modification of the Allahabad list adapted for use in Bengal. It will be seen that Class 1 comprises those articles for which the weight only will be given; Class 2, animals and articles, of which the number alone will be entered; and Class 3, all articles of which, primarily, the value, and, where possible, the weight, shall be entered by the registering officer. The classification given in these lists must be carefully attended to by the writers at the registering and headquarters stations.

29. Forms A and B are the two forms of daily register which must be kept at every registering station. Form A should be filled up according to the specimen form subjoined:—

FORM A.—DOWN-STREAM TRAFFIC.

Form B, which is an exactly similar Form, is intended to be used for the daily registration of Up-stream traffic.

30. These forms are very simple, and it will afford but little trouble to the clerical office at the registering station to fill them up regularly. No attempt should be made to coördinate and digest the returns at the registering station. But every week a copy of all the entries registered during the week should be sent to the Head-Quarters or Sub-Divisional station of the District, for purposes of analysis and the preparation of monthly returns. It has been intimated that the Sahebgunge registering establishment will continue as at present to compile their own monthly returns. But they will substitute the forms given below for those they now use.

31. The monthly returns should be prepared according to the Forms C and CC, D and DD. The specimen Forms of C and CC below, which are for Down-stream traffic, will show what is required :—

The forms marked D and DD relate to Up-stream traffic.

32. These statements will have to be compiled for every month for each registering station separately at Head-Quarters, and must be transmitted every month to Government. It is hoped that the district officers themselves will be able to spare a short time to revise them before submission, and to place an officer at Head-Quarters, in charge of the statements, to see that they are intelligently prepared. The success or otherwise of the contemplated system of registration of river-borne traffic will much depend, especially at first starting, upon the amount of supervision, scrutiny, and trouble the district officers are able to bestow upon the matter, and Sir Richard Temple trusts that all officers will exert themselves to start the registration favorably. In a short time the clerk employed upon the duty of compilation will probably be able to prepare the monthly statements without any assistance. But care will always have to be taken by the head of the office that the returns are accurately and punctually submitted.

33. It will be observed that in the daily register it is required that the names of places, as well as the names of districts of import and export, should be recorded. For the sake of simplicity, it has not been required that this information should be reproduced in the monthly register. But as the value of the statistical information to be afforded by these returns will be much enhanced by a record of the trade, not only of districts, but also of the principal markets within the districts, it is expected that the statistical writer at Head-Quarters will extract from the daily registers the principal markets in connection with which the traffic exists, and will add up separately the total traffic of these markets, and record it as an appendix to the statements. Nothing elaborate in this direction is wanted, but it is very desirable to bring to the notice of Government all the most important markets, and the amount of their traffic.

34. A special form of boat ticket of registration will have to be supplied to each boat on registration, in order to prevent the possibility of a boat being registered more than once. The Lieutenant-Governor has approved of tickets of a very simple design of red and blue colours, requiring only the date, the name of the manjhee, the place of destination, the place of registration, and the registering mohurir's name to be recorded upon each. Upon the back of each card it is prominently pointed out that, by the order of Government, no tax is leviable on registration, except at the registration offices at Jungypore, Kissengunge, Nuddea, and on the Calcutta Canals. The red cards are for boats going up-stream, and the blue cards for boats going down-stream. Every boat, as it is registered, should receive one of these cards, and the registering mohurir, as he gives the card to the boat manjhee, should explain that this card is given to him in token of his boat's load having been registered. A boat which possesses a ticket for the journey will of course not be registered a second time on that journey.

35. Special arrangements will be made for ascertaining the amount of the river-borne steamer traffic on the Bengal rivers, and it must be understood that the registration stations will have no concern with the registration of this traffic.

36. The Lieutenant-Governor awaits a report from all Commissioners regarding the steps they have been able to take for putting these arrangements for registration in force from the 1st September next.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Junior Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Appendix I to Resolution dated 10th August 1875.

NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given that, from and after the 1st day of September 1875, Government will, in addition to the registration already effected at Sahebgunge, on the Nuddea Rivers, and on the Calcutta Canals, register the river-borne traffic—

At Durowlee, on the Gogra River.
At Patna, on the Ganges.
At Hooghly, on the Hooghly.
At Chilmaree, on the Brahmapootra.
At Serajgunge, on the Jamoona.
At Goalundo, on the Pudda.
At Kooshtea, on the Gorai.
At Khoolna, on the Bhoyrob.
At Nasirabad, on the Brahmapootra.
At Bhoyrob Bazaar, on the Megna.
At Naraingunge, on the Megna.

Every Manjee or Charandar, or other person in charge of any boat or vessel passing up or down the river, opposite any of the above places of registration, will have to state either in writing or verbally to the Government Registering Officer or his Deputy, the starting place and destination of his vessel, and the approximate number of maunds of each kind of cargo, or the number of pieces of cargo, or the value, as the case may be, which it has on board. Vessels which stop at the registration station can be registered on shore. Vessels which do not stop will be boarded mid-stream by the boat of the Registering Officer.

The Registering Officer has no authority to stop or detain any vessel or boat beyond such short time as may be necessary for obtaining the required particulars.

A special form of boat ticket of registration will be supplied to each boat on registration. Every boat, as it is registered, will receive one of these tickets, and the Registering Officer will explain that the ticket is given in token of the boat's load having been registered. A boat which possesses a ticket will not be registered a second time on the journey; but it must be distinctly understood that a ticket will be in force for one journey only.

No fee or toll is to be levied by, or paid to, any Registering Officer, except at the toll stations at Jungypore, Kissengunge, Nuddea, and on the Calcutta Canals.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Junior Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF CALCUTTA AND ITS SUBURBS FOR THE YEAR 1874.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.—MEDICAL.

READ—

Letter No. 134—S, dated 1st June 1875, from the Surgeon-General, Indian Medical Department, submitting his Report on the Medical Institutions of Calcutta and its Suburbs for the year 1874.

Read again—

The Report of the previous year and the orders of Government passed thereon.

In the diminished bulk of the present report, compared with those of previous years, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to recognize the result of an adherence to the instructions issued at the instance of the Government of India with a view to reducing the size of annual reports. Without sacrificing anything which it was essential for Government to know, Dr. Cockburn has presented, in a concise form, the history of the medical institutions in Calcutta and its neighbourhood for the past year. While omitting the most elaborate of the statements which used to be submitted, he has yet exhibited, in a summarised form, the principal figures relating to each of the hospitals reported on, and from these, with his explanations, a clear idea is obtainable of the general working of these institutions, and the measure in which their usefulness has been extended.

	In-door.	Out-door.	In-door.	Out-door.
Medical College Hospital	4,340	45,100	4,748	43,601
General Hospital	2,826	1,107	2,894	...
Mayo Hospital and dispensaries	1,004	155,611	1,002	141,302
Campbell Hospital	7,558	...	5,271	...
Chowkeedaree Hospital	2,341	...	1,085	...
North Suburban Hospital	711	...	682	...
Sunboo Nath Pandit's Dispensary	...	9,608	105	7,818
Alipore Dispensary	130	6,002	116	7,052
Aratoon Apcar Dispensary	...	8,858	...	9,354
Howrah General Hospital	2,002	16,631	1,403	13,364

3. The value of the above figures for the purpose of comparison is somewhat impaired by the fact that there has been some change in practice as regards the manner of filling up the returns. The statement may, however, be accepted as approximately correct, that the total number of patients treated in 1874 was 263,027, against 241,557 in 1873; and that there was an increase of 2,025 in the number of in-patients, and of 19,445 in the number of out-patients, to whom relief was afforded during the past year. In proportion to the number of persons of the several races treated in past years, the increase appears to have been most marked among the Mahomedans; whilst on the other hand there was a slight falling off in the number of Europeans and Eurasians treated.

4. As regards the nature of the prevailing diseases, the Lieutenant-Governor observes that the most noteworthy point is stated to have been the increase, as compared with the past few years, not only in the number of cases of cholera treated, but in the intensity of the disease. The total number of cases admitted to the various hospitals was 666, against an average of 450 in the four preceding years. In 509 cases out of a thousand the disease resulted fatally, a ratio of mortality considerably above the average of six preceding years, though somewhat less than that of 1873. As in 1873, the number of cholera cases in the 1st and 2nd divisions of the town were much fewer than in the other divisions. The records, however, are still too defective for practical purposes, as the localities in which the disease was contracted in the case of 181 patients has not been reported. It is only as regards in-door patients that details of the diseases treated are given. As compared with the previous year, there was an increase of more than 50 per cent. in the number of cases of dysentery, and of more than 30 per cent. in the number of cases of remittent fever admitted. On the other hand, there was a decrease of more than one-half in the number of cases of continued fever and of phthisis, and of somewhat less in the number of cases of typhoid fever admitted. The dengue fever has almost entirely disappeared from the returns. The greatest number of deaths resulted from dysentery, cholera, and diarrhoea, being 670, 339, and 285 respectively. The increase in the mortality from dysentery is very marked; the number of deaths from this disease being 416 in excess of the number in 1873, and the death-rate per thousand of those treated being 350, as against 238.

5. Of the 20,921 in-patients treated, 3,197 died, giving a death-rate of 152·8 per thousand, against 143 per thousand in 1873. The returns shew that not only among all the diseases mentioned above as having increased, with the exception of cholera, but also among those stated to have diminished, an increased rate of mortality prevailed. The municipal, as well as the hospital returns continue to shew that the cold-weather months are the most fatal.

6. Medical College Hospital.—The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that the management of this great city hospital, which, during the entire period under review, was ably superintended by Dr. Chevers, continues to merit the warm praise of the Surgeon-General. The large increase in attendance at the dispensary for women and children would seem to attest the growing popularity of the institution; but, on the other hand, His Honor notes that there has been some decrease in the number of in-patients and of persons treated at the surgical and medical dispensaries. The mortality among in-patients was 125·29 per thousand, or slightly less than in 1873. It continues to be very much greater among native than among Christian patients, the ratio among the former having been 61·81, and among the latter 174·96 per thousand. The death-rate of patients after operation is stated at 235·29 per thousand; and the Lieutenant-Governor regrets to learn that the best endeavours of the hospital staff continue to be partially frustrated by causes which are ascribed to the insalubrious situation of the institution. He last year called attention to the pressing necessity for a separation of the surgical from the medical and obstetric cases, and he is glad to learn that a scheme to effect this, by the erection of a new surgical hospital, has been nearly matured.

7. Presidency General Hospital.—The number of Europeans treated at this hospital during the year was 2,437, a number which is stated to have been considerably less than in any year since 1867. It is satisfactory to find that the death-rate has decreased to 45·95 per thousand. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets, however, to observe that in the cases which came under treatment typhoid fever was specially fatal. The number of patients treated at the out-door dispensary, which has been newly opened, was 1,107 only. The Lieutenant-Governor observes Dr. Ewart's suggestion that the services of the 2nd Resident Surgeon should be made exclusively available to the hospital with a view to promote the usefulness of this branch of the institution, but he regrets that he can hold out no hope of the concession being made. With the amount of extra assistance which is generally available at the General Hospital, the Surgeon-Superintendent should have no difficulty in so arranging that full attention shall be given to the dispensary.

8. Calcutta Hospital Nurses' Institution.—The new home built in memory of Lady Canning, in close proximity to the General Hospital, has now been completed, and the Lieutenant-Governor looks forward with much interest to the increased efficiency in the treatment of the sick, which is to be anticipated from the training of the hospital nurses, which will now be carried out under the supervision of the Lady Superintendents who have come out from London for the purpose.

9. Campbell Hospital.—The Lieutenant-Governor is aware that much remains to be done to render this institution well adapted for the instruction of the students of the Campbell Medical School, but these requirements can be supplied gradually only, as funds become available. The number of sick treated in 1874 was unusually high, there having been no less than 7,149 admissions, against 4,870 in the previous year: the result was considerable crowding and inconvenience. A temporary shed was erected to give more space, and rules were passed to restrict the admissions to the numbers for whom there was suitable accommodation. This large shed has, the Lieutenant-Governor observes, been well constructed, and proves to be a useful addition to the hospital accommodation. The death-rate throughout the year continued to be very high, the ratio per thousand being 251, against 288 in the previous year.

10. Mayo Hospital.—The new building for this hospital, which has been completed at a total cost of Rs. 2,46,694, was occupied during the year. The number of in-door patients, however, was much below that for whom there is accommodation. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets, too, to observe that at the same time there has been a great increase of mortality; the death-rate during the year having been 137·4 per thousand, against 51·8 in 1873. The usefulness of the institution must be chiefly judged by the number of out-patients treated at the hospital itself, and at the various dependent dispensaries, which during the year under review was no less than 155,611, against 141,852 in 1873. His Honor trusts that efforts will be made, by increasing the subscription lists, to render the income of this hospital sufficient for its expenditure.

11. Howrah General Hospital.—The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find that this useful hospital is resorted to by both Europeans and natives in yearly increasing numbers. Its financial state is said to be tolerably good, but the Lieutenant-Governor regrets to observe that this appears to be in no measure due to any support it receives from contributions by native gentlemen. He trusts that appeals will be made to obtain subscriptions from those among them who can afford it; and the more so in view of the calls which are made on the resources of the institution by the large numbers of destitute poor who are brought to it, and which are said to be increasing. He is confident that such appeals, if judiciously made, will not be urged in vain. Steps should be taken to improve the latrine and bath-room arrangements, which are very defective.

12. The institutions noted on the margin call for no special observations.

Police Hospital.
Aratoon Apcar Dispensary.
Alipore Dispensary.
Bhowanipore Dispensary.

The attention of the Commissioner of Police will be drawn to the necessity of remedying the defects in the building, and in the arrangement of the latrines, &c., which are said to be injurious to the sanitary condition of the Chowkeedars' Hospital, as well as to the statement made that the menial establishment is wholly inadequate for the maintenance of proper cleanliness and order. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with pleasure the large increase of donations and subscriptions to the North Suburban Hospital, and he trusts that a liberal response will be made to the appeal about to be made for further aid in order to provide out-offices for the new hospital building, which has been completed. The transfer of the in-door patients from the Bhowanipore Dispensary to the Sumbhoo Nath Pundit Ward of the General Hospital is said to have been attended by success, and it is suggested that a similar transfer should be made of the out-patients also. If the Managing Committee desire this, the Lieutenant-Governor will be happy to entertain favorably their proposals on the subject.

13. The report on the Calcutta lock-hospitals has been separately dealt with.

14. Sir Richard Temple's thanks are due to the Surgeon-General, Sir John Campbell Brown, for the efficient control exercised over the medical institutions of Calcutta and the Suburbs during the past year, and he also tenders his acknowledgments to the Deputy Surgeon-General, Dr. Francis, and to Drs. Chevers, Ewart, Woodford, and Bird, for the services rendered by them.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE TRIBUTARY
MEHALS OF CUTTUCK FOR THE YEAR 1874-75.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

READ—

Letter No. 101, dated 11th June 1875, from the Superintendent, Tributary Mehals of Cuttack, being his Administration Report for the year 1874-75.

Read again—

His Report for the previous year, and the orders of Government passed thereon.

MR. RAVENSHAW, the Superintendent, has been enabled to submit, on the whole, a favorable report on the administration of the Tributary Mehals during the year 1874-75. The remission of a small amount of revenue was found necessary in Banke, one of the Orissa Tributary Mehals under direct management, owing to some destruction of the crops due to a breach in the embankments which protect a limited area of low lying land subject to inundation. Similarly, in the Bamunghatty estate, a small sum was remitted on account of loss of crops. Elsewhere throughout the Tributary Estates the season appears to have been favorable to the crops, and the people for the most part are represented to have been contented and prosperous. As on former occasions, the Superintendent gives an interesting account of his proceedings and observations when on tour in the interior. He started somewhat later than on the previous year, but remained in camp nearly two months, during which period he was able to visit a considerable number of the estates, and to satisfy himself as to the character of their administration. Of the advantage of these personal inspections there is, in the present report, ample evidence. In one of the estates very serious abuses were thereby brought to notice: in others the Superintendent was able to intervene with counsel and advice in regard to important questions of administration; and in more than one instance the opportunity was afforded him of settling on the spot, in the presence of all parties, troublesome questions of disputed claims and boundaries which have been often noticed as a frequent source of feuds and quarrels among the Tributary Rajahs.

2. Revenue Collections.—In each of the killahs not under direct management, the tribute in full, amounting to Rs. 33,250, was realized in addition to a sum of Rs. 4,061 collected in advance on account of the year now current. Of the annual instalment of Rs. 15,000 due from the Rajah of Keonjhur in liquidation of the cost incurred by Government in connection with the administration of his estate, Rs. 3,333 were paid during the year, and the balance has since been realized in full. In the Government estates of Ungool and Banke, the work of the tehsildars continues to be satisfactory. The land revenue demand of the year, amounting to Rs. 47,187, was collected in full in addition to Rs. 7,648 advanced on account of the year now current, and Rs. 6,080 collected as miscellaneous revenue. The Bamunghatty estate continues to be managed by the Deputy Commissioner of Singbhoom with success. The collections made amounted to Rs. 22,999, against a total demand of Rs. 30,245, leaving a balance of Rs. 7,245, the greater part of which was not due till after the close of the year.

3. Civil and Criminal Returns.—The total number of civil, revenue, and miscellaneous cases instituted before the Superintendent of the Tributary Mehals and his subordinates during the year was 2,290, against 1,851 in 1873-74. The number disposed of in each of these years was as follows:—

By the Superintendent	244	244
" Assistant Superintendent	206	89
" Deputy Commissioner, Singbhoom ...	153	153
" Tehsildars	1,220	1,622

The increase in litigation indicated by these figures was, the Lieutenant-Governor observes, most conspicuous in the estates under direct management, but was connected chiefly with miscellaneous cases and applications for execution of decrees. The number of cases for disposal at the close of the year amounted to 381 only. The number of appeals instituted was 94, out of which the orders were reversed or modified in 21 cases only.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that the returns of crime in the Tributary Mehals continue to be light, the total number of cases reported having been 651, against 613 in the previous year. A large proportion of these cases fall under the heads of assault, petty theft, mischief, and trespass, and occurred for the most part in Ungool, where the people are said to be particularly prone to make exaggerated or false complaints. There were fourteen charges of murder and culpable homicide, against twelve in 1873-74. One case, however, was proved to be false; another was doubtful. In another the death was the result of an accident; in three the accused were lunatics; and in six convictions were obtained. In two cases of murder only were the results of the enquiries made unsatisfactory. Two cases only of dacoity were reported: one of these was doubtful; in the other some of the offenders were apprehended and punished. The Lieutenant-Governor considers the general results of the civil and criminal administration to be satisfactory.

5. Roads.—In reviewing the Superintendent's report for 1873-74, the Lieutenant-Governor noticed with satisfaction the account given of the progress made by several of the Chiefs of the Tributary Mehals in opening up roads through their estates, and of the interest in the question of providing improved means of communication which was evinced even by the wild inhabitants of the Khond Mehals. He is glad to find from the present report that the matter continues to receive the attention its importance demands. In March last it was the pleasing task of the Superintendent to report that, on visiting the Khond Mehals in the course of his late tour, he found that the Khonds had already completed a considerable length of very fair road in anticipation of the collection of the voluntary cess, to the levy of which, for the purpose of forming a Road Fund, he had previously reported that the people had agreed. After a full discussion of the matter with numerous deputations from the Khond people and head men, and on an assurance that all contributions should be considered as strictly voluntary, it was agreed that the cess to be levied should be a plough rate at three annas per plough; the collection of which the headmen undertook to make without requiring any remuneration for doing so.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with much satisfaction the readiness with which it is reported that, on the settlement of these preliminaries, the people came forward with their subscriptions, and that the whole demand of the year, amounting to Rs. 1,780, was collected without difficulty. As Government has agreed to give annually a sum equivalent to the amount of the subscriptions which may be collected, a substantial fund has now been instituted for the opening up of roads. The sum expended during the year in the purchase of tools, and in the clearing of 93 miles of road, amounted to Rs. 1,626, and at the close of the year there was a balance in hand of Rs. 1,815. The Superintendent reports that the parts of the roads inspected by him have been capitally laid out, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that much credit is due to the tehsildar for his exertions in the matter.

7. Sir Richard Temple is pleased to learn that the Rajah of Boad has undertaken to clear tracks from Harbhungha and Ramgurbh to join the roads constructed by the Khonds, and that the Rajah of Autmullick has laid out a line of road for 25 miles from Kointeragurbh on the Mahanuddy to Hondopa on the Sumbhulpore road. In Bamunghatty, ten miles of the new road from Chyebassa to Besoighat were made, and in Keonjhur the Rajah contributed Rs. 5,000 towards constructing a road in connection with the Trunk Road. The Lieutenant-Governor considers these facts as satisfactory indications of the continued interest taken by the Chiefs in the administration of their estates.

8. Education.—The number of children under instruction during the past year is put down at 2,599. The number of schools open was 82—12 being of the middle class, and 70 of the lower class. The total cost at which these were maintained was Rs. 10,496, of which Government contributed Rs. 3,090, and the Rajahs Rs. 5,898. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that the system adopted in the Khond Mehals, with the consent of the people, of levying a tax on grogshops for the support of the schools continues to work satisfactorily, and that there were sufficient funds available to justify the Superintendent in arranging to open four more schools in addition to the twelve already established. His proceedings in appointing a Circle Sub-Inspector to look after these schools, in establishing a normal school class to be held at Bissipara in the vacations, and in offering rewards to encourage regularity in attendance, and application to study on the part of the children, have His Honor's approval. The report of the state of the aided schools in Ungool is far from satisfactory, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Superintendent will give his attention to the subject of improving it. The liberality of the Maharajah of Dhenkanal, and of the Rajahs of Keonjhur and of Mohurbhunj in supporting the schools on their estates, continues to merit the approbation of Government.

9. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with much regret that the account given of the relations borne to their people by the Tributary Chiefs are not in all cases satisfactory. The settlement work in progress throughout the mehals, which, in reviewing the last report, the Lieutenant-Governor commended to the careful attention of the Superintendent, continues in certain estates to be a cause of irritation and disaffection. That these feelings have for the most part been allayed may, in a measure, be doubtless attributed to the manner in which the Superintendent has impressed moderation on the Chiefs. All his advice appears, however, to have been thrown away on the Rajah of Daspulla, who is reported, under pretence of providing funds for his marriage, and for his father's funeral, to have imposed a cess of upwards of Rs. 24,000, and to have actually collected Rs. 18,662 with unscrupulous severity. He is further reported to have been entirely in the hands of two or three menial servants, who were his agents in plundering the people, and in the commission of every sort of oppression. The proceedings taken by the Superintendent, when these facts were brought to his notice, were judicious, and have the approval of Government. He must now, however, communicate to the Rajah an intimation of the grave displeasure with which the Government regards his proceedings, and distinctly inform him that such conduct will not be tolerated in the future. A report should now be submitted on the measure of success which has attended the arrangements made by the Superintendent, and in case they have failed to have the desired effect, he should report what his recommendations are for the future management of the estate. A report should also at once be submitted on the condition of affairs in Runpore, an estate which the Superintendent did not visit on his tour, but from which serious complaints of oppression have reached him. The course of events in Nilgiri and Baramba also appear to require to be carefully observed, and should have the Superintendent's continued attention. The favorable testimony borne by him to the administration of the Rajahs of Nyagurh, Narsingpore, Autmullick, Autgurh, and Keonjhur, and of the Maharajah of Dhenkanal, has been noticed by the Lieutenant-Governor with pleasure.

10. The account given of the state of affairs in Ungool, Banke, and the Khond Mehals is generally satisfactory and creditable to the tehsildars employed in them. The thanks of Government are due to Mr. Ravenshaw for the careful and zealous manner in which he has supervised and administered the affairs of the Tributary Mehals under his charge, as well as to his subordinate officers, of whom favorable mention has been made in the report.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. L. MANGLES,

DONATION OF Rs 20,000 FROM KHAJEH AHSUNOLLAH, KHAN
BAHADOOR, FOR PROVIDING A SEPARATE FEMALE WARD IN THE MITFORD HOSPITAL AT DACCA.

Extract from Proceeding of a meeting of the Mitford Hospital Committee assembled on the 4th May 1875, at 6-30 A.M.

A SEPARATE ward capable of accommodating 20 female patients is much required, with a view to increasing the accommodation for male patients, which is now insufficient. A new building for this purpose would probably cost something like Rs. 20,000.

VIII. Resolved—That this much-needed requirement be kept in view, and that its importance be laid before the public and the Government, with the object, if possible, of raising the required sum.

Dated Dacca, the 24th May 1875.

From—KHAJEH AHSUNOLLAH, KHAN BAHADOOR,

To—D. B. SMITH, Esq., M.D., Secretary to the Mitford Hospital Committee.

In the proceedings of the last meeting of the Mitford Hospital Committee, which was sent round to us for our signatures, I remember reading, amongst several other things, the following also:—That a sum of Rs. 20,000 is urgently required for building a female ward in the hospital compound in order to give the female patients a better accommodation in future. Referring to this, I now beg to inform you that in gratitude of the fresh honors and distinctions which are recently conferred upon my respected father and my humble self, and also in honor of the anniversary of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen's birth-day, I wish to place the sum of Rs. 20,000 at the disposal of the Committee for the purpose of building a separate female ward in the compound of the Mitford Hospital.

Will you therefore be so kind as to place this matter before our worthy President and the members of the Hospital Committee on an early date, and acquaint me speedily with their decision on the subject. By doing this you will highly oblige.

Dated Dacca, the 24th May 1875.

From—D. B. SMITH, Esq., M.D., Officiating Superintendent and Secretary, Mitford Hospital Committee,

To—KHAJEH AHSUNOLLAH, KHAN BAHADOOR.

I HAVE very much pleasure in acknowledging receipt of your letter of this day's date, in which you signify your intention to give a donation of Rs. 20,000 for the construction of a separate "female ward" in the enclosure of the Mitford Hospital, in consideration of the titles which have recently been conferred on your father and yourself by the Government, and in honor of this the anniversary of the birth-day of Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria.

I will at once communicate this pleasing information to the President and members of the Mitford Hospital Committee, who will no doubt duly convey to you their sense of the great munificence of such a charitable gift as you have now placed at their disposal.

As Superintendent of the institution, I can assure you that your princely donation will be most acceptable and useful; and it will enable us to establish a separate hospital (for the relief of female patients) which has for long been much required here.

The Government, which has lately been pleased to bestow on you and your father well-merited distinctions, will, I feel sure, be much gratified to hear of your present noble liberality, which comes with peculiar grace on this very auspicious day, a day eventful and happy for India as for England.

I would beg the favor of your being good enough to express to your father, the Nowab Abdool Gunny, C.S.I., the pleasure I feel in being the recipient of the most liberal gift which you and he have now made towards the Mitford Hospital,—a gift which affords a fresh proof (where none are wanting) of the intelligent and far-seeing interest which you are both known to take in the welfare of the poor of this great city.

Extract from a letter from the Officiating Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Judicial Department, to the Officiating Commissioner of Dacca,—(No. 2424, dated Calcutta, the 7th August 1875.)

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 358L, dated the 23rd June last, with its annexures, relative to the affairs of the Mitford Hospital at Dacca, and to the offer made by Khajeh Ahsanoollah, Khan Bahadoor, to place the sum of Rs. 20,000 at the disposal of the Hospital Committee for the purpose of providing a separate female ward in the above institution.

2. In reply I am to request that you will be good enough to convey to Khajeh Ahsanoollah an expression of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor's warmest thanks for his great liberality in having made such a munificent donation for the purpose indicated above, which will be of material help in supplying a great want felt in the Mitford Hospital.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 7th August 1875.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.
Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIV.	1 Burdwan, Aug. 9,* '75	2.93	Rainfall at Jehanabad 4.39, Raneeggunge 6.13, Culna 4.74, Bood-bood 3.47. Heavy rain has fallen in all parts of the district, and the prospects of the crops are now very promising. General health fair.
	2 Bankoora, " 7, "	4.63	Heavy showers throughout the week. The rainfall is now sufficient, and the prospects of the crops are so far very good.
	3 Beerbhoom, " 7, "	9.59	Weather very wet. State and prospects of crops continue good.
	4 Midnapore, " 7, "	4.49	The fall of rain has been heavy in the north of the district, that is, precisely where it was most needed. The week may be considered a very favorable one. On the whole the rain has been most opportune, and has been less in the south of the district, where it had previously been heaviest. The low lying lands in this district must always be inundated, unless the rainfall is unduly scanty, and these will suffer this year; but as a whole, the early and late rice crops both promise very well.
	5 Hooghly, " 7, "	7.68	Very wet weather from 1st August; wind southerly the whole week. Rainfall at Chinsurah 4.99, Bansberiah 5.27, Dhunakhally 5.54, Bullagore 4.16, Serampore 4.07, Chunditollah, 4.73, Huripal 4.70, Pandooah 3.31, and Kristonagore 3.68 inches. The rain of the week is enabling the late rice to be planted out, which could not be done before, for want of rain, and will prevent apprehended damage of the early rice. Ploughs at work all over the country to prepare the land for transplanting. Tanks still far below normal level. General health fair. A little small-pox and cholera.
PRESIDENCY DIV.	Howrah, " 7, "	4.15	Weather was very wet: very favorable to the crops, which have rarely had such good prospects as they have now.
	Central Districts.
	6 24-Pergunnahs, Aug. 9,† '75	2.84	Weather moist and warm. Prospects of early rice and jute are very promising. Transplantation of the late rice well advanced. Fever increasing at Barripore.
	7 Nuddea, " 7, "	4.07	Occasional rain everywhere. The prospects of both early and late rice are much improved. In several parts of the district the early harvest has commenced. There is some apprehension of floods, and the Collector has heard that harm has already been done in Choodanga. Indigo manufacture is nearly over.
	8 Jessore, " 7, "	9.87	Weather cloudy and showery, with constant heavy rain for two or three days. The excessive rain has done injury to the beet rice, which has been again submerged in some places, and has also injured the indigo produce. On the other hand it has done good to the rice crops on the higher lands, but a little dry weather would be now generally beneficial, and would specially suit the harvesting of the early rice, and the indigo manufacturing.
RAJSHAHYE DIV.	9 Moorshedabad, " 7, "	Rainfall return not received.	Very heavy rain has fallen; sky cloudy, more rain probable. Rainfall at Rampore hat 6.83, Jungipore 3.47, Lallbaug 7.29 inches. Early sowings of early rice being cut; late sowings in flower. Cultivators hope to reap an average crop if the country is saved from inundation. Indigo yielded a good outturn. Sugarcane and mulberry are favorably reported. Hemanto , or late rice plants, appear to be promising. A slight rise in prices.
	10 Dinagepore, " 6, "	4.49	Rainfall according to Magistrate's rain gauge 5.50 inches. More or less rain daily: some very heavy showers. Early bhadoi , or early rice, spoilt; late bhadoi will be from 8 to 10 annas. Unusually large a rea under cultivation. Cutting begun. Hemanto , or late rice, being fast transplanted; jute fair. Cutting begun. Sugarcane good.
	11 Muldah, " 7, "	9.50	Ample and continued rain throughout the district during the first half of the week; cloudy and rainy during the last half. Reaping of the early sown autumn rice is going on, and there are fair accounts of the crop. Prospects of the later autumn rice are satisfactory. The rain has done great good to the rice crops, though a loss of from 4 to 6 annas in the bhadoi from the previous dry weather is reported from some thanas. The late rice is being transplanted. There has been some cattle disease in the north of the district.
	12 Rajshahye, " 7, "	6.93	There has been heavy rain in all parts of the district during the week, and the sky was very cloudy at the time of report. The rain has greatly benefited the rice crops, which are looking well. The aus , or early rice, and kauas millet crops are now being harvested in parts of the district. Jute is being cut.

* Telegram of the 9th August, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

† Report of the 9th August, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

HAJSHAHY DIVN.—(Contd.)	13 Rungpore, Aug. 6, '75	7.94	Heavy rain all the week; the weather was clearing at the time of the report. Transplantation of the amun , or late rice, is progressing rapidly all over the district, and reports are in every way favorable.
	14 Bogra, „ 4, „	6.71	Ample fall of rain. Reaping of the aus , or early rice crop, continues. The prospects of the amun , or late rice crop, are favorable, and transplanting has been commenced. (Report of the second half of the week not received.)
	15 Pubna, „ 7, „	8.47	Seasonable weather; south-east winds prevailing. Rainfall at Serajgunge 8.52 inches. The rivers have risen with extraordinary rapidity. The aus , or early rice, which was sown in low lands, will be damaged here and there, but the inundation has at present been beneficial to the amun , or late rice crops. Fever is still common in Pubna. A sudden outbreak of small-pox occurred in a village ten miles north-east of Pubna; four persons were attacked, one died, and the disease disappeared.
COOCH BEHAR DIVN.	16 Darjeeling, „ 6, „	12.88	Incessant rain almost every day throughout the week. In the hills Indian-corn and bhadoi , or early rice, is ripening; all the other minor crops are progressing favorably. In the plains rain has fallen since last report. The bhadoi rice looks favorable. The transplantation of the late rice plants is going on.
	17 Julpigoree, „ 7, „	14.41	There was excessive rain on Sunday, and no sunshine till Friday. The rain is favorable for planting the winter rice crop, now in progress. The bhadoi , or early rice crop, is being harvested. It is not a full crop, having suffered from want of rain in the middle of July.
	Cooch Behar, „ 5, „	14.94	The weather has been cool. There have been also some heavy showers of rain during nearly every day of the week. The heavy rains of the week have very much improved the prospects of the late rice; the people will now be able to finish transplanting. The prospects of the jute crop continue favorable.
Eastern Districts.
DACCRA DIVN.	18 Dacca, Aug. 9, '75	6.80	Heavy rain in the beginning of the week; since then fine weather, with showers. State of crops is good. Rivers rising, but not excessively.
	19 Furreedpore, „ 7, „	8.59	Weather rainy and cloudy during the first part of the week, but cleared up gradually towards its close. The inundation is rapidly increasing. The crops are doing well. General health is good.
	20 Backergunge, „ 5, „	11.60	The weather has been stormy. There have been deluges of rain and violent gales. The Collector thinks that no irremediable harm has been done to the young crops, and that the general prospects of the district may be still with accuracy described as favorable. However, it is said that in four thanas, including the whole sub-division of Dakshin Shabazpore, the prospects of the crops are not good, and from the police station of Dowlatkhan it is said that the present state of the crops is very bad. More particulars have been called for. The Collector does not believe that even in this thana irreparable injury has been inflicted on the young crops. The general health of the people is remarkably good, and the sick rate even in the notoriously unhealthy jail is not quite 4 per cent of its inmates. It is doubtful how long this will continue.
CHITTAGONG DIVN.	21 Mymensingh, „ 6, „	7.91	Clouds and rain all the week throughout the district. The rainfall at Kishengunge is recorded at 15.66 inches. State and prospects of the crops are generally favorable, but the rise of the rivers again has been very rapid, and the rice crop in places is submerged.
	22 Tipperah, „ 6, „	17.62	Heavy rain without intermission till Thursday, when a break occurred; weather very stormy. The heavy rainfall has caused floods which have done much damage to the crops in many places in the Sudder and Burkumta and Jugannathdighi and Laksham thanas; the whole country is under water for miles, the crops being all submerged. No loss of life has been reported, but houses, cattle, and property have been destroyed.
	23 Chittagong, „ 5, „	35.87	A perfect deluge of rain from midday on Thursday last, 29th ultimo, to the morning of Wednesday, the 4th instant. Since then there have only been showers. Heaviest fall on Monday 8.38 inches. On some days a very high wind accompanied the rain. The country is a sheet of water, embanked roads being in many places a foot under water. In the low lands and near the rivers many dwellings, and even almost entire villages, have been destroyed; cattle have been driven into the higher lands; people have flocked to the villages most favorably situated. Some slight loss of life reported, but no detailed report received as yet. Roads breached and bridges carried away in all directions. Great apprehension as to crops. Roads and bunds being cut to let out accumulated water. In the station some land slips have occurred, and some fine trees have disappeared. Much of the bazar has been under water. The rainfall exceeds anything ever known in this district, more than one-third of the average annual rainfall having taken place in one week. No information from Cox's Bazar

CHITTAGONG DIVN.—(Contd.)	25 Chittagong Hill Tracts	Return not receipt.
	Hill Tipperah, Aug. 4, '75	21.71	Heavy rain set in on the 30th July, and continued almost without intermission till the evening of the 1st August; since then there has been frequent rain, and the weather still continues stormy and unsettled. The rainfall was not registered between 10 A.M. on the 1st and 7.30 A.M. on the 2nd, as at the former hour the river Howrah burst into the agency compound, and the rain gauge had to be brought within the house to save it from being swept away. Agurtollah and the low lands of the valley within which the town is situated were inundated on the night of the 30th ultimo by the overflowing of the Howrah river. The inundation began generally to abate yesterday (3rd instant), but a large proportion of the cultivated lands are still submerged. It is feared that great injury will ensue to the aous and amun rice crops, but on this point no reliable information has yet been furnished, and cannot be obtained for some days, or until the inundation further subsides. Common rice selling to-day at 14 seers per rupee.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVN.	26 Patna, „ 9,* „	6.0	Heavy rain throughout the district. River risen. Crops on low lands somewhat injured. Health generally good. Slight cholera.
	27* Gya, „ 7, „	.84	Weather cloudy and stormy, with rain. Most rain in Jehanabad sub-division, where 7.15 inches is reported. It was required in that part of the district, and has come seasonably. Prospects of all crops favorably reported on. Cholera still prevalent in some parts of the Aurungabad sub-division.
	28 Shahabad, „ 7, „	8.88	Very favorable weather; all that could be desired. Rivers in flood; may cause certain damage to standing crops, but to no serious extent.
	29 Durbhunga, „ 7, „	9.41	Heavy rain every day up to Friday. The prospects of the aghani , or late crops, are greatly improved. Transplantation is going on rapidly, and if the weather continue favorable, a good outturn may still be expected. The damage to the bhadoi , or early crops, from drought was confined to a small tract to the east, but in the south the crops on the dearah lands have been much injured by the rising of the Ganges.
	30 Mozufferpore, „ 7, „	3.40	Weather hot and cloudy. In Seetamurhee sub-division the bhadoi , or early crops, have been greatly benefited by the heavy rain that has fallen. The dhan , or rice, is now being transplanted everywhere. The seedlings have in some parts grown too large to yield a full crop after transplanting, but with a continuance of favorable weather there may be an average crop. The rainfall has been, during the week, 6.01 inches. In Hijipore the crops generally are doing well, but on the Dearah much damage has been caused by the inundation, which is now within a foot of last year's flood. The rainfall has been during the week 3.84 inches. In Sudder sub-division the late rain has been beneficial to the bhadoi crops, and transplantation of rice is proceeding satisfactorily.
	31 Sarun, „ 7, „	4.19	Rainfall at Sewan 4.85 inches; weather partly clear and partly cloudy, with rain at intervals; east wind prevailing. The rainfall of the week has done considerable good. Bhadoi crops look flourishing everywhere; transplanting of rice going on. Green cobs of Indian-corn are being sold. It is reported that in the Dighwana thana bhadoi crops to the extent of twelve annas have been destroyed owing to the rise of the rivers Ganges, Gogra, and Soane. The waters are now falling. General health good.
BHAGULPORE DIVN.	32 Chumparun, „ 6, „	8.30	Weather nice and cool. The heavy showers that fell this week have benefited the bhadoi crops largely, and transplantation of seedlings has commenced everywhere. The season is very favorable for the growth of all kinds of crops.
	33 Monghyr, „ 7, „	6.53	Rainy weather. There has been ample rain all over the district during the week, and the country, subject to the spill of the Ganges, is now inundated, but the flood has not yet gone quite so high as the Collector noticed it last year. The greater portion of the bhadoi crop not yet harvested (about two annas has been harvested) has been damaged or destroyed in the inundated country. The ryots sow bhadoi crops there more as a speculation than with hopes of gathering it all, or even a considerable portion of it, before the flood comes. The rice and indigo prospects continue good, and the flood is good for the future rubbee crops.
	34 Bhagulpore, „ 9,* „	4.57	Heavy rain throughout the district, except in the north-east corner. All crops are exceedingly good, and prospects are very bright. Indigo outturn is said to be larger than usual. General health is very good.
	35 Purneah, „ 7, „	6.22	Stormy weather. Heavy rain in the early part of the week. The late heavy rain has done immense good, but more is said to be wanted in the north-west of the district.
	36 Sonthal Pergas „ 7, „	7.44	Deoghur and Godda returns not received. The wettest week this year in Doonka and Rajmehal. State and prospects of the crops are very good about Doonka.

* Telegrams of the 9th August, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

No.	District and date of return.		Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVISION	37	Cuttack, July 31, '75	11.13	Continuous heavy rain; rivers very high; and crops in many places under water. No harm has been done as yet, and the early rice crop is too far advanced to be in much danger. Cholera still prevalent in places, but not severe.
	38	Pooree. Aug. 5, "	39	Cloudy and drizzling rain at times. Rainfall at Khoordah 1.98. The floods still continue, though a little subsided. Transplantation and weeding operations are going on on high lands; the crops on low lands are still submerged in the flood water. The prospects of the early and late rice are yet fair. Miscellaneous crops are generally doing well.
	39	Balasore, " 6, "	1.16	Mild, showery weather, precisely the same as last week, and very favorable for agriculture. All crops promise well. The number of cholera cases has somewhat diminished.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Aug. 6, '75	2.08	Seasonable weather; more or less rain every day. The goondli and makai have been a good deal injured, the latter very much so. Murwa kept back by constant rain, but may recover. Prospects of early and late rice crops are good. A few cases of cholera reported.
41	Lohardugga, " 7, "	2.48	Rain on every day. Rice prospects are very good, but the goondli and murwa millets and Indian-corn have been a good deal damaged by the continued rain. Cholera still prevalent in Palamow; small-pox decreasing.
42	Singbhoon, " 6, "	2.65	Seasonable weather. State and prospects of the crops are very favorable. Cholera ceased.
43	Mandbhoon, " 7, "	5.33	Favorable weather. From all parts of the district the reports are encouraging. Rain has fallen in the south-eastern Pergunnahs, referred to in last weekly report, and cultivation is well in hand. Indian-corn, which is now ripe, has doubtless suffered where planted in low lands, owing to inattention to the matter of draining.

CALCUTTA,
The 7th August 1875

W. G. WILLSON,
Offg. Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTE ON THE RAINFALL OF 1875, FROM THE 1st OF JANUARY TO THE 31st JULY.

The first month of the year was wetter than usual, and considerably more than the average quantity of rain fell generally throughout the Lower Provinces. February, on the other hand, was unusually dry everywhere, and so also was March, except in Assam, where the rainfall of the latter month was considerably above average, and abnormally heavy in Sylhet, Cachar, and the north-east of the valley.

During the first six days of April there was heavy and tolerably general rain all over Bengal Proper. There followed a rainless interval, up to the 23rd, of the hottest weather of the year. During the remainder of the month showers more or less general were frequent, and there was very heavy rainfall at some places on the 26th and 27th. Notwithstanding the long break of dry weather in the middle of the month, the total quantity of rain which fell was generally above average in the Lower Provinces. It was somewhat deficient, however, in some of the northern and eastern districts of Bengal, and in parts of Orissa and Chota Nagpore. In Assam the April rains were generally very copious, and especially so in Sylhet, Cachar, Sebsagur, and Luckhimpore.

The rainfall during the first half of the month of May was unusually plentiful in Bengal. In the second half it was not so heavy, but there was no considerable break in the showery weather, which continued from about the 22nd of April up to the setting in of the regular rains in June. The total rainfall for the month of May was considerably above average in the Lower Provinces, except in the northern and eastern districts of Bengal, where the distribution was irregular; and in Assam, where the rainfall was scanty, except in Cachar and at some of the hill stations.

The rainy season set in about the 5th of June in Central and Eastern Bengal. In the western districts, in Orissa and Chota Nagpore there was but little rain up to the 11th. From the 11th to the 13th there were also some general falls in Behar. But it was not until about the 17th in Orissa and Chota Nagpore, and about the 21st in Behar, that the rains became heavy and continuous. In the western districts of Bengal the June rainfall was, with a few remarkable exceptions (Cutwa and Soory), slightly below average. In the central districts south of the Ganges, in Maldah, and in the eastern districts, it was much above average, especially so in Moorsshedabad, Nuddea, Jessore, and the Chittagong division. In the northern districts—Dinagpore, Rungpore, and Cooch Behar—the rain which fell was much less than the normal quantity for the month; and this area of scanty precipitation extended into Behar and included the districts of Purneah and Bhagulpore. In the Tirhoot district the June rainfall was very irregularly distributed. Thus, while 22·12 inches was recorded at Hajeeepore, only 3·37 inches fell at Seetamarhee. Elsewhere in Behar the rainfall was plentiful, and very heavy in the districts of Patna, Gya, and the Sonthal Pergunnahs. In Chota Nagpore the June rainfall was considerably above the normal quantity; such was also generally the case in Orissa, where, however, the distribution was more irregular. In Assam the rainfall in Sylhet and Cachar again became excessively heavy, and all over the province the quantity which fell much exceeded the average. At Jowai 119·8 inches were registered,—nearly three times the average June rainfall of the last six years at this station.

For some distance inland round the northern shores of the Bay of Bengal, throughout Orissa, parts of Midnapore, the 24-Pergunnahs, parts of Jessore and the Chittagong Division, the July rainfall has been above average, and very heavy near the sea. It has also been above average in Chota Nagpore and in the district of Monghyr, in Behar. Throughout the remainder of the area comprising the Lieutenant-Governorship of Bengal the July rains have been below average in quantity, and very scanty in the Rajshahye and Cooch Behar divisions of Bengal and in the greater part of Behar. At Azimgunge, in Moorsshedabad, only 2·52 inches of rain fell in the month. At Dinagpore, where the normal rainfall of July is 16 inches, 3·9 inches was registered during the whole month; and the only fall between the 3rd and the 24th was 0·13 inches on the 6th. At Seetamarhee, in Tirhoot, rain fell on only four days between the 3rd and 29th, measuring one inch and one-tenth. The total fall during the month was 3·99. The scantiness of the July rainfall in Bengal and Behar up to about the 25th of the month, was probably owing to the abnormally low atmospheric pressure which prevailed round the northern shores of the Bay during the same period, and which retarded, or altogether turned back for the time, the vapour-bearing currents from their inland courses. To the same intensified cause was due the cyclonic gale which passed over the mouth of the Hooghly on the 14th and 15th, and round the region of low pressure the rainfall was abnormally heavy. Towards the end of the month the pressure rose rapidly in the Bay and fell in Bengal. As a consequence, the monsoon current returned to its normal course, and was drawn inland with great vigour. Very heavy rainfall in Northern Bengal, in Behar, and the North-Western Provinces has been the result.

In the subjoined table the rainfall in July 1875, and the total rainfall of the year from the 1st of January to the 31st of July, are compared with the normal rainfall for the same periods. The mean of all returns received from each district is taken as the average rainfall of the district.

The dew point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

 The Rig-Veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class-books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholarlike knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammars, and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country.—Extract from Preface.

(b) it is exported under the said Act No. VI of 1873, section seven; or

(c) such export is permitted under the power next hereinafter conferred:

The Governor General in Council may, from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India,

(d) permit the export of opium from any part of British India on payment of such duty, or on such other terms as the Governor General in Council thinks fit; and

(e) cancel such permission.

10. Duties of customs shall be levied on goods passing by land into or out of Foreign European Settlements situate on the line of coast within the limits of the Presidency of Fort Saint George or the Presidency of Bombay at the rates prescribed in the Schedules A and B hereto annexed.

11. And whereas it is expedient that the duty of excise on spirit distilled in British India should bear a due proportion to the customs duty on spirit imported into British India, it is hereby further enacted as follows:—

Subject to any general rules or special orders which the Governor General in Council may from time to time make in this behalf, the Local Government may from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, fix the duty of excise leviable on spirit manufactured in all or any of the distilleries situate in the territories under its administration, or in any part of such territories, at any rate not exceeding the rate fixed for imported spirit by Schedule A hereto annexed; and all provisions now in force as to the levy of duty now chargeable on spirit shall apply to spirit upon which the duty declared under this section has not been paid.

12. And whereas it is expedient to amend the Consolidated Customs Act in manner hereinafter appearing, it is hereby further enacted as follows:—

Section twenty-seven of the Consolidated Customs Act shall be construed as if for the words “for which a specific value has not been fixed by the Local Government with the sanction of the Governor General of India in Council,” the following words and figures were substituted, (namely) “for which a specific value is not fixed by or under the Indian Tariff Act, 1875;”

And the following proviso shall be added to section fifty-seven of the same Act, (namely) “Provided also that where such goods are arms, ammunition, or military stores, they may be sold or otherwise disposed of at such place (whether within or without British India) and in such manner as the Local Government may from time to time direct;”

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[First Publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 5th August 1875, and was referred to a Select Committee with instructions to make their report thereon in six weeks.

No. 6 of 1875.

A Bill for the Improvement of Law Reports.

Whereas it is expedient to diminish the multitude and expense of the law reports published in British India, and to improve their quality: And whereas with a view to furthering these objects, the Governor-General in Council proposes to authorize the publication of reports of cases decided by the High Courts of Judicature established under the 24th & 25th of Victoria, Chapter 104, to be called the Indian Authorized Law Reports; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title
Act, 1875.

1. This Act may be called
The Indian Law Reports

Local extent

It extends to the whole of British India;

And it shall come into force on such day as the Governor-General in Council notifies in this behalf in the Commencement.

Gazette of India.

2. Act No II of 1875 (to diminish the multitude and improve the quality of Law Reports, and to extend the area of their authority) is hereby repealed.

3. No Court shall be bound to hear cited, or shall receive or treat as an authority binding on it, the report of any case decided by any of the said High Courts on or after the said day, other than a report published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council

4. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to give to any judicial decision any further or other authority than it would have had if this Act had not been passed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The second section of the Indian Law Reports Act (II of 1875) declares that every judgment of any High Court established under 24 and 25 Vic., c. 104 shall, if reported in the authorized reports, have the same authority in all subordinate Courts beyond the limits of its appellate jurisdiction as, independently of the Act, such judgment would have within such limits.

The Secretary of State for India objects to this provision, and suggests that Act II of 1875 should be repealed and re-enacted with the omission of the second section.

The present Bill has been prepared to give effect to this suggestion.

I.—Preliminary.

Short title. 1. This Act may be called "The Reformatory Schools Act, 1875":

Local extent. It extends to the whole of British India.

Commencement. And it shall come into force at once.

Interpretation-clause. 2. In this Act—

"Youthful offender." "Youthful offenders" means

(a) any boy who being at the time under the age of fourteen years, has been convicted of any offence punishable under the Indian Penal Code with imprisonment or transportation;

(b) any boy sent to a Reformatory School under this Act.

"Reformatory School" means a school primarily intended for male youthful offenders, and includes a school in which industrial training is provided, and in which boys are lodged, clothed, and fed, as well as taught.

"Inspector-General" includes any officer appointed by the Local Government to perform all or any of the duties imposed by this Act on the Inspector-General of Jails.

"Magistrate" means in the towns of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, a Magistrate of Police, and elsewhere a Magistrate of the first class.

II.—Reformatory Schools.

3. With the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the Local Government may—

(a) establish Reformatory Schools at such places as it thinks fit,

(b) use as Reformatory Schools, schools kept by persons willing to obey such rules consistent with this Act as the Local Government may from time to time prescribe in this behalf,

(c) direct that any school so established or used shall cease to exist as a Reformatory School or to be used as such.

4. Every school so established or used must provide—

(a) separate beds for each boy detained therein;

(b) proper sanitary arrangements, water-supply, food, clothing, and bedding for such boys;

(c) the means of giving such boys industrial training;

(d) an infirmary or proper place for the reception of such boys when sick.

5. Every reformatory school shall, before being used as such, be inspected by the Inspector-General of Jails, and if in his opinion such school is fitted for the reception of such youthful offenders as may be sent there under this Act, he shall certify to that effect, and such certificate shall be published in the local official Gazette, and the school shall thereupon be deemed a Reformatory School.

Every such school shall from time to time, and at least once in every year, be visited by the said Inspector-General, who shall send to the Local Government a report on the condition of the school in such form as the Local Government may from time to time prescribe.

6. Whenever any boy who, in the judgment of the Court before which he is charged, is under the age of fourteen years, is convicted of an offence punishable under the Indian Penal Code with transportation or imprisonment, the Court may, in lieu of sentencing him to transportation or imprisonment, direct him to be sent to a Reformatory School, and to be there detained for a period of not less than two years and not more than seven years.

7. Whenever any boy under the age of twelve years has been or shall be sentenced to imprisonment, the officer in charge of the Jail in which such person is confined may, with the sanction of the Local Government, bring him before the Magistrate within whose jurisdiction such Jail is situate, and the Magistrate, if he thinks fit, may direct him to be sent to a Reformatory School, and to be there detained for a period of not less than two and not more than seven years.

8. Whenever it appears to a Magistrate from evidence adduced before him that any boy under the age of fourteen years—

- (a) frequents the company of reputed robbers, house-breakers, thieves, public gamblers, or vagrants, or
- (b) is without any ostensible means of subsistence, such Magistrate may direct him to be sent to a Reformatory School and to be there detained for a period of not less than two years and not more than seven years.

9. Nothing contained in sections six, seven and eight shall be deemed to authorize the detention in a Reformatory School of any person above the age of sixteen years.

12. The parent or other person legally liable to maintain any youthful offender detained in a Reformatory School, shall, if of sufficient ability, contribute to his support and maintenance therein a sum not exceeding five rupees per month.

On the complaint of the said Inspector-General, or of any police officer under his directions (with which directions the police officer is hereby required to comply) at any time during the continuance of the offender in the school, any Magistrate having jurisdiction at the place where the person liable as aforesaid resides, may, on summons to such person, examine into his ability, and may, if the Magistrate thinks fit, make an order on him for payment to the said Inspector-General of such monthly sum not exceeding five rupees per month as to the Magistrate seems reasonable during the whole or any part of the period for which the offender is liable to be detained in the school.

Every such order may specify the time during which the payment is to be made, or may be until further order.

Every such payment shall be accounted for as the Local Government directs.

The license shall be in force for three months and no longer, but may at any time before the expiration of the period for which the offender has been directed to be detained, be renewed from time to time for three months.

17. The license shall be cancelled at the desire of the employer named in the license; and if it appears to the Board of Management that any complaint made by the employer of misconduct on the part of the youthful offender is just, no other license in respect of the same offender shall be given until twelve months after the expiration of the former license.

23. Whoever abets an escape, or an attempt to escape, on the part of a youthful offender from a Reformatory School, or from the employer of such offender, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, or with both.

24. A Police Officer may, without orders from a Magistrate, and without a warrant, arrest any youthful offender sent to a Reformatory School under section six, seven, or eight, who has escaped from such school, or from his employer, and take him back to such school or to his employer.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to establish in British India institutions which, so far as regards males, may serve the combined purposes of the Reformatory Schools and the Industrial Schools so successfully carried on in England under 29 & 30 Vic., cc. 117, 118.

The peculiar circumstances of India render it inexpedient to bring girls within the scope of the Bill.

With the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, Local Governments are empowered to establish Reformatory Schools (which are defined so as to include schools in which industrial training is provided), or to use as Reformatory Schools, schools kept by persons willing to obey such rules as Government may prescribe.

Provision is made that these schools shall be furnished with the proper requisites and periodically inspected.

Three classes of boys may be sent to Reformatory Schools;

- (a) boys under 14 convicted of offences punishable with transportation or imprisonment, but not sentenced;
- (b) boys under 12 sentenced to imprisonment; and
- (c) boys under 14 who associate with thieves, vagrants, &c., or are without visible means of subsistence.

The minimum time for which a boy will be sent to a Reformatory School is two years, the maximum seven years. But no boy will be detained after he attains the age of 16.

As to the expenses of these schools, Municipalities are empowered, with the sanction of the Local Government, to apply municipal funds to establish or maintain Reformatory Schools, and Magistrates of the first class are empowered to order the parents of youthful offenders to contribute a moderate monthly sum to their support.

The Bill contains provisions as to the Boards which are to control and manage the schools. Two at least of these managers will always be Natives of India. The Board will have power to license youthful offenders to employers of labour; to cancel such licenses at the employer's request; to apprentice youthful offenders; and to make subsidiary rules.

Lastly, the Bill contains some clauses as to offences in relation to Reformatory Schools.

SURVEY AND DEMARCATION OF LAND.

The Hon'ble MR. DAMPIER moved that the Bill to provide for the survey and demarcation of land be further considered in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill.

The motion was agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said, at the last meeting certain amendments which he proposed to introduce after Section 10, and which were then marked Sections 10a, 10b, and 10c, were reserved for further consideration. Having reconsidered those sections, and having considered the criticisms then made, he had redrafted the sections, and they were now numbered 11, 12, and 13. Notice of this amendment was given, and he had now to propose that the sections which were circulated as proposed amendments do stand as Sections 11, 12, and 13 of the Bill in lieu of those which now bear the same numbers in the printed Bill. The sections were as follows :—

"11. When the demarcation of a village or other convenient tract has been completed, the Ameen or other Survey Officer shall, before sending in to the Collector the maps and papers relating thereto, by a general notice in which the names of all persons required to appear shall be specified, and which shall be posted up at a convenient place in the village or tract, call upon all persons who have pointed out any boundaries in such village or tract on behalf of those interested to attend before him within three days of the publication of the said notice for the purpose of inspecting the maps, field-books, and similar papers in which any boundary pointed out by any such person has been represented, and by signing such maps and papers to certify that the boundaries have been laid down in accordance with the boundaries pointed out by them; and every person so called upon shall be legally bound to attend before such, Ameen or Survey Officer, and to inspect the papers, in accordance with such requisition.

Any person so called upon who may object to sign the maps and papers as aforesaid shall be required to state his objections in writing, and such statement shall be attached to the record of the demarcation of the village or tract, and shall be submitted to the Collector together with the maps and papers.

The signature affixed to any maps or papers under this section shall be in attestation of the fact that the boundaries thereon represented, or any of them, have been represented in accordance with those pointed out by the person signing; and the affixing of such signature shall not be held to prejudice the right of any person interested to make any objection to such boundaries on any other ground before the Collector under the next succeeding section."

"12. On receipt in the Collector's Office of the maps or papers showing any boundaries which have been demarcated, the Collector shall cause a notification to be posted in his Office, and in such other places as he may think proper, informing all persons concerned that the maps and papers relating to the boundaries in the village or tract specified are open to inspection; and requiring any person who may have any objections to prefer, to prefer such objections within six weeks of the date of the posting of such notification, after which time the Collector will proceed finally to confirm the boundaries as laid down for the purposes of the survey.

Whenever the Collector shall have reason to believe (either from the failure of any person interested or his representatives to sign the maps and papers on the spot when required by the Survey Officer to do so under the last preceding section, or for any other reason), that any zemindar or person interested is likely to object to any boundary as laid down, or as represented in the said papers, the Collector shall cause a special notice requiring such zemindar or other person to attend personally or by duly authorized agent before him, or before any person authorized by the Collector in that behalf, within a specified time, which shall not be less than one month after the service of the notice, for the purpose of signing and thereby admitting the correctness of any maps or other papers which have been prepared under this Act in respect of any boundary in which such zemindar or other person is interested, or of stating in writing the substance of any objection which he may wish to prefer against the correctness of such maps or papers; and if any person so summoned shall fail to attend and to sign the said maps or papers, or to give in a written statement of his objections within the time prescribed, the Collector may proceed finally to confirm the boundaries as represented in such maps and papers, for the purposes of the survey and of this Act.

Provided that if within the time specified any such duly authorized agent deposits with the Collector the necessary expenses of making copies of the said maps or papers, the Collector shall order such copies to be prepared; and as soon as they are prepared, shall cause a notice to that effect to be posted at his Office; and the said agent shall be allowed such time as may be specified in such notice, not being less than fifteen days from the posting thereof, for the purpose of signing or of giving in a written statement of objections.

When a written statement of objections has been given in, as in this section provided, the Collector, after holding any further inquiry which he may deem necessary, shall pass such order in respect of such objections as to him shall seem fit; and if the objections shall seem to him not to be well founded, shall direct that all expenses of such further inquiry, and all expenses entailed on any other person by such inquiry, shall be recovered from the person who made the objection."

"13. Whenever any person having failed to sign the maps and papers, or to give in his objections in writing within the time prescribed by the notification or by the special notice mentioned in the last preceding section, shall, at any time before the Collector has finally confirmed the boundaries for the purposes of the survey, prefer any subsequent objection against the correctness of any maps or papers in respect of which such notification or notice was issued, the Collector shall require him to deposit the estimated costs of any further inquiry which it may be necessary to make in respect of his objection; and if the said person shall fail to deposit such costs within the time specified by the Collector, he shall be deemed for all purposes of this Act to have admitted the correctness of the said maps and papers. If the costs of any inquiry which may be deemed necessary be deposited, the Collector shall make such further inquiry at the expense of the person so objecting; and if the objection shall seem to the Collector not to be well founded, he may pass such order as he shall think fit in respect of the recovery from the objector of any sum expended by the Collector on the inquiry in excess of the sum deposited, and of any necessary expenses incurred by any other persons on account of such inquiry.

Provided that no person so making an objection after the prescribed time shall under any circumstances be entitled to recover the expenses which he is required to deposit before any further inquiry is made in respect of such subsequent objection."

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL said, as the sections proposed by his hon'ble friend at the last meeting were postponed at his instance, he had much pleasure in saying that he accepted the amendments now proposed.

The motion was agreed to.

In the postponed Section 2, the following amendments were made on the motion of the HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER:—

(1.) The interpretation of "Collector" was altered so as to provide that "Collector" meant every Collector of a district, and included every officer either generally or specially vested with the powers of a Collector under the Act.

(2.) The definition of "tenure" was amended so as to include "Ghatwáli holdings."

The preamble and title were agreed to, and the Bill was then passed.

AMENDMENT OF THE ABKAREE ACTS.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved that the Bill to amend Act XI of 1849, Act XXI of 1856, and Act XXIII of 1860, be further considered in order to the settlement of its clauses.

The motion was agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said that a few of the sections which were passed at the last meeting of the Council must engage their attention again. Sections 12 and 13 of the Bill, the tipping sections, referred to Calcutta, its suburbs, and Howrah only. As they now stood, they were in the general part of the Bill; but although they applied to the Suburbs and Howrah (which strictly speaking were mofussil), as well as to Calcutta, he thought on the whole—and that appeared to be the sense of the Council at the last meeting—that it would be better that the sections should be transposed so as to stand at the end of Part II, which contained the alterations in the Calcutta Abkaree Law.

The motion was agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved that the words "twenty-five, twenty-six" be inserted after "twenty" in line 3 of section 3, and that in page 3, line 21, the following sections be inserted after the words "Fort William:—"

"25. Any Abkaree Officer who shall delay carrying to the Collector, and any Police Officer who shall delay carrying to a Magistrate or Police, any person arrested, or any illicit articles seized under this Act; and any Abkaree or Police Officer who shall neglect to report the particulars of an arrest, seizure, or search, within twenty-four hours thereafter, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees."

"26. Any Abkaree or Police Officer who shall vexatiously and unnecessarily seize the goods or chattels of any person on the pretence of seizing or searching for illicit spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs, or who shall vexatiously and unnecessarily arrest any person, or commit any other excess, not required for the execution of his duty under this Act, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees."

The object of the amendment was simply to carry out the principle adopted elsewhere in the Bill of giving Police Officers the power which the existing law gave to Abkarce Officers. It was proposed to insert here two new sections amending Sections 25 and 26 of the old law, by merely putting in such words as were necessary to place Police Officers in the same category as Abkarce Officers with reference to the powers conferred by those two old sections of the law.

The motion was agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said he must explain the next amendment which stood in his name, and which referred to Act XXIII of 1860. That was a short Act of five sections, which was referred to in the Bill as it stood when introduced. His attention had recently been drawn to this Act, and he found that it afforded an illustration of the great necessity of codifying the Bengal Acts. Every section of the Act, with the exception of part of the first section, had been either superseded or expressly repealed by an Act of 1863; section three was superseded by a section of this Bill, section four was obsolete, and so on. The extant part of the first section was the law which empowered the Government to impose a duty on doasta, or country-made spirits, up to Rs. 3 a gallon; and it so happened that in the new Customs Tariff Act, which had just been passed by the Council of the Governor-General, there was a section which overrode that provision and made it obsolete. The new law recited that as it was desirable that country spirits should be taxed in some proportion to imported spirits, the Government was authorized to impose such tax as it thought proper, not exceeding the duty on imported spirits; and thus this Council were enabled to wipe out Act XXIII of 1860 altogether from the Statute Book, and accordingly an amendment was necessary in the present Bill.

On the motion of MR. DAMPIER verbal amendments were then made in Section 7 and the Schedule, with the object of repealing the unrepealed portion of Act XXIII of 1860.

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL said as he observed that public attention had been drawn to an amendment of which he had given notice, he thought it was desirable that he should take time to consider the amendment before bringing it forward. He would, with the permission of the President, postpone the consideration of his amendment until the next meeting of the Council.

The further consideration of the Bill was then postponed.

CALCUTTA MUNICIPALITY.

The HON'BLE THE PRESIDENT said that in the list of business the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to the municipal affairs of Calcutta was placed to be taken into consideration. However, applications had been made to the Council from the Justices of the Peace, the Trades' Association, and the British Indian Association, for the postponement of the Bill, and he had referred the matter to the Lieutenant-Governor. He therefore proposed to let the consideration of the Bill stand over until the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor were received upon the subject.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 21st instant.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE BURDWAN DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1874-75.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS.—No. 2465.

Calcutta, the 16th August 1875.

READ—

The Annual General Report of the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division for the year 1874-75, with its enclosures.

The submission of the Annual Administration Report for the Burdwan Division for the year 1873-74 was dispensed with on account of the pressure and increase of official business in connection with the recent scarcity; and although the Commissioner has not attempted, in this report, to supply all the information which might ordinarily have been furnished for the year 1873-74, he has necessarily, in great part, been obliged to refer to circumstances really connected with that year, rather than with the year 1874-75. Almost all the measures connected with scarcity and relief, for instance, may be traced back to events which occurred in the end of the year 1873. The Lieutenant-Governor has to thank Mr. Buckland for a full and interesting report on the administration of his division during the whole of the period of the past two years.

2. The remarks offered by the Commissioner on the inequality in size and in the strength of the controlling power of the districts which compose the Burdwan Division are under the Lieutenant-Governor's consideration, and a special correspondence on the subject is still pending. Sir Richard Temple is not desirous of effecting changes of jurisdictions of established districts which seem to be often unpopular with the inhabitants, unless the changes are supported by the strongest grounds; and he quite agrees that it is not at all necessary that all districts should be equalised either as to size or as to the extent of their population. Still it is desirable that an opportunity should be taken to diminish the jurisdiction of larger districts, and increase the jurisdiction of smaller districts, and there is some reason to believe that in the Burdwan Division the readjustment of jurisdictions would be acceptable to the people, as the changes, if any are made, would probably be in the direction of a return to limits to which the people have been accustomed for several generations. The discussion of these questions has been for a long time before Government, and it is to be hoped that they may soon find a final and satisfactory settlement.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor acknowledges the thorough manner in which the important duties of district officers during their cold-weather tour have been performed by the officers of the division. Such tours are of much practical importance. The Commissioner himself visited every part of his division; during eighteen months he visited each district not less than three times, while his visits to Burdwan during the year 1874-75 were very numerous, and were directed to some of the most unhealthy and inaccessible parts of the district.

4. The harvests of 1874 resulted, upon the whole, favorably. There was indeed much anxiety in Hooghly, and in some parts of Burdwan, as to the prospects of the rice crop even up to the end of September; but happily the rain fell heavily at almost the last moment at which it could be of use, and there was no serious failure of the crops, except in a small part of Hooghly, to the west of Serampore. The cyclone of the 15th October caused injury to the crops in Midnapore.

5. It is with great satisfaction that the Lieutenant-Governor is able to record the sensible improvement that developed itself in the general health of the people of the division during the year. The Commissioner writes—"The epidemic fever is gradually relaxing its hold on the district of Burdwan; and although the persons who have once had an attack of fever are always liable to relapses, and are more sensitive than others to the changes of the weather and the seasons, there have been very few, what are called, 'new cases' of the epidemic fever, and the people generally are recovering their normal healthy appearance throughout the district. This improvement in Burdwan has taken place without any corresponding increase of the epidemic fever in the adjacent districts of Bankoora and Beerbhoom, to which at one time it seemed disposed to extend. The only part of the country where the epidemic fever is still a serious cause of anxiety is the north-east side of Midnapore."

6. It is stated that the normal price of rice during an ordinary season in the western districts is about 20 seers for the rupee. It was only at a few places, and for a very short time during the worst part of the past year, that the price of ten seers for a rupee prevailed. The district officers in their reports have given clear and concise narratives of the operations undertaken to relieve distress, and the Commissioner has summarised, in a statistical form, the general results of these operations. Of the districts of the division, the distress was really most severe in Beerbhoom; distress was also felt in Burdwan, Hooghly, and Bankoora. Fortunately the district of Midnapore was entirely free from any suffering arising out of scarcity or failure of the crops, although, in consequence of the prevalence of the epidemic fever in the north-east part of the district, and the disastrous cyclone of October, the district did not escape altogether from distress of a serious character. The salient points in the history of the scarcity in this division are well described by Mr. Whinfield, the Magistrate of Burdwan, for his district. The price of rice never rose above ten seers per rupee even in the interior; rice was always procurable at the native hâts and bazaars; the rate of wages did not fall; the labor market was not materially disorganised; no grain riots occurred; and petty thefts did not much increase. The normal export of rice from such districts as export was more than doubled, and very few estates and putnee talooks were brought to sale. "These favorable results," observes the Magistrate, "were mainly due to the very liberal relief given, without which no doubt events would have been very different. Even as it was, the first three quarters of the year were a hard time for all classes. The statistics of the Registration Department and the stamp revenue show that well-to-do people were driven to borrow money to an unusual extent, and there was much suffering among the poorer classes. A calamity of this kind, coming at the back of six or seven years of epidemic fever, could hardly pass over without causing much suffering."

7. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to notice the decay of the manufacture of silk throughout this division, which is commented on by the Commissioner. The weavers who work in tusser-silk were among the first to complain of want and the pressure of high prices. The subject of the improvement of silk manufacture is now under enquiry; but the Lieutenant-Governor observes that in this report it is stated that, if the efforts of the weavers were properly directed and assisted, their produce would still find a considerable European market.

8. The Commissioner's remarks on trade and commerce do not furnish any additional information. It is again suggested that the position of Hooghly on the bank of the river, and the character of the river itself at that point, present a favorable situation for the establishment of a registry office for river-borne traffic. This proposal, when put forward a few years ago, was not accepted by Sir George Campbell, as the Government at that time was fully engaged with the newly established Sahebgunge registration, and it was not thought advisable to establish more than one office. The system has now been much extended in the direction of Eastern Bengal, and the Lieutenant-Governor will bear this proposal in mind while carrying out the other arrangements which are now being effected for the registration of inland traffic.

9. The views of the Commissioner, regarding the working of the excise system, are entirely in accord with those of the Board of Revenue and the Government which have recently been published. With regard to gunjah, it is now under consideration whether the duty levied upon that drug should not be further increased. The Lieutenant-Governor is sorry to find that Mr. Buckland is constrained to express his opinion that there is some foundation for the statements which have been made regarding the increase of the practice of drinking among natives of the educated classes. This abuse of spirituous liquors is not, however, at all attributable to the operation of the Excise Department, which directly produces a check on the consumption of liquor by the taxation of it, and so increasing its price. ●

10. With regard to irrigation works, considerable progress has been made during the year in the Midnapore District, and the Collector, Mr. Harrison, gives an interesting account of this part of the district administration. In spite of the discouragement occasioned by the cyclone, which last year deprived the lessees of any appreciable profit, close upon 60,000 acres had been leased up to the beginning of June of the present year for irrigation from the High Level Canal. In the Hooghly District great benefits have been conferred on the people by the admission of a supply of fresh water, equally valuable for domestic use and for irrigation, from the river Damoodah into the bed of the Kana Nuddee, the Saraswatee, and some other streams.

11. Mr. Buckland reports that the working of the District Education Committees throughout the year has been smooth and efficient. The native members of the District Committees take, as is natural, a greater interest in education than they display in the Municipal and Road Cess meetings to which they are invited. The administration of the public dispensaries during the year has been satisfactory, and Dr. French, the late Civil Surgeon of Burdwan, is especially entitled to credit for the improvements he effected in his district.

12. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to see the favorable account that Mr. Buckland has been able to give of the conduct of the zemindars in this division. No zemindar of importance has come under the unfavorable notice of Government. On the other hand, many zemindars remarkably distinguished themselves during the late scarcity for munificence and charity. The Lieutenant-Governor has already acknowledged their liberality. The Maharajah of Burdwan, as usual, comes first in works of benevolence and public spirit. The title of Rajah has recently been conferred on Ram Runjun Chuckerbutty of Hetumpore; on Bissessur Melya of Raneegunge, and the title of Rance on Horo Sundari Debya of the same place, in recognition of their good services and munificence during the past year. Favorable mention is again made of the conduct of the firm of Messrs. Robert Watson and Company in their capacity of zemindars in the Midnapore district. The names of Baboo Joykishen Mookerjee in Hooghly, Baboo Nobin Chunder Nag in Midnapore, Baboo Radha Bullubh Singh of Kunchiakole in Bankoora, and Baboo Damodar Singh of Maliara in the same district are also honourably noticed.

13. The Lieutenant-Governor's acknowledgments are due to Mr. Buckland for his careful administration and supervision of the affairs of his division. Among the district and local officers, the following gentlemen are deserving of special commendation :—

ANNUAL REPORT ON THE WORKING OF PAPER CURRENCY IN BENGAL FOR 1874-75.

No. 15, dated the 30th July 1875.

From—H. A. MANGLES, Esq., Accountant-General, Bengal,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

IN reply to your letter No. 1804, dated 31st May last, I have the honor to submit herewith the annual report on the working of paper currency in Bengal for 1874-75.

UP to the commencement of the year 1874-75, the boundaries of the Calcutta Currency Circle of issue exactly coincided with those of the Lieutenant-Governorship of Bengal. In that year the province of Assam was separated from Bengal. The note circulation of this new province, however, is so small, that the figures for the whole circle may be thought, perhaps, to deserve a place in the annual report of the administration of the Lower Provinces. For past years, at any rate, the figures are appropriate as well as interesting.

2. The average value of Government currency notes in circulation in the Lower Provinces of Bengal from 1862-63 to 1874-75 has been—

1862-63	...	242 lakhs.	1869-70	...	415 lakhs.
1863-64	...	249 "	1870-71	...	351 "
1864-65	...	281 "	1871-72	...	430 "
1865-66	...	290 "	1872-73	...	478 "
1866-67	...	284 "	1873-74	...	470 "
1867-68	...	293 "	1874-75	...	484 "
1868-69	...	396 "

The average is struck from the circulation on the last day of each month of the year.

3. The value of Calcutta notes issued to, and received from, the public during the last three years at the Calcutta Currency Office has been—

Circle	NOTES ISSUED			NOTES RECEIVED.
	1872-73.	1873-74.	1874-75.	1872-73.	1873-74.	1874-75.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Calcutta	30,92,20,000	37,88,63,305	43,15,13,960	39,34,18,050	37,04,02,880	42,15,44,005

4. The issues of all currency offices from 1862-63 to 1873-74 has been—

1862-63	...	2 crores.	1868-69	...	41 crores
1863-64	...	5 "	1869-70	...	49 "
1864-65	...	5 "	1870-71	...	57 "
1865-66	...	10 "	1871-72	...	62 "
1866-67	...	27 "	1872-73	...	57 "
1867-68	...	33 "	1873-74	...	62 "

so that the issues of the Calcutta Office in 1873-74 almost equalled the issues of the whole of India in 1868-69. The figures for 1874-75 are not complete.

5. The increase of issues over receipts in 1874-75 in the Calcutta Circle was in round numbers 100 lakhs. The details are the following:—

	Rs. 5.	Rs. 10	Rs. 20.	Rs. 50.	Rs. 100.	Rs. 500.	Rs. 1,000.	Rs. 10,000.	Total.	Value.
Issues	3,34,976	10,60,528	7,57,205	1,83,874	3,42,107	79,243	3,13,322	765	30,81,110	43,15,13,960
Excess of issues over receipts	17,151	61,677	10,044	12,401	12,716	1,446	5,242	163	1,59,080	10,00,000

It will be observed that the Rs. 10 notes are the most in demand, then the Rs. 20, and then the Rs. 5. At long intervals follow the Rs. 100, the Rs. 50, the Rs. 1,000, the Rs. 500, and the Rs. 10,000 notes in the order here given.

6. The details of the gross circulation on the 31st March 1875 are the following:—

Circle	Rs. 5.	Rs. 10	Rs. 20.	Rs. 50.	Rs. 100.	Rs. 500.	Rs. 1,000.	Rs. 10,000	Total	Value.
Calcutta	2,12,920	5,76,496	3,14,020	60,512	92,476	10,061	20,320	111	12,93,834	5,26,02,840

giving the following percentages:—

Circle.	Rs. 5.	Rs. 10.	Rs. 20.	Rs. 50.	Rs. 100.	Rs. 500.	Rs. 1,000.	Rs. 10,000.	Percentage of notes of Rs. 20 and under.	Percentage of notes of Rs. 50 to 100.	Percentage of notes of Rs. 500 and over.
Calcutta	16.46	44.56	24.27	5.14	7.14	.85	1.57	.01	85.29	12.28	2.43

7. The same percentages for the past four years have been—

Circle and date.	NOTES OF RS. 20 AND UNDER.		Percentage of pieces.	NOTES OF RS. 50 AND RS. 100.		Percentage of pieces.	NOTES OF RS. 500 AND UPWARDS.		Percentage of pieces.
	Pieces.	Value.		Pieces.	Value.		Pieces.	Value.
CALCUTTA.		Rs.			Rs.			Rs.
31st March 1871-72	7,54,527	1,08,83,500	81.44	1,33,442	1,05,66,050	11.41	38,429	3,27,45,000	4.15
Ditto 1872-73	9,50,555	1,13,57,320	85.18	1,87,902	1,08,84,850	12.36	27,356	2,27,87,000	2.46
Ditto 1874-75	11,03,445	1,31,10,140	85.29	1,58,988	1,25,73,200	12.28	31,401	2,08,19,500	2.43

8. The increase in the circulation of notes of smaller values and the decrease of those of the largest denominations must be taken to be a symptom of the more general use of notes by the less wealthy classes of the population. This demand for the smaller denominations is further exemplified by the transactions at mofussil treasuries, where 8,235 pieces were exchanged for 22,034 pieces.

9. To come now to the note transactions of the past year 1874-75 at the mofussil treasuries. The opening balance in notes on 1st April 1874 was Rs. 45,64,460.

The value of notes received during the year was 247 lakhs, and the value of notes issued was 244 lakhs.

To meet the public demand for notes, which varied district by district according to local circumstances, 107 lakhs were transferred by the Accountant-General from one treasury to another.

The year closed with a note balance of Rs. 45,96,145.

10. As regards the number of notes in contradistinction to their values, we find that 5,30,930 pieces were received from the public, against 6,62,744 issued to them. Thus the public took from the Government 1,31,814 pieces more than they gave.

11. The following statement gives the issue of pieces as compared with the receipts:—

Denomination.	Rs. 5.	Rs. 10.	Rs. 20.	Rs. 50.	Rs. 100.	Rs. 500.	Rs. 1,000.	Rs. 10,000.
Issues	1,41,000	2,36,000	1,52,000	60,000	64,000	5,000	7,000
Receipts	75,000	2,38,000	1,32,000	25,000	41,000	5,000	11,000	1
Excess or deficiency of issues	+ 66,000	- 3,000	+ 20,000	+ 35,000	+ 23,000	...	- 4,000	- 1

The excess under Rs. 5 far exceeds that under any other denomination.

12. The transactions in notes at mofussil treasuries during 1874-75 and four previous years were as follows:—

	1870-71.	1871-72.	1872-73.	1873-74.	1874-75.
Receipts.
In payment of dues	1,09,40,770	1,27,67,920	1,70,78,210	2,05,54,095	1,70,93,540
.. exchange for silver	39,68,400	1,04,57,490	1,28,07,205	1,42,17,605	71,47,880
.. notes	1,71,770	2,86,070	7,80,575	6,10,085	5,94,840
	1,50,79,940	2,35,11,480	3,07,26,060	3,53,82,475	2,48,36,260
Issues.

	86,94,890	2,07,35,720	2,56,24,645	3,53,41,945	2,45,12,525

13. The figures for 1874-75, however, require explanation if they are to be compared with those of the previous years. In the year now under report the transactions at Assam treasuries have been excluded, as also those at Dacca and Patna, where the Government balances are held by the Bank of Bengal.

14. The figures of 1873-74 corrected so as to compare with 1874-75 would stand thus—

Receipts.		1873-74.	1874-75.
In payment of dues	...	1,97,43,730	1,70,93,540
„ exchange for silver	...	95,94,615	71,47,880
„ „ „ notes	...	5,73,045	5,94,840
		2,99,11,390	2,48,36,260
Issues.
In payment of dues	...	1,30,11,345	1,21,65,750
„ exchange for silver	...	1,41,23,455	1,17,51,935
„ „ „ notes	...	5,73,045	5,94,840
		2,77,07,845	2,45,12,525

The decrease is solely attributable to the demand for money for famine relief.

15. It will be observed that the falling off in the encashment of notes, i.e., in the issue of silver for notes, owing to the heavy demand for silver for famine purposes, amounted to 25 per cent. of the transactions of 1873-74. In consequence of the shortness of money on the same account, the issue of notes for silver was curtailed by 17 per cent. These restrictions in the exchange department of the Government Treasuries, both in receipt and issue, acted instantaneously on the use of notes by the public. The receipts of notes in payments of dues by the public fell off by 13 per cent. This fact seems to demonstrate beyond a doubt that if notes are to be freely used by the public, a constant supply of notes for issue must be kept up at mofussil treasuries. The free use of silver for the purpose of encashment of notes is of course of great importance, but this concession must be limited by the funds at the disposal of the Accountant-General.

16. The note receipts were 15 per cent. of the total receipts of cash and notes, and the note payments nearly 12 per cent. of the total payments of cash and notes.

17. The total cash balances in the various mofussil treasuries on the 31st March 1875. and the proportion in which they consisted of notes, were respectively as follows:—

Cash balances.	Amount held in notes.
Rupees 2,91,62,214	Rupees 45,96,145

	3 Boorbhoom, „ 14, „	1·35	Seasonable weather. State and prospects of crops continue good.
	4 Midnapore, „ 14, „	1·75	Showery in the early part of the week, and fine the last four days. There has been enough rain for the present, and the weather is just what is wanted for the bulk of the district. Indigo is yielding a better outturn than was expected.
	5 Hooghly, „ 14, „	1·42	Rainfall at Mohanud ·88, Chinsurah 3·83, Banaberiah 2·09, Pandooah 1·68, Hullahore 2·28, Dhoneakhally 1·61, Serampore 2·47, Chunditolah 1·83, Huripal 2·34, and Kristonagore ·97 inches. Weather close and hot; very bright sun and little rain. State and prospects of crops are very favorable. Early rice and jute being cut in places; outturn good. Late rice is now planted or being planted. Fine show of rice in Dankooney marshes. Small-pox a little on increase; measles in places. General health good.
PRESIDENCY DIV.	Howrah, „ 14, „	1·11	Weather hot and moist. State and prospects of crops are excellent.
	6 24-Pergunnahs, Aug 16,† '75	3·12	Weather warm and close, with occasional showers. The harvest of the aus , or early rice, has commenced. The amun , or late rice, has suffered slightly in very low lands for want of proper drainage channels. Jute looking well. Ordinary fever prevailing in Diamond Harbour and Basserhat sub-divisions. No report from Barripore.
	7 Nudden, „ 14, „	·93	Not much local rain; very hot during the middle of the week. The crops on the ground are excellent, but backward, and the fears regarding inundation are gaining ground. There is most apprehension at Chooadangah; but the sub-divisional officer is trying to keep the embankments secure. The rivers are still rising, but not rapidly.
	8 Jessore, „ 14, „	·73	Weather generally cloudy. Very small quantity of rain fell during the week. The rainfall of the same period of 1874 was ·61 inch. Wind prevailed from the south-east. The late heavy rains have considerably injured the indigo, and have slightly damaged the rice crops in low lands of Magoora and Narrail. From other sub-divisions reports are favorable.
	9 Moorshedabad, „ 14, „	·34	Weather close and sultry. Aus , or early, and amun , or late rice, on elevated tracts are doing well; those on low lands are under water. Cultivators state, if the river water does not subside very soon, the crops on low lands will be damaged. The river is now stationary, and is expected to fall. Mulberry trees are being cut. Prices of common rice are somewhat risen. The average of ten stations of the Sudder gives 15½ seers approximately.
RAJSHAHYE DIV.	10 Dinagepore, „ 13, „	·81	Rainfall according to the Magistrate's rain gauge ·93 inches. Weather for the most part dry; occasional showers; a smart fall on Wednesday evening. Crops benefited by the break in the rains. Bhadoi , the early kind, being cut; only 7 or 8 annas outturn; the later kind promises better. Hemanto .—Much transplanting done. Jute very little cut; promises about 12 annas. Sugarcane fair. Baigoon , &c., vegetables good. Prices of rice ranging from 18 to 25 seers. Rice is being exported by water.
	11 Maldah, „ 14, „	2·38	During the first half of the week the weather was changeable; afterwards it became warm; some rain has fallen. The late rains have done general good to the rice crops, but the bhadoi , which was injured in some places by the previous dry weather, has suffered some further damage from floods. The reaping of the bhadoi has commenced, but owing to the inundation caused by the late rains, the crop in some places is not expected to exceed from 4 to 6 annas, whilst in others a crop varying from 8 to 14 annas is expected. The hemanto has been transplanted, and has been much benefited by the rains.
	12 Rajshahye, „ 14, „	1·69	Light rains have been general. There was a heavy downpour at the Sudder station on the morning of the 14th instant. The rain of the last fortnight has saved the rice crops, and, as far as can be seen at present, a full winter harvest may be expected. The outturn of the aus rice is estimated at 10 annas. The amun rice growing on banks of beel koomaree has been injured by the sudden rising of the water. Thirty-seven cases of cholera have been reported during the week; twenty-four proved fatal.

RAJSHAHY DIVN.—(Contd.)	13 Rungpore, Aug. 13, '75	·20	Dry and hot weather, but there is now promise of rain. Transplantation of rice is busily going on, but more rain is now wanted for the higher lands.
	14 Bogra, „ 14, „	·34	Weather hot and oppressive during the first part of the week; afterwards thundering and heavy. No rain to speak of, but ample has fallen for the present. Transplanting actively going on everywhere. If there be a fair fall of rain during the usual period, the crops will probably be a good one. Fever prevailing to a great extent.
	15 Pubna, „ 14, „	·51	Showery weather at the beginning of the week, but sultry at the end. State and prospects of the crops are generally good. The harvesting of the aus rice is progressing rapidly. The crop has been damaged here and there by the rapid rise of the rivers.
	16 Darjeeling, „ 13, „	2·20	A considerable cessation of rains during the week. All the crops both in the hills and in the terai are progressing favorably. The jumma , or early bhadoi rice, is being reaped in some places.
	17 Julpigoree, „ 14, „	1·72	The comparatively small fall of rain this week is considered favorable to the bhadoi crop, which is being harvested. It appears to be a fair crop. The winter crop is nearly all planted, and will suffer unless there is a good rain-fall again soon.
COOCH BEHAR DIVN.	Cooch Behar, „ 12, „	3·70	Weather generally clear. There have been a few showers of rain. The transplanting of the late rice is progressing satisfactorily. The prospects of the jute crop continue good.
Eastern Districts.
Dacca DIVN.	18 Dacca, Aug. 16,* '75	·89	Weather seasonable; rather hot. State of crops are very favorable.
	19 Furreedpore, „ 14, „	·11	Weather clear and sunny. The inundation is still on the increase. The crops continue in promising condition. General health of the district is good.
	20 Backergunge, „ 12, „	·91	For the last four days of the week the weather has been settled. The Collector does not think that any serious injury has been done as yet to the crops, although it is reported from the thanas Jhalokatty, Mendigunge, Gournadi, Perozepore, Sharupkatty, Malbarea, and Dowlutkhan, that their prospects are not good. There can be no doubt that the excessive rainfall of a week or 12 days has injured the seedlings, and in some places has destroyed them. But the Collector does not think that this state of things is general. There is yet time, even in those places where the inundation has drowned them, for re-sowing, but the grain got from seedlings sown so late is always deficient in weight and quality. In other respects the state of the district is satisfactory. Health of the people is good.
	21 Mymensingh, „ 13, „	·74	Weather showery and cloudy, with no great downpour. State and prospects of the crops are generally favorable. The rivers still remain very high, and the crops on the banks have suffered to a small extent.
	22 Tipperah, „ 13, „	·09	Fine and hot weather, with variable wind. The floods have done much damage to the rice crops in the following thanas,—Kotwali, Laksham, Hajigunge, Tobkibograh, Chagulnayab. In the two former about half the rice has been altogether lost, and 1-4th and 1-3rd in the rest; the full extent of the damage has not yet been correctly ascertained, but in some parts of the district, as in pergunnahs Mehercul, Bagashair, and Homnabad, the whole of the rice has been submerged for some days past. Unless the flood water drains off quickly no re-sowing or planting can be made.
CHITTAGONG DIVN.	23 Chittagong, „ 12, „	1·98	Weather cloudy, with occasional very hot sunshine. At Cox's Bazar, rainfall 1·66 inches, and of preceding week 18 inches; the fall there not having been nearly as heavy as in the Sudder sub-division. In the Sudder sub-division great injury has been done to the aus , or early rice crops, by the inundation of last week. The aman , or late rice, will probably fare better, though it also is a sufferer. Water not yet altogether subsided. Roads in many places still reported as being under water. Roads and bridges have been much damaged, and loss of life confined to a few isolated cases. People are repairing their houses, and are very busy with their crops. In Cox's Bazar subdivision the damage has been less.
	24 Noakholla, „ 12, „	·61	Bright sunshiny weather. The floods have subsided considerably. In high lands the early rice crops are being reaped; in the low lands in some places they are still under water. There has been much destruction of aman seedlings; they are being replaced by fresh sowings. Transplantation continues. In Hatten 244 heads of cattle were cut off by the recent flood, and perished for want of fodder.

CHITTAGONG DIVN.—(Contd.)	25 Chittagong Hill Tracts, Aug. 10, '75	3.75	Occasional falls of rain throughout the week. The paddy crops of the plough cultivators have been destroyed by the floods. The joom paddy crops are doing well. The cotton crop has been damaged by excessive rain.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 11, „	1.12	The weather was wet and stormy during the early part of the week, but has now set in fair. It is reported that great injury has been done to all sorts of crops by the late inundations. But the inquiries on this point are not yet completed, and therefore it cannot be said positively whether much injury has been done or not. Round about Agartollah the amra crop appears to have suffered, but not so the amra . At Odeypore (on the Goomtee) an inundation is reported to have taken place during the last week. Public health is good.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVN.	26 Patna, „ 16,* „	Nil	Seasonable weather. Rivers receded considerably. Crops on low lands much injured by the late flood. Health generally good.
	27 Gaya, „ 14, „	1.13	Weather cloudy and warm. Most rain at Aurungabad, where 2.4 inches were registered. Highest reading of thermometer was 97.8 on the 10th instant. Prospects of the crops are favorable, but want of rain is reported from some few places in the south. Sickness decreasing.
	28 Shahabad, „ 14, „	.37	Weather cloudy and hot. General prospects of crops are good. Much damage is reported to have been caused to the bhadoi crops on the dearah lands to the north of the district by the flood. General health good.
	29 Darbhanga		Return not received.
	30 Mozufferpore, „ 14, „	.11	Weather hot and cloudy. The late rain has been beneficial to the bhadoi crops, which look excellent. More rain is wanted for paddy transplantation. In Hajepore sub-division rice has suffered in the phels from the heavy falls of rain, and mahai too in some places; the rainfall during the week was 1.14 inches. In Seetamuthee sub-division the weather has been very good generally for the crops. The bhadoi is very promising everywhere since last week's rain. The rice is being planted out all over the division. At Bella and Sonbursa outposts the rainfall has been insufficient. The rainfall during the week is 1.50 inches.
	31 Saran, „ 14, „	.58	Rainfall at Sewan 2.60 inches. Weather hot, close, and sultry; both east and west wind. There was a slight fall of rain throughout the district. Bhadoi crops look flourishing everywhere. Transplanting of rice going on. More rain is wanted for the anghami , or late rice. Cholera has broken out again at Roghonaithpore, an outpost of thana Darowli, in the Sewan sub-division.
BHAUGIPUR DIVN.	32 Champaran, „ 13, „	3.09	The rainfall hitherto has been ample, and the crops promise exceedingly well. The baondelee rice is being reaped in Bethiah. The crops are all in a most flourishing state, and if the present weather continues, a more than usually large harvest may be expected.
	33 Monghyr, „ 14, „	.49	Seasonable weather. From Jamoee sub-division the prospects generally are reported good. From Begoo Serai sub-division no report has been received. The bhadoi crops on the inundated lands have, however, suffered considerably. For the sudder sub-division the bhadoi prospects are fair, and the rice prospects generally are good.
	34 Bhagulpore, „ 16,* „	1.30	More rain is wanted in the north of the district, especially in the north-east, for the late rice, much of which remains to be transplanted. Bhadoi crops are reported excellent. The transplanting in the south is nearly completed, and bhadoi is first-rate. Fever and small-pox reported from Madempore; elsewhere health is very good.
	35 Purneah, „ 14, „	2.34	Weather dry and hot for the last few days. More rain for the transplantation of the late rice is still wanted in Kusba Amour and Kishengunge. In the neighbourhood of the Koosi also the rainfall is said to have been short.
	36 Sonthal Perghe „ 14, „	.99	A dry week everywhere; rainfall at Jantara 2.46, Godda 1.67, Rajmehal 1.6, Deoghur 1.8 inches. Reports are good from all sides with two exceptions. The injury done to janara millet in Deoghur by excessive rain is confirmed. In Rajmehal the Ganges has flooded and destroyed a good deal of the low land crop. About Doomka janara is uneven; a great deal of it is quite first-rate, but some is stunted from not having been sown early enough. Cholera is still harghing about Deoghur.

* Telegrams of the 10th August, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVISION.	37 Cuttack, " 7, "	2.02	Less rain, and the rivers have fallen. The crops are still in many places under water; those on high lands are doing well. Cholera appears to be decreasing.
	38 Pooree, " 11, "	3.91	Weather cloudy, with occasional slight showers of rain, and general good rainfall on the 7th instant. The crops on high lands are being transplanted and weeded well. The crops on low lands were submerged in the flood water for about two weeks, and the water has now subsided, leaving the plants rather seriously damaged. The state and prospects of the crops of the uninundated parts are fair, and those of the inundated portions are rather bad. Miscellaneous crops are getting on tolerably well.
	39 Balasore, " 13, "	4.64	Rain every day, with sunny intervals. The prospects of the crops are excellent. Cholera on the decline.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Aug. 13, '75	1.92	Seasonable weather. The murwa millet is recovering itself, but it is still very backward. The late rice has almost all been planted out; otherwise no change. Cholera still continues where first reported.
41	Lohardugga, " 14, "	2.17	Seasonable weather. The prospects of both the early and late rice crops are very favorable. Goondli and murwa millets and Indian-corn have been a good deal injured by the continued rain. Cholera still prevalent in Palamow.
42	Singbhoom, " 13, "	4.66	Seasonable weather. The prospects of the rice crops are very favorable, but the rainfall has been excessive for Indian-corn and teel oilseed. The district is healthy.
43	Manbhoom, " 14, "	2.08	Very favorable weather. State and prospects of crops are very promising. If the weather continues favorable, there will be a bumper crop. The season is thought generally favorable, and the result has been a great impetus to cultivation. It is said that if the weather continues as favorable as it has been, the ryots will reap far more than an ordinary crop owing to the large area of cultivation. In the south-east of the district, as previously reported, there was an insufficiency of rain at first, and the crops suffered, but even there, rain has now fallen in quantity sufficient to repair for the greater part the damage at first anticipated.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet, are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 17. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Dippe's tables, as given in Guyot's "Meteorological and Physical Tables." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 17 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahr. for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Serenity.—This column gives the average proportion of unclouded sky; a cloudless sky being indicated by 10, and one completely overcast by 0.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which shall show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer, means are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain-gauge is 1 1/2 feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

 The Rig-Veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class-books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholarlike knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammars, and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country.—Extract from Preface.

And it shall come into force on the passing thereof.

7. The Local Government may from time to time prescribe rules for ascertaining and determining what spirit imported into British India shall be deemed to have been effectually and permanently rendered unfit for human consumption, so as to be subject only to an ad valorem duty of ten per cent. under Schedule A hereto annexed, and for causing such spirit to be so rendered, if necessary, by their own officers, before the duty of customs leviable thereon is levied, and at the expense of the person importing it.

AMENDMENT OF THE ABKAREE ACTS.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved that the Bill to amend Act XI of 1849, Act XXI of 1856, Act XXIII of 1860, and Act IV (B.C.) of 1866, be further considered in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill.

The motion was agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said that at the last meeting the sections which were now printed as sections 12 and 13 of the Bill were transposed so as to come immediately after section 6. He now proposed that those sections should stand as the last two sections of Part II, and that the following section, of which notice had been given, should come immediately after section 6, and stand as section 7 of the Bill:—

“Any chemist, druggist, apothecary, or keeper of a dispensary, within the town or suburbs of Calcutta, or Howrah, who shall, between sunset and sunrise, allow spirituous or fermented liquors, which have not been bona fide medicated, to be drunk on his business premises by any person not employed in his business, and any such person who shall between sunset and sunrise drink such liquors on such premises, shall be liable to a fine of two hundred rupees, in addition to any other penalty to which he may be liable under this or any other Act; and any Abkaree or Police Officer above the rank of peon or chuprassee, who may have reason to believe that the provisions of this section are being infringed, may enter upon such premises and seize and carry away such liquors, and, in case of resistance, break open any door, and force and remove any other obstacle to such entry or seizure, and arrest and detain the owner or occupier of the said premises, with all parties whom he suspects to be concerned in such unlawful drinking; and upon such seizure or arrest as aforesaid, the Abkaree Officer and Collector shall deal with such liquors or persons as provided in section twenty-two of Act XI of 1849, and the Police Officer and a Magistrate of Police shall deal with them as provided in section five of this Act.”

This clause was the outcome of the discussions which had taken place in the Council, in the Select Committee, and elsewhere; and it seemed to him that the form in which it stood was the one which would be most effective for the purpose in view, and on the whole the least likely to open the door to harassment and vexation to respectable persons. It would be observed that the law as it stood made it absolutely illegal for the chemist or druggist who had no license to sell spirituous or fermented liquors either in the day or night time. The clause he now proposed to introduce went farther, and came to this that in the night the chemist or druggist should not be able to give his friend a glass of liquor on his business premises (even without selling it). The clause took away from the chemist, who was detected in the malpractices against which it was directed, the power of escaping the penalty of the law by the false excuse that he was not selling liquor, but merely giving a glass to a friend. It made penal the fact of giving or consuming spirits on the business premises of chemists between sunset and sunrise.

The latter part of the section provided that any abkaree or police officer above the rank of a peon, who had reason to suspect that spirits were being illegally consumed, might enter upon the premises, seize the liquor, and arrest the people consuming it. There was no great fear of privacy being intruded upon under this clause, as it only referred to the business premises, and not to the private dwelling place. And if hon'ble members would look to the amending section 25 which was in the Bill, they would see that heavy penalties were prescribed against abkaree and police officers who should be guilty of any excess in the exercise of their powers under the law.

The HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS said he thought the hon'ble member who had moved the amendment might be congratulated upon having hit upon a form of words which would be generally accepted as satisfactory. He would not say that the proposed law could not be evaded. It was perhaps impossible for human wisdom to frame a law which it should not be in the power of human ingenuity to evade. But, generally speaking, he imagined that the effect of the enactment would be practically to remove the evil complained of without any unnecessary interference with what was legitimate, necessary, and useful.

There was only one point in which he would wish to see the wording of the amendment modified. He referred to the introduction of the words “between sunset and sunrise.” It seemed to him that if there was to be any limitation at all, the words “between sunrise and sunset” would have been more appropriate. He would not himself accept such an argument, but it might be argued with some plausibility that those who required spirituous liquors for medicinal purposes ought to be allowed to get them from chemists at times at which they were not obtainable from the ordinary shops. But for the limitation in the amendment he could see no sufficient reason, and he thought the words an injurious restriction of what was otherwise a useful and valuable provision. He therefore appealed to the mover of the amendment to exclude those words from his motion.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said he was unable to accept the suggestion of his hon'ble friend. The fact was that as regards a person who was really ill,—who, for instance, had a fainting fit, or had met with an accident and was taken into a chemist's shop,—the law was left precisely where it was before. Under such circumstances the chemist would certainly give the person a glass of brandy if necessary, and might charge for it; and MR. DAMPIER hoped no Magistrate would be found in India to convict the chemist of an offence for so doing under the existing law or under the Bill before the Council. The evil against which the clause was directed occurred, he believed, principally at night, after the licensed liquor-shops were closed; when people went to the chemist's premises, and either drank the liquor there or carried it off clandestinely. He did not think it was necessary, in order to meet this, to preclude a chemist from giving a glass of beer or of brandy and water to a friend during the day, provided it was not sold to him. It would be quite sufficient to make it illegal to do so during the night.

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL said he supported the amendment on the principle that something was better than nothing. He did not find his way clear to a satisfactory solution of the difficulty connected with the sale of liquors in dispensaries; and as such sale could not be prevented without interfering with the legitimate business of druggists, he accepted the amendment of his hon'ble friend and hoped it would be passed.

The motion was agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said, passing to the other printed notice of amendment, he would move that the following section be introduced as the last section of the Bill:—

“Notwithstanding anything in this or in any other Act contained, it shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor, with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to assign to the Justices of the Peace for the Town of Calcutta, or to any other Municipality, such functions and powers as he shall think fit in respect to the granting, withholding, and withdrawal of licenses for the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs (being functions and powers which, but for such assignment, might legally be exercised by any officer of Government), to be exercised by such Justices or by such Municipality within the limits of their respective jurisdictions under such conditions and subject to such rules as the said Lieutenant-Governor may impose; and the Lieutenant-Governor may at any time withdraw and revoke any functions and powers which he has assigned under the provisions of this section.

Provided that such functions and powers shall not be assigned as aforesaid without the consent of the said Justices or the Municipality concerned:

Provided also that no such conditions or rules shall be imposed by the Lieutenant-Governor after such assignment has taken place without the consent of the said Justices or the Municipality concerned.”

The section had already been before the Council, and he had made such alterations as seemed to be necessary in consequence of the remarks which had then been made.

The motion was agreed to.

Section 1 was passed with the date of the commencement of the Act fixed as that on which it might be published with the assent of the Governor-General.

Section 2 was agreed to.

The preamble and title were passed after the omission from them of all mention of Act XXIII of 1860.

On the motion of the HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER the Bill was then passed.

CALCUTTA MUNICIPALITY.

The HON'BLE THE PRESIDENT said that the consideration of the Calcutta Municipal Bill had been postponed till after the holidays: it would probably be taken very shortly after the holidays, and he trusted that the Justices and other public bodies, as well as private individuals, who might wish to submit any representations, would do so as soon after the holidays as possible.

The Council was adjourned to a day of which notice would be given.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE ORISSA DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1874-75.

READ—

The Annual General Report of the Orissa Division for the year 1874-75.

THE chronicle of the year in Orissa is one of general progress, contentment, and prosperity. During the previous year 1873-74, the famine in Behar and Northern Bengal gave an unusual stimulus to trade, especially to the export of rice; and there was room for apprehension that this year's returns would exhibit some reaction. But so far from this being the case, the present report shows that during the year under review there was a still further advance, a fuller development of commerce, a greater degree of comfort among the people, an increased production of local manufactures, and a marked diminution in the occurrence of serious crimes. The Lieutenant-Governor, who visited the province in November 1874, is able to supplement and confirm, by the result of his own observation, the favorable account which the Commissioner has given both of the material condition of the country, and of the state of feeling exhibited by all classes towards each other and towards the Government.

2. The season was not in all respects favorable to agriculture. The rainfall was everywhere sufficient, but it did not occur at the times of the year when it was most required. The average for the whole of Orissa was 63.42 inches, but the fall varied greatly in different parts of the province. In the town of Cuttack it amounted to as much as 86.11 inches, while in the Bhudruck sub-division of the Balasore district only 50.55 inches were registered. The heavy rain in some localities caused temporary floods, which did some damage to the crops in both Cuttack and Pooree, but especially in the latter district. Generally in both these districts it may be said that the rice-crop on the lower lands turned out unfavorably, but on the high lands a good crop was secured. In the southern part of Balasore the harvest was excellent, but the northern portion of the district suffered severely from the cyclone of the 15th October 1874, one of the most violent storms that has been experienced for many years. In the area which was exposed to the full fury of the tempest, an area fortunately of limited extent, the destruction of the crops was almost total, and some distress ensued, which, however, was promptly and effectually relieved. The cyclone was followed, as was also the case in the Midnapore district, by a violent outbreak of cholera, which did not subside for some months.

3. The price of food was somewhat higher than in the previous year, rice selling at an average of twenty-five seers for the rupee, whereas in 1873-74 the average price was twenty-nine seers six chittacks. But in a country in which the great mass of the people are producers, a higher price, as the Commissioner remarks, implies a higher rate of profit. "The generality of the people," says Mr. Ravenshaw, "have food enough and to spare, and the surplus has been invested in ornaments, clothes, and brass vessels." Nor is this prosperity confined to the agricultural classes. It was asserted some time ago that in Balasore many classes of artisans were taking to agriculture, being driven out of the industrial field by imported goods. The Commissioner was requested to enquire into the truth of this allegation, and he declares the statement to be altogether incorrect. It is refuted, he says, by the fact that there is a largely increased import of materials, which are worked up into local manufactures. Metals and cotton twist are examples of this; and generally skilled laborers are in great demand, and receive excellent wages.

4. Some local coal from the Talchere coal-field has been tried in the Cuttack workshop, and is favorably reported of. But hitherto coal has not been discovered in Orissa in localities which offer facilities for carriage by water, and the cost of land carriage is so heavy that the Talchere coal at Cuttack costs very nearly as much as that brought from Raneegunge. The prospect of utilizing the local coal-fields on any large scale depends on the discovery of coal in places which are accessible by a water route, and with this object the Lieutenant-Governor has applied to the Government of India for the services of an officer of the Geological Survey to explore the Talchere coal-field during the next cold season.

5. There was a decrease during the year in the number of vessels entering and leaving the Orissa ports. But this does not imply any falling off in the trade; for though the vessels were fewer, the actual tonnage was greater, and there was a large increase in the value of both exports and imports. The figures for the two years are as follow :—

1873-74.			1874-75.		Increase.
Rs.			Rs.		Rs.
Exports	30,07,175	43,91,035	13,83,860
Imports	28,91,288	35,92,856	7,01,568
			58,98,463	79,83,891	20,85,328

The number of passengers travelling by steamer between Calcutta and Balasore or Chandbally rose from 45,773 in 1873-74 to 59,676 in 1874-75.

6. These figures leave no room for doubting that the trade of the province is established upon a sound and permanent basis. There was nothing abnormal in the occurrences of the year; it was not a season of marked agricultural prosperity; and the extraordinary demand for rice for export, which had been caused in the previous year by the famine in Bengal, no longer existed. That under these circumstances, the trade of the province should have exhibited so remarkable an expansion affords a good ground for believing that it will continue to show a steady development in the future. The improvements now in progress on the Government lands at Chandbally are noticed by the Collector of Balasore as likely to give a further impetus to trade by the establishment of warehouses and the construction of jetties. The levy of port dues at False Point has been lately authorized by the Government of India, and this measure when carried into effect will supply funds for the improvement of the harbour, and for the better provision of buoys and mooring appliances. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets that the settlement of the accounts of the Balasore Port Fund—which settlement has ended in bringing out a deficit on past years against that port—has delayed the formation of a Port Trust for all the ports of Orissa. The matter is, however, under His Honor's consideration, and it is hoped that, despite financial difficulty, something may be done for commencing the improvements so much needed for these rising ports.

7. Irrigation leases were taken eagerly during April and May, the rainfall in those months having been below the average. The heavy rain of the succeeding months had the natural effect of diminishing the demand for canal water; but notwithstanding this, the returns show that leases for 22,459 acres were issued during the year, against 12,571 acres in 1873-74. As a means of communication, the canal system is still imperfect; but the tolls on the completed portion of the Kendrapara canal (39 miles in length) yielded Rs. 18,252 against Rs. 16,087 in the previous year. The extension of this canal to False Point is in progress, and the completion of this may be expected to lead to a great increase in the traffic.

8. There was very little crime during the year, and no serious outrage or disturbance of the public peace. The conduct of the police was satisfactory, but the Commissioner notices that a difficulty is found in getting educated natives of Orissa to accept the higher police appointments.

9. The excise revenue of the year showed a considerable increase, attended unfortunately by a larger consumption of both ganjah and opium. The price of opium has been raised to Rs. 27 per seer, a higher price than is charged in any other part of the Lower Provinces; yet this appears to have scarcely any effect in checking the consumption. The passion for opium among the people, says the Collector of Balasore, seems to be ineradicable. The excise revenue of Orissa is derived almost entirely from country spirits, tari, ganjah, and opium, the revenue from opium amounting to nearly two-thirds of the whole. The Lieutenant-Governor will consider how far it may be practicable to raise the selling price of opium in the province to a still higher rate.

10. The Commissioner appears to be fairly satisfied with the educational progress of the year. The high school at Cuttack is reported to have shown marked improvement under the present head-master, and normal schools and classes are working successfully, though it is stated that a good master is still a rarity in the province. The total number of schools rose during the year from 904 to 999; but (unless there is some mistake in the figures given in the report) there has not been a corresponding increase in the number of pupils under instruction. An Ooriya-speaking native officer has been appointed Inspector of Schools in the Orissa Circle in the expectation that he will be able to do something to foster Ooriya learning and literature. The Lieutenant-Governor has sanctioned a proposal for raising the Cuttack High School to the position of a college teaching up to the B.A. degree; and the realization of the scheme now rests with the local residents, who have been called upon to guarantee the payment of one-half of the additional cost. The Commissioner and the Civil Surgeon have also been authorized to establish a medical school at Cuttack, for the instruction of natives of the province, as it is stated that the want of qualified practitioners is greatly felt in Orissa. It is hoped that both these schemes will speedily be carried into effect.

11. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with much pleasure the remarks made by the Commissioner and by the district officers on the general good feeling which now prevails between the zemindars and their ryots, on the absence of any serious cases of oppression, and on the increased personal attention given by landed proprietors to the management of their estates.

12. The zemindars of the Balasore district appear to be honorably distinguished in this respect, and prominent among them are Baboos Nimai Churan Bose, Koylash Chunder Ray Mahashoy, and Shamanund Dey, Ray Bahadoor. All these gentlemen have shown themselves liberal and kind-hearted landlords, and the Lieutenant-Governor has recently had the pleasure, under the orders of His Excellency the Viceroy, of investing Baboo Shamanund Dey with the title of Ray Bahadoor in recognition of his high character and useful public services. Among the zemindars of Cuttack several gentlemen are noticed by the Commissioner as having rendered excellent assistance to the authorities in the capacity of Honorary Magistrates.

13. The annual tours of the district officers were efficiently performed, especially by the Collector of Balasore. The tour of the Commissioner extended over nearly five months, and every portion of his jurisdiction, regulation and non-regulation, was visited in it.

14. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that the Commissioner and all the district officers were in charge of their duties through the entire year, no change of administration having occurred.

in favorable terms of most of his subordinates, and the officers named in the margin are noticed by him as worthy of special commendation. The Lieutenant-Governor has learned, with great regret, the untimely death of G. H. Atkinson, Assistant Collector, in charge of the Kendrapara sub-division in Cuttack, who was unfortunately drowned in crossing the Mahanuddy river, and who is spoken of by the Collector and the Commissioner as a young officer of great promise.

15. The acknowledgments of Government are due to the Commissioner for the ability with which he continues to administer the important and rising province which is placed under his charge. The progress which has been made in Orissa during the last few years is due in no small degree to Mr. Ravenshaw's careful supervision, and to the energy which he displays in forwarding all measures calculated to promote the welfare and increase the resources of the province. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to be able to believe, in the Commissioner's words, that "sound and satisfactory progress is being made in every branch of administration, and the condition of the country and people was never more prosperous and contented."

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF THE CHITTAGONG DIVISION
FOR THE YEAR 1874-75.

Calcutta, the 24th August 1875.

READ—

The Annual Administration Report of the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division for the year 1874-75.

THE Lieutenant-Governor acknowledges the thoroughness of the annual tours made by the Commissioner and the District Officers.

2. The harvests in the several districts of the division last year are reported to have been very favorable.

3. The attention of the Commissioner was drawn in last year's Resolution to the importance of the subject of the estimated produce of food crops in the division, and the Lieutenant-Governor is much interested in the observations now offered by Mr. Lowis. The cultivated and culturable area of the district of Chittagong is stated to be 544,640 acres, of which 95 per cent, or 537,472 acres, is devoted to food crops. It is estimated that 60,000 acres out of this area are sown with other food crops than rice, and that an area remains of 477,472 acres sown with rice only. An estimate of 15 maunds of rice to an acre yields a total produce of 71,62,080 maunds. Deducting five per cent for wastage and seed-grain, there remain 68,03,976 maunds of rice. The population of the district is 1,127,000, which, at the rate of six maunds per head per annum, will consume 67,62,000 maunds of rice, thus leaving a margin of 41,976 maunds as surplus production. The bulk of the rice exported from Chittagong is supplied, not from the district itself, but from Tipperah, Noakholly, and the island of Dukhin Shabazpore in Backergunge. Mr. Lowis, indeed, observes that Chittagong rice being grown for eating purposes is too expensive for export: but it is believed that this remark is based on a misapprehension, as it is invariably the case in Bengal that the more expensive sorts of rice are exported from the district where they are grown, while the cultivators preserve the coarsest and commonest sorts for their own consumption. It is probably the case that Chittagong is ordinarily a self-supporting district, but that all along its northern portion it is partially dependent on imports from Tipperah.

4. In the district of Noakholly about 700,000 acres are sown with rice, and the produce is estimated at 16 maunds of rice an acre. The yield of rice in Noakholly is known to be greater than that of Chittagong or Tipperah. The total produce of the district would then be 1,12,00,000 maunds, from which, after deducting five per cent for wastage and seed-grain there remain 1,06,40,000 maunds of rice. The population of the district is 713,934, which, at six maunds per head per annum, would consume 42,83,604 maunds, leaving the large balance of 63,56,396 maunds for storage and export.

5. In Tipperah, out of 1,301,760 acres fit for cultivation, it is estimated that 1,150,000 acres are under rice cultivation. Taking an average produce of 15 maunds, the total yield of rice will be 1,72,50,000 maunds. After deducting for wastage and seed grain, there remain 1,63,87,500 maunds. The total population of the district being 1,533,931, the local consumption, at six maunds per head, would amount to 92,03,586 maunds, and there is left a surplus production of 71,83,914 maunds.

6. The total surplus produce of the Chittagong Division may then be estimated at about thirteen million maunds of rice. Of this amount, from one to three million maunds are annually exported from Chittagong by sea, the remainder is dispersed among the various outlets of inland trade. This trade is not, it is said, in the hands of the natives of the place, but it is carried on by persons who have come from, or are in connexion with, firms in Dacca, Calcutta, and other centres of commerce. The produce of the country is taken, in the first instance, by the producer to the local markets, where the grain is bought up by brokers, who transport it to the large marts on the river bank, and sell to the export trader. The export trade has considerably expanded of late years, and especially in the district of Noakholly there has been a marked increase in the size of the hâts or local markets, and to some extent also in their number. There are at present no statistics available for showing, with any accuracy, the distribution of this large traffic, or the quantity of the exports to Calcutta or other places; but it is hoped that the registration of river traffic, which has recently been sanctioned, will furnish us with much information on these points.

7. The export trade from the Chittagong port consists at present almost entirely of rice. The following figures show the fluctuations during the last four years :—

					Maunds.
1871-72	15,40,800
1872-73	28,23,255
1874-75	12,26,960

During 1873-74 there was a great falling off; the high prices obtainable in Calcutta inducing the traders to take their rice there for sale. It was anticipated that in 1874-75 trade would revive, but it turned out otherwise, for less rice than usual was brought for sale, and prices continued high, and severe losses were experienced. The falling off is attributed by the Commissioner to two causes. The enormous rise in price of grain occasioned by the famine induced the villagers to sell all their surplus, leaving the ordinary margin of reserve to be met from the next harvest. This, to some extent, diminished the quantity for sale. Then, again, the ryots hoped that prices would rise again, and in this hope they would not part with their stocks. It is true they eventually had to sell, but by the time they acquiesced in the necessity of accepting lower rates, the favorable season for undertaking a voyage to Chittagong had passed, and the south-west wind began to blow strongly at an earlier period than usual in the beginning of 1875. The boatmen were afraid to venture, and so it happened that rice was not obtainable in anything like the quantities that the result of the harvest led every one to anticipate.

8. The only important crops in the Chittagong Division, besides rice, are jute and tea. Jute is grown in Tipperah only, and afforded last year a fair harvest; but from various causes the cultivation has much decreased, and the Collector calculates that not more than 56,000 acres are now under jute instead of 78,000 in 1872-73. Chittagong is the only tea-growing district in the division. The cultivated area in 1874-75 amounted to 1,461 acres, against 1,253 acres sown in 1873-74. There are fifteen established gardens in the district, and the total quantity of land taken up for tea is 24,482 acres. The annexed table shows the estimated value of the tea exported from Chittagong during the last four years :—

					Rs.
1871-72	2,52,141
1872-73	2,29,773
1874-75	3,41,894

9. Mr. Lewis proceeds to offer some observations on the conditions and prospects of the Chittagong port. "The port," he points out, "is conveniently situated on the banks of the Kurnafoolce river, a short distance above the sea; there is abundant and commodious anchorage, and the trade is clearly capable of expansion. The one drawback to the increasing importance and prosperity of the port is its comparative inaccessibility, so far as native craft are concerned, for boats coming from Tipperah, Noakholly, Dacca, and Backergunge have to round a point before entering the river, where rough water is often encountered even during the hot weather, and where vessels are often lost. As a consequence, native boats venture here only during a short period from December to March, the passage not being attempted after that even by the large balam boats. The period during which it is considered safe to make the voyage covers most of the rice season, but does not allow of a traffic in oil-seeds, jute, &c, being opened out, and this is a serious drawback to the expansion of trade." More than one proposal has been made to remedy this drawback, of which the most reasonable appears to be to shorten the passage for boats from the north by opening out the Moishkhally Canal which connects the port directly with the Bay of Bengal. This channel cuts across the long tongue of land, the rounding of which to enter the Kurnafoolee is so much dreaded, and affords a safe and expeditious route; but it has now from neglect partially silted up, and can only be used at high tides by small boats. The desirability of opening out this channel is warmly advocated by the Collector. The Commissioner, although he considers that money on such an object would be well spent, is yet not prepared with definite recommendations, but promises a special report on the proposal. The Lieutenant-Governor will await with interest the submission of that report.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to observe that the insalubrity of the station of Chittagong itself appears to have been even more marked than usual during the past year. A great deal, however, has been done towards improving the sanitation. A special grant of Rs. 30,000 has been made by Government for the purpose. Public latrines are being erected in large numbers, and public burial grounds are being formed. Detailed plans and estimates are being drawn up of the drinking water and drainage schemes, the latter of which will include the embankment and reclamation of a large chur, on which it is proposed by the municipality to erect a good open airy bazaar, with a river frontage of half a mile. Efforts are also being made to fill up the most shallow and noxious of the many small tanks scattered through the town, but at present these have not been very successful.

11. In other respects the Commissioner is able to report in the most satisfactory terms of the prosperous condition of the people of the division. They are nearly all agriculturists, and the high price rice recently commanded, coupled with a good harvest, has enriched them greatly. On the whole, it is said that the people are every year advancing into more and more easy circumstances, and becoming more and more independent.

12. The burning question of the day now is, says the Commissioner, whether a share of the ryots' profits, caused by the rise in prices and increased facilities of communication, can be obtained by the landlord, and if so, what share can be claimed. Mr. Lewis is aware that this is a subject under the prominent notice of Government. The number of rent suits in the districts of Tipperah and Noakholly was 10,106 in 1872; 11,673 in 1873; and 10,233 in 1874. There is no notable excitement in the other districts, but rent disputes still continue in the district of Tipperah. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that the Magistrate of Tipperah expresses his opinion that the new Rent Bill, which is still under consideration, will be popular with all classes.

13. The Commissioner has not made any full remarks on the progress of educational measures in his division. Ten thousand Mahomedans are said to be now reading in the several schools, but this is still a very small total when it is recollected that by far the larger proportion of the population of this division is Mahomedan. It is to be hoped that the new Madrissa school at Chittagong will soon be established and prosper. The present school is temporarily accommodated in a bungalow, but a design for a new building will shortly be procured on the same model as the Dacca Madrissa building.

14. The Lieutenant-Governor fully acknowledges the services of the Commissioners, Mr. R. L. Mangles and Mr. E. E. Lewis, throughout the year, and of the district officers and their subordinates.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE CHITTAGONG HILL TRACTS DURING THE YEAR 1874-75.

POLITICAL.

READ—

A letter No. 134H, dated the 17th June 1875, from the Commissioner of Chittagong, submitting his Report on the administration of the Chittagong Hill Tracts during the year 1874-75.

Read again—

The Report for the previous year, and the orders of Government passed thereon.

THE report now submitted by Mr. Lewis, the present Commissioner of Chittagong, though prepared by him under the disadvantage of having succeeded to office in March last, and therefore subsequently to most of the events to which it relates, gives, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe, an interesting account of the administration of the Chittagong Hill Tracts during the past year. It also indicates that the Commissioner has, in a comparatively brief period, acquired a considerable insight into the affairs of that district, and has acquainted himself fairly with the requirements of a frontier administration.

2. With the exception of a solitary attempt at a raid by a party of Shindoos, which was obviated by a fortunate accident before any damage was done, the year was generally an uneventful one. One outbreak of cholera was reported, but the disease was not nearly so prevalent, or so widely spread, as in the previous year; otherwise there was little beyond the ordinary amount of sickness. The rainfall was greater than that of the previous year, and the account given of the crops is generally favorable, though instances are mentioned where some injury was caused by unseasonable rains and high winds, which would seem to have chiefly affected the cotton crops when ripening and the joom cultivation in the Rezoo Valley.

3. Though there was little to complain of anywhere as regards the loss of grain, and though generally the outturn of the crops was an average one, and in parts of the district a full one, yet prices are reported to have been even higher than usual. Looking to the habits of the people, the difficulties of communication, and the small number of purchasers, the Lieutenant-Governor fears that high prices must be chronic in the Hill Tracts. Even at Rangamutty, the headquarters of the district, it is reported that no private stores of grain exist at all; but, in this case, as the communication by river from Chittagong is easy and comparatively rapid, the absence of stores would seem to be solely attributable to the fact that there is little or no demand, the hill men, as a rule, growing sufficient for their own wants, and being independent of the markets. The Lieutenant-Governor much regrets that the attempts which have been made to start a regular bazar in the interests of the police and the floating population have proved so fruitless, and that the expense incurred has been thrown away. If no such regular demand for supplies exists at Rangamutty, as to make it worth the while of traders to arrange to meet it, it may seem to be idle to hope that they will become importers of grain. Still a reduction in prices may be expected from an improvement in the means of communication by road to those parts of the Chittagong district which lie nearer to Rangamutty than the Sudder Station of Chittagong, and where rice is always plentiful and cheap.

4. District roads and Police paths.—This important subject has met with attention, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that the amount which it was found necessary to advance for labor, viz. Rs. 8,655, was considerably less than during the previous year. The Commissioner should continue to discourage, as far as possible, the system of making advances for labor. Of the advances made during the course of the year, and of the previous outstanding balance, Rs. 14,884 were recovered in cash and labor; but the outstanding balance is still very large, and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the Deputy Commissioner will be able to carry out the instructions issued to realize them during the current year. Thirty-two miles of a road to connect Ruma with Rangamutty were constructed, and extensive repairs were executed on the road from the latter place to Chittagong. It is observed that the Commissioner has issued suitable instructions to the Deputy Commissioner, with a view to having lines of roads properly laid out and surveyed before construction; the Lieutenant-Governor trusts, however, that no unnecessary delay will be allowed to interfere with the works in progress, and that the line of road to be followed will be promptly determined, so that, with the opening of the season, the works may be pushed forward at once. The construction of a serviceable road from Rangamutty to Raojan is of special importance, and should engage the chief attention of the Commissioner.

5. Revenue.—The total collections of the year amounted to Rs. 1,28,625, against Rs. 86,815 only in the previous year. This increase, it appears, is due almost entirely to the increased proceeds obtained from the river tolls. Indeed, the collections on account of the capitation tax have fallen off by one-fourth. Of the large balance outstanding at the close of the year, however, it is reported that nearly the whole has since been realized. The earliest opportunity should be taken of making the enquiries necessary to determine what action should be taken regarding the large balance on account of waste land sales which still disfigures the returns. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that Rajah Hurrish Chunder Roy has given loyal assistance in completing the joom registrations, that the settlement of the Fenny tribes has been completed, and that the Deputy Commissioner hopes to bring the work of settlement to a conclusion in the course of the present rains.

6. It is satisfactory to find that the aggregate expenditure has fallen from Rs. 2,10,697 in 1873-74, to Rs. 1,94,047 during the past year, and that the very great disproportion between the revenue and the expenditure of the Hill Tracts, which was noticed last year, has been somewhat reduced. The Lieutenant-Governor observes the explanation given of the unproductiveness of the district, and commends the question of the terms on which the leases now falling in should be renewed, to the best attention of the Commissioner. His proposal to lease out the sun grass and gurjun kholas will be referred to the Revenue Department of this office for orders.

7. Civil and Criminal Justice.—While the amount of crime reported in the Hill Tracts continues to be inconsiderable, yet the returns for the past year shew some increase, both as regards petty crime and as regards more serious offences. Two cases of murder, and one of reported murder, are stated to have been under trial during the year. Deeds of violence of this kind are happily rare, and when they occur, are not unfrequently due to drink, or to the disturbing element of a large immigrant population. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe the vigilance with which apparently the Arms' Act is being enforced. Of seventeen persons brought to trial for the illegal sale of arms and ammunition, sixteen were convicted, and one only was acquitted. Now that sanction has been accorded to the sale of arms and ammunition to our own subjects by the Government officers at Rangamutty and Ruma, the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that, as anticipated by the Commissioner, the heads of villages will co-operate in putting down illicit trade in arms. The sale of arms and ammunition must, however, be closely supervised, and care must be taken that articles purchased by our people are not passed on to the independent tribes beyond the frontier.

8. The returns of civil business indicate that there has been a considerable increase in litigation, which has not been fully explained. In reviewing the report of last year, the Lieutenant-Governor deprecated the giving of any encouragement to a recourse to the civil courts, where the disputes were of a nature to be disposed of by arbitration. The Commissioner reports that much of the litigation of the past year was not of such a nature: but His Honor would still commend the matter to his attention. It is to be hoped that when a revised boundary line is laid down to the west of the district in the course of the Noabad re-settlement operations, so as to exclude the lands now cultivated and occupied by Bengalees from Chittagong, the litigation before the Deputy Commissioner will be very greatly reduced, and that thereafter he will have more leisure to devote to the far more important matters connected with the administration and control of the frontier.

9. Civil Police.—There has been little apparently in the conduct of the civil police to call for remark. In the absence of frequent crime, their duties should be light. The relief lately given as regards postal duties has considerably strengthened the force for the purposes of the ordinary administration. The Lieutenant-Governor would have been glad to have learnt how far the police have been supported in the discharge of their duties by the several Chiefs in the course of the past year, and especially whether complaints continue to be received as regards the management of the Bunderbun station. He would again also call the attention of the local officers to the advisability of defining the duties and responsibilities of the headmen of villages in police matters.

10. Frontier Police.—There was a slight diminution in the strength of this force compared with the previous year, which would seem to indicate that difficulty was experienced in filling up the vacancies caused by deaths, resignations, and dismissals. The Lieutenant-Governor would have wished to have been informed what arrangements are in force for recruiting, and whether they are found to answer. The distribution of the force would seem from the returns to have remained substantially the same as in the previous year. The Lieutenant-Governor infers from this that no attempt has yet been made to take up the additional frontier posts sanctioned by the Government of India, in the letter communicated with this office No. 339, dated 24th January 1874. He desires, therefore, to have an immediate report as to how the matter stands, and as to what arrangements have been made for occupying the several posts, and for providing accommodation and provisions for the men. The importance of maintaining these posts, and an efficient patrol of the frontier, has been already strongly impressed upon the local officers, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that this is realized by the Commissioner.

11. The question of the supply of provisions to the guard at Ruma was very recently dealt with, and sanction was given to the increase of the advance for the purchase of supplies, and for the payment of boat hire. It is not explained how far the inconveniences previously complained of were obviated by these orders. While the Commissioner recommends the introduction of the same system of rationing the police force and the Government employes as that sanctioned at Demagiri, the Lieutenant-Governor observes that very recently the weight of local opinion, backed up by that of Colonel Raban, was very decidedly against the necessity for the measure. Before deciding on the question, however, the Lieutenant-Governor will await a full report on the subject, to be submitted with a detailed estimate of the cost of a change of system, based on the experience gained in connection with the provisioning of Demagiri. Meanwhile, as already directed, proper measures should be taken for keeping a stock of provisions in hand, so as to avoid any recurrence of such difficulties as were experienced in February last, owing to the delay of a few days only in the arrival of the monthly supplies.

12. The Commissioner has little progress to report as regards schemes which formerly were much pressed upon the notice of Government. Among these are the colonization of the Myanmee Valley, the formation of a Khas Mehal, the settlement of a Goorkha colony, the introduction of plough cultivation, and the localization of the authority of the Chiefs. The first scheme has certainly failed, chiefly, it would seem, from the want of sufficient supervision; the second appears to have met with little success; the third is in a doubtful condition; the fourth has been attended with much expense, and as yet with but scanty results; and the last appears to be unfruitful, whether for good or evil. The Lieutenant-Governor observes the Commissioner's remarks as to the slowness with which the people accept changes. It is to be hoped, however, that every effort will be made to promote those schemes which have already been entered upon, and not finally abandoned, so as to protect Government from the loss of the advances which have been made. And the Lieutenant-Governor must remind the Commissioner that the introduction of plough cultivation is a matter of primary importance. Without it agriculture will never improve, and the people will continue a barbarous system of culture, which, among other evils, wastefully destroys the jungle and other natural products of the hill country.

13. Frontier Tribes.—It is satisfactory to find that the relations with all the tribes on the frontier have been peaceful throughout the year. A raid from the Shindoos was narrowly escaped it is true: but the Lieutenant-Governor observes that the offending tribe was not one of those with whom any direct communication has been hitherto held. He anticipates the best results from meetings with the Chiefs, such as that which was held at Ruma last January; and he trusts that the local officers will in this way be able to extend their influence. Whatever be the professions of the Chiefs met with, however, there must be no relaxation in the vigilance with which the frontier posts must be guarded, and a perfect line of patrols must be maintained, as it is by preserving an attitude of readiness for prompt action that outrages such as those which have occurred in the past are alone to be averted. As regards the Syloos, the Deputy Commissioner must be careful to keep himself fully informed of the character of their relations with the Howlongs: but he must bear in mind the orders prohibiting the stationing of guards beyond the frontier, or active interference in questions between the independent tribes, without the sanction of Government.

14. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction the generally favorable mention made by Mr. Power, the Deputy Commissioner, of the services of his subordinates, and trusts that Mr. Power will himself sustain the character for efficiency which he has already acquired, by increased vigilance in the administration of his district.

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE HOWRAH MUNICIPALITY FOR THE YEAR 1874-75.

MUNICIPAL.

READ—

The Annual Administration Report of the Howrah Municipality for the year 1874-75

Read again—

The Report for the previous year, and the orders of Government passed thereon.

1. Income.—The total receipts of the Howrah Municipality amounted to Rs. 2,00,725 against Rs. 1,67,456 in 1873-74. The balance of the previous year, which shows an increase of Rs. 16,268, is included in these figures. Apart from this, however, the chief item which has tended to swell the municipal income during the past year is the new lighting-rate, which being assessed for the whole year brought in Rs. 22,419 against Rs. 5,715 in 1873-74. The receipts from the carriage and horse-tax too have improved, a fact which may perhaps be attributable to the opening of the Hooghly Bridge. Municipal fines have largely decreased, but an increase is observable in those under Act XXI of 1857. As regards the house-rate, a total collection of Rs. 1,11,666 only was made, out of a total demand of Rs. 1,22,623, against Rs. 1,17,123 collected out of Rs. 1,26,717 in the previous year. The outstanding balance at the close of the year had therefore increased from Rs. 2,547 to Rs. 3,868. Complaint is made of the useless labour attached to the issue of bills which are generally disregarded till a notice of demand is served. The Lieutenant-Governor is aware that this is a point which has attracted attention in more than one municipality, and the remedy which should be applied will therefore be a matter for consideration in connection with the new Municipal Bill. The remissions, which it was found necessary to make in the house-rate, were considerably less than in the previous year, but this fact was counterbalanced by the large amount of remissions which were made in the lighting-rate. The reason for this is stated to be that the opening of the Hooghly Bridge has not, owing to the tolls leviable, led to any large influx of residents in Howrah, and that consequently many of the houses continue unoccupied. The slight decrease observable in the receipts on account of license fees is due, His Honor is glad to learn, to a more equitable assessment of the tax which is stated formerly to have pressed with some severity on the poor.

2. Expenditure.—With an increased income there was a proportionate increase in the expenditure of the town. This amounted to Rs. 1,94,254 against Rs. 1,51,188 in the previous year. On roads Rs. 32,707 were spent against Rs. 21,628 in 1873-74. The budget estimate was thus exceeded by Rs. 2,640. On the whole, however, there was a saving in the estimated expenditure, due chiefly to the entry of Rs. 12,200 for the repayment of the drainage loan having proved to be unnecessary. The experience which the Commissioners have gained from the completion of a small portion only of the projected drainage scheme would seem to point to the necessity of caution in the matter of carrying on the work. If, as the Civil Surgeon says, the present turf drains are preferable to those which have been constructed of masonry, the propriety of saddling the rate-payers with a debt, in order to extend the latter system, would seem more than dubious. Considerable credit is due to the Municipal Commissioners for the energy with which conservancy operations have been carried out. Next to police, the expenditure under this head forms the largest item in the town budget, the estimated expenditure amounting to Rs. 32,072, and the actual falling short of this by Rs. 543 only. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with satisfaction that the practice of burying refuse in hollows within the town, to which exception was taken last year, has been discontinued, and that the plan now adopted of burning it has been found to answer well. The success which has attended the introduction of a system of public latrines is a matter for congratulation. In the matter of local improvements a sum of Rs. 5,727 were spent; the chief work being the construction of a slaughter-house at the municipal market at a cost of Rs. 3,658.

4. Miscellaneous.—The acknowledgments of Government are due to the Municipality for the liberality with which it has come forward in support of the cause of education. The system adopted of paying the fees of children who actually attend school, instead of granting a fixed allowance to the masters, which may be productive of no results, is fully approved. By this means, the Municipality hope to provide for the education of 600 children, who are too poor to obtain it otherwise. At the same time the Lieutenant-Governor would impress on the municipality the necessity of exercising the utmost vigilance in enforcing payment of fees from all parents or guardian who can possibly afford to pay, so that undue advantage may not be taken of municipal liberality. The large demands which are made on the attention of the Commissioners by law suits instituted by and against them, are suggestive of some defects either in the law or in the administration of the Municipality.

5. The thanks of Government are again due to Messrs. S. H. Robinson, R. Pearce, and Dr. R. N. Burgess, and to Baboos Kedarnath Bhuttacherjea and Rajmohun Bose, for the regularity with which they attended the municipal meetings. Baboo Rajmohun Bose has again particularly distinguished himself by the disposal of a large number of municipal cases, and next to him Baboo Huromohun Mookerjea has given most assistance in this matter. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that the Secretary, Mr. Donnithorne, has by his conduct continued to merit the high opinion which successive Magistrates have formed of his abilities and industry.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. L. MANGLES,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 21st August 1875.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.
Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIVN.	1 Burdwan, Aug. 23,* '75	·56	Rainfall at Cutwa ·41, Culna 2·63, Jehanabad 1·07, Bood-Bood ·79, Raneeungu ·80. Prospects of crops are generally good. More rain wanted in the west and south of the district. Health fair.
	2 Bankoora, „ 21, „	3 19	There was a heavy shower of rain on the night of the 14th, and another on the evening of the 15th instant; the rest of the week was dry and hot. The crops are progressing favorably. Rain would be advantageous in the north of the district.
	3 Beerbhoom, „ 21, „	2 08	Showery weather. State and prospects of the crops continue good.
	4 Midnapore, „ 21 „	1 52	Weather generally fine and sultry, with occasional showers. Another week of dry weather will do no harm, and the break occurring now makes the continuance of the fall in October more probable. Prospects may be considered as generally good. Reaping of the early rice has just commenced, and the outturn is decidedly good.
	5 Hooghly, „ 21, „	1·43	Weather fine. Rainfall at Mohanad 1·43, Chinsurah 1·44, Bansberiah ·43, Pandooah ·20, Ballagore ·49, Dhuneehally ·40, Serampore 1·60, Chunditolla 62, Huripal ·73, and Kristonagore 1·08 inches. State and prospects of the crops are very good. Jute, sun , and early rice being cut. Outturn good. General health good; small-pox in a few places.
PRESIDENCY DIVN.	Howrah, „ 21, „	3·10	Weather hot and moist. State and prospects of crops are excellent.
	6 24-Pergunnahs, Aug 23,† '75	2·65	Weather warm, with occasional showers of rain. Harvesting of the aus , or early rice, progressing. Transplanting of aman , or late rice, is nearly completed; jute being cut. Except in a very few places, where the young aman has been drowned, the rice is generally a remarkably good crop. Fever increasing at Barripore, ordinary fever prevailing in sub-division Basseerhat. Two cases of small-pox reported from Satkhera.
	7 Nudden, „ 21, „	1·87	A good deal of sunshine, and occasional showers. There has been a little rain everywhere—enough to keep the ground moist, but not enough to prevent the rivers from carrying off the flood water. Floods have done some harm in Chooadangah and the Sudder, but embankments have been looked after in both these sub-divisions. The early rice harvest is progressing favorably, and the outturn will probably be good. Prices are still high. Coarse rice in some places fetches Rs. 2-12 per maund.
	8 Jessore, „ 21, „	1·83	No heavy rain during this week. Early rice being successfully harvested. Reports are good or fair from all sub-divisions except Magoora, where it appears the crops on the low lands have suffered from the heavy rain in the early part of the month.
RAJSHAHY DIVN.	9 Moorshedabad, „ 21, „	76	Seasonable weather. Prospects much the same as in last week. Rivers falling. The Bhagirathy has fallen 11½ inches. Loss by inundation to the early rice has been considerable, estimated at a five annas part of the whole crop at Lallbaugh, and at a four annas part at Jungipore. If the fall of the rivers continue a fair crop of the aus , or early rice, may be expected in the Sudder. Amun , or late rice, promises well on the whole. Sugarcane also looks well. Prices of rice have fallen everywhere. At the Sudder the average price of common rice, in 12 stations is 16½ seers per rupee, against 15½ seers of the past week. Health good.
	10 Dinagepore, „ 20, „	·92	Rainfall according to Magistrate's rain gauge 1·38 inches. Still no rain but in local showers; more, however, than last week. Bhadoi , koochee being cut; dhooonee beginning to ripen; estimates better than last week; average, say 10 annas: where ear has formed it is very good, but much is utterly spoilt. Hemanto , or late rice, still being transplanted. Plant very healthy. Much high land is uncultivated for want of water. Jute not much cut yet; only middling; 8 to 12 annas outturn. Sugarcane fair. Price of rice from 20 to 26 seers, in Kallygunge 30 seers. This shows that the traders are relieved of their anxiety about the bhadoi crops.
	11 Maldah, „ 21, „	1 05	Weather fair, with occasional showers. The floods have done serious injury in most places both to the early and the later autumn rice. The total outturn of the former crop is still uncertain. Transplanting of the winter rice is nearly finished. Mulberry cultivation has suffered from the inundations. Cholera is still present in the English Bazar, Maldah, and Sheebgunge thanas; seventeen attacks and thirteen deaths reported during the week.

Central Districts.—(Contd.)
RAJSHAHYE DIVN.—(Contd.)	12 Rajshahye, Aug. 21, '75	·83	There have been slight showers all over the district. Aous , or early rice, is still being harvested. In thana Manda, owing to some of the rivers having subsided rapidly, injury has been caused to the amun , or late rice, growing on their banks. The prospects of the other thanas remain satisfactory. Indigo crop has been a very good one. Ten cases of cholera have been reported in different places during the week; five fatal.
	13 Rungpore, „ 20, „	·36	Weather hot, with slight showers. Rain is now much wanted again, especially to the north. The work of transplantation is there being delayed. Elsewhere to the east and south there is still water enough for the present.
	14 Bogra, „ 21, „	·44	Weather dry, but now and then cloudy, with little falls of rain. Ploughing and transplantation are going on. More rain is needed.
	15 Pubna, „ 21, „	·94	Fair weather. State and prospects of crops are good.
COOCH BEHAR DIVN.	16 Darjeeling, „ 20, „	2·42	Days cloudy, but not much rain during the week. The crops both in the hills and terrai are progressing favorably. There appears to be no change since last report.
	17 Julpigoree, „ 21, „	1·51	Seasonable weather. The bladoi harvest is in progress, and the crop is a good one. The winter crop prospects are good. Transplanting the seedlings has been three-fourths or two-thirds done, and that under favorable circumstances. Cholera still continues in two places in the district, a few cases only occurring.
	Cooch Behar, „ 19, „	·53	It has been very hot during the week; the weather was not as cloudy or rainy as it ordinarily is in this season of the year. The want of rain is again being much felt. The ryots cannot finish transplanting late rice until they have more rain. The prospects of this important crop are not good at present.
Eastern Districts.
DACCA DIVN.	18 Dacca, Aug. 23,* '75	·70	Seasonable weather. State of crops are good. Rivers high.
	19 Fureedpore, „ 21, „	1·03	Weather continues hot and cloudy. The inundation has partially decreased. The general state and prospects of the crops are favorable. General health good.
	20 Backergunge, „ 19, „	·82	The flood water caused by the late heavy rains has to a great extent receded from the land, and the district officer reports that the damage done, has been very little. The general prospects of the district are good. The transplantation of the great rice crop is being pushed forward everywhere with much vigour. Health of the people is good.
	21 Mymensingh, „ 20, „	1·04	Weather generally fair; south-east wind; sky cloudy. The early rice crop is generally a full one. Slight harm done by the rise of the rivers in the south-east of the district to the lowa crop. Rivers now falling generally.
	22 Tipperah, „ 20, „	3·15	Fine hot weather, with some heavy showers of rain, generally during the night. Though the floods are slowly going down, large tracts of country in thanas Kotwali, Juggunathdighi, Laksham, and Barkamta, still continue under water, the crops being submerged and ruined; in thanas Chagunyah and Hazigunge and Tubkibogra, the floods have caused damage to crops, though not to such an extent as in the thanas first named. If the flood water does not drain off rapidly, the cultivators in the parts flooded will get no winter crop, as the time for sowing or transplanting will have passed.
CHITTAGONG DIVN.	23 Chittagong, „ 19, „	·99	Weather hot. The estimate as to the result of late heavy rains is, on an average for the district, 8 annas. Aous crop destroyed; remaining portion being reaped. Amun crop will not necessarily be deficient; its cultivation will, however, in some cases, have cost more owing to seed beds having been destroyed, and the plants not so destroyed costing more. Re-sowings have in many cases been made. More rain is now wanted,—not heavy rain, but showers.
	24 Nonkholly, „ 19, „	1·73	Weather cloudy, with slight showers of rain. In high lands the early rice is being reaped. Transplantation of amun paddy continues. The rapid subsidence of the late flood has saved the aous crop for the most part. There has been great destruction of amun seedlings. About 4 annas of the late transplanted amun dhan is reported to have been destroyed. Many cattle were starved during the flood. In Hatia 286 buffaloes and cows so perished, and in Sundip 90 buffaloes and cows died from want of fodder when the churs were submerged. The roads were submerged. Communication was kept open by boats. Roads and bridges have been much damaged. No stored grain was injured. All garden vegetables (sag) have been destroyed. Fever has been more prevalent.

* Telegram of the 23rd August, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

CHITTAGONG DIVN.—(Contd.)	25 Chittagong Hill Tracts, Aug. 17, '75	1.3	Some showers of rain during the week. The floods are now subsiding. The river Kurnool at one time rose sixty feet above its usual height. Great damage has been done to plough cultivation; the lands were submerged to a depth of eighteen feet in some villages, the whole season's crop is lost, and houses swept away. No loss of life reported. The jooms have suffered slightly, excessive rain having washed away the rich surface soil, leaving the roots of the plants bare. Landslips have occurred on the Rangamattie and Chittagong road, and communications were stopped for some days.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 18, „	2.18	Weather seasonable. Reports received during the last week from the sub-divisions of Koilashur and Oodeypur, dated 8th and 14th August respectively, state that great damage has been done to the rice crops by the late inundations. In Koilashur the rivers Munnoo and Dholai had inundated the valleys through which they flow, and completely destroyed the aus crops. In Oodeypore the inundations from the Gomtee have caused great damage to the aus crops in that part also. The sub-divisional officer of Oodeypore estimates that one-half of the crops in the plains and one-fourth in the hills have been destroyed. About Agartollah the aus and maize crops have suffered most, but the rice lands, which were injured, are being replanted. The public health is good everywhere except in Koilashur, where a good deal of fever prevails in the low lands.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVN.	26 Patna „ 23,* „	.19	Weather changeable. Slight rain on the night of the 21st instant. Prospects of the bhadoi crops continue favorable. Transplanting of rice seedlings fast going on, except in a tract of country to the south of the district, where rain is reported to be very scanty. Health generally good.
	27 Gaya „ 21, „	3.07	Weather cloudy and warm. Rained heavily on the 18th and 20th instant. Maximum thermometer rose to 94.6. Bhadoi crops doing well. Transplanting of rice nearly completed. Operations stopped in parts for want of more rain. In the north-west corner of district rain a good deal required. Sicknes little reported.
	28 Shahabad „ 21, „	1.10	Weather cloudy and hot. More rain has fallen in the south than in the north of the district. The prospects of the crops continue good.
	29 Durbhunga „ 21, „	1.68	Seasonable weather. The bhadoi harvest has commenced, and the greater part of the late rice has been transplanted.
	30 Mozufferpore „ 21, „	.85	Weather hot and cloudy. The rainfall during the week has done good to the bhadoi crops; more rain is wanted for paddy transplantation. In Sectamarhee sub-division transplanting of rice is going on generally. Muckai just commenced cutting. More rain wanted. The rainfall during the week is 1.9. In Hajipore sub-division the prospects are satisfactory. The rainfall during the week is 1.82 inches.
	31 Sarun „ 21, „	.78	Rainfall at Sewan 1.27 inches. Weather warm and close, but cloudy at the time of report. East wind prevailing. There was a slight fall of rain throughout the district, except within the jurisdiction of thana Pursa, in the Sudder sub-division. The prospects of the bhadoi crops are excellent. Indian-corn, murwa , shama , and languee , &c., millets are fast ripening. Transplanting of rice is going on. More rain is wanted for the late rice. Cholera still had in the jurisdiction of Ragonathpore, an outpost of thana Darowli, in the Sewan sub-division.
BHAGULPORE DIVN.	32 Chumpanan „ 20, „	3.53	There has been rain when most needed; the weather is fair, and at the same time cool. A bumper harvest of the bhadoi is expected. The late rice crop is also promising very well. The season is favorable for growth of all crops.
	33 Monghyr „ 21, „	.72	Fine weather. To the north of the Gunduck the bhadoi is very good. It is also good to the south of the Ganges. In the Beguserai sub-division the bhadoi between the Ganges and Gunduck has been generally damaged, or destroyed by the flood. A deposit, which the Collector believes will produce fine rubbee crops, has been brought down by the flood. The rice prospects generally are good.
	34 Bhagulpore „ 23,* „	2.46	Accounts are good from the south of the Ganges; fairly so, from Muddehpore. From Soopool it is reported that more rain is urgently required for the late rice crop. Rainfall has to date been decidedly short both in Muddehpore and Soopool sub-divisions. General health very good, but cholera has broken out in town at head-quarters.
	35 Purneah „ 21, „	1.01	Showery weather. The bhadoi crop is a fair one, about 12 annas, on the average throughout the district. More rain is wanted for the late rice.
	36 Sonthal Pergas „ 21, „	1.22	Light showers, with hot sun. The janera millet is not so good as the district officer hoped it would be. The crop is very uneven; much of it was sown late, and is stunted. The people call it a 12 annas crop. Prospects of rice are so far excellent. Small millets are not very good about Dumka. Cholera disappearing from Deoghur, but reported from a village in Hendowa.

* Telegrams of the 23rd August, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVISION.	37 Cuttack, Aug. 14, '75	2.34	Weather cloudy, with occasional rain, but much less than before. Crops have been under water in many places, and are so still in some parts, but no injury is apprehended. Cholera has almost disappeared.
	38 Pooree, „ 19, „	.38	Weather cloudy, close, and sultry, with occasional slight rain. Rainfall at Khoordah 4 inches. The early rice is coming on. The late rice plants are being weeded and transplanted. The state and prospects of the crops are generally not very discouraging, except in the inundated parts. Miscellaneous crops are doing tolerably well.
	39 Balasore, „ 20, „	6.50	Weather very wet in the north of the district, where the rainfall not only much exceeds what is wanted, but hinders cultivation. The rainfall of the week at Bhudruck is only reported to have been .70. The crops at present are all very good. Cholera has disappeared from the north, while sporadic cases are reported as still frequent in the south.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
	40 Hazareebagh, Aug 20, '75	3.20	Seasonable weather. No change to report. Cholera abating.
	41 Loharabugga, „ 21, „	6.20	Very rainy weather. Prospects of both early and late rice are very good. Goondli and marwa millets and Indian-corn are damaged by continued rain. Cholera still prevalent in Palamow.
	42 Singhbhoon, „ 20, „	2.64	Seasonable weather. The prospects of the rice crops are very favorable. District is healthy.
	43 Manbhoom, „ 21, „	1.26	Seasonable weather. In parts of the district a little more rain would have been advantageous. The reports are generally good. In Govindpore there has been scarcely enough rain for the rice in the high lands. Indigo has turned out a poor crop in this district.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer, means are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain-gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

NOTIFICATION.

The 26th August 1875.—In modification of the Notification dated the 27th December 1872, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 29th January 1873, the following revised Rules for the regulation of vessels having gunpowder on board having received the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under clause (O), section 7, Act XII of 1875 (the Indian Ports' Act, 1875), are published for general information.

H. J. REYNOLDS,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Revised Rules for the regulation of Vessels having Gunpowder on board.

1. UNDER the provisions of sections 7 (O), 28, 29, and 33 of Act XII of 1875, it is hereby notified that all inward-bound vessels carrying gunpowder, the total quantity of which is in excess of 5lb, are prohibited from proceeding above Budge-Budge, and the Master of any vessel lying within the Port, or in the river above Budge-Budge, which shall have on board any gunpowder in excess of 5lb, will be liable to the penalty provided in section 34 of the said Act XII of 1875: Provided that boats will be permitted to bring as far as Neemuck Mehal Ghât, under cover of a pass to be granted by the Commissioners, 50lb of gunpowder, the property of dealers and consignees.

2. All such gunpowder, in excess of the prescribed quantity, 5lb, must be landed and deposited in the magazine at Moyapore.

3. The magazine-keeper will take charge of the gunpowder immediately on its being conveyed to the shore at Moyapore, and will deposit it in the magazine.

4. For the convenience of vessels having gunpowder on board, a properly constructed powder-boat will be always in attendance off the magazine for landing and shipping powder. No charge will be made for the use of the boat for landing ship's powder, but the responsibility of the keeper in respect of the powder will not commence until it is landed on the bank, and will cease as soon as it is shipped on board the boat. Every precaution will be taken to ensure the safety of the powder while in the boat, but the landing and shipping is at the risk of the vessel.

5. Vessels bringing consignments of trade or Government powder will be liable to pay landing charges for the use of the boat if the magazine boat is used; and should passing vessels require the use of the boat to put out or receive ship's powder, such vessels must be accommodated before the boat can be used to discharge powder or ammunition brought as cargo.

6. In order to avoid unnecessary detention, masters of vessels requiring the use of the powder-boat are required to hoist a flag at the foretopmast head on coming in sight of the magazine, as a signal to the keeper to have boat and coolies in attendance.

7. Masters of vessels are required to mark the names of their respective vessels on the barrels and packages of gunpowder previously to their being landed, and if not marked they will not be received by the magazine boat.

8. Gunpowder shall not be landed or received into the magazine when artificial lights are required to be used.

9. The magazine-keeper shall give to the Master or other person making the deposit a receipt for the number of packages, and he shall be accountable to such master or other person for the re-delivery of such packages.

10. A native clerk will be always in attendance in the powder-boat, and will grant the Master the receipt specified in the foregoing rule.

11. If any vessel shall be prevented, by stress of weather or by being in distress, from landing or depositing such gunpowder, in excess of the quantity allowed as aforesaid, such vessel may be permitted to come up to the lower limits of the port, but shall not proceed above Mettea Broose Ghât, and the Master of such vessel shall forthwith give notice to the Conservator of his having such gunpowder on board, and shall obey his directions relating to the same.

12. Masters of vessels outward bound, who may require gunpowder for their outward voyage, shall not take gunpowder on board in any part of the river above Budge-Budge, with the exception of a quantity not exceeding 5lb.

13. Masters of vessels who have deposited ship's powder at the magazine should inform the Deputy Conservator of the date on which the vessels will pass the magazine outward bound, and on receipt of this information orders will be forwarded to the keeper to place the powder in the boat, and send it off in such time as to avoid any detention of the outward bound vessel. Before delivering the powder, the receipt granted by the magazine-keeper must be given up.

14. Delivery of powder into boats at the magazine for conveyance to Calcutta will only be granted upon orders issued from the office of the Commissioners.

15. No boat containing powder shall be allowed to proceed above Neemuck Mehal Ghât. All powder shall be landed at Neemuck Mehal Ghât, and no powder shall be landed at any other ghât, except with the special permission of the Commissioners.

16. The two foregoing rules shall not apply to Government powder-boats, which will be allowed to enter the port and discharge their powder under the rules laid down by the Inspector-General of Ordnance.

17. No smoking, and no fire or light of any description, shall be permitted on board of any boat having gunpowder, combustible ammunition, or inflammable oil on board.

18. No powder shall be landed within the Port at any time when artificial light is required to be used.

 The Rig-Veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class-books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholarlike knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammars, and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country.—Extract from Preface.

Notification.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

MISCELLANEOUS.

No. 1707 A. of 1875, dated the 21st August 1875.

THE following tea plantations in Kumaun, the property of Government, will be offered for sale by public auction at the Senior Assistant Commissioner's Office, Almora, on Wednesday, the 1st of December 1875, at noon:—

Hawalbagh.—Forty-six miles from the plains by bridle-road, and six from Almora. Area, about one hundred acres, after excluding the house known as Mr. Traill's, with its compound, which will not be sold: said house and ground are in an outlying corner of the estate, and are to be set apart for travellers. Separated from the plantation by the Kosi river (suspension bridge) is a pine forest of one hundred and two acres, belonging to the estate, but in which neighbouring villages have the right to graze their cattle. The garden, having latterly been used as a nursery for fruit trees, the whole of the area is not under tea. There are on the estate two large slated houses (exclusive of Traill's house), a slated factory, two slated godowns, a slated barrack for tea-makers, and numerous slated out-offices. The height of the houses above sea-level is 4,000 feet, and the lands are not much higher or lower. Upset price, Rs. 25,000.

Communications.—A good bridle-road, 8 to 10 feet wide and bridged, runs to 1, 2, 3—markets at the (1) Haldwani, (2) Kaladungi foot of the hills. (vid Naini Tal), and (3) Ramnagar (vid Khyrna). From Haldwani to Bareilly railway station, 60 miles, over a pukka cart-road; from Kaladungi to Moradabad railway station, 48 miles, on partly pukka road; and from Ramnagar to Moradabad, 45 miles, via Kashipur, of which 25 miles, more or less, are a kutcha fair-weather road, bridged. Bridge-of-boats on Ramganga, north of Moradabad. From Ramnagar up there is a cart-road (Kosi river not bridged) to Ranikhet, 56 miles; and to the Hawalbagh plantation, where the Kosi river is being bridged, 19 miles.

Ayar Toli.—In Kattyur, consisting of about 2,546 acres. The area under tea was some years ago considerable. About 700 acres are cleared, and nearly 1,500 acres consist of jungle, of which part may be unculturable: a portion of the estate named Binculi, 919 acres, is held under a perpetual lease from the Nagnath temple, at an annual rent of Rs. 24. There were on the estate a house, factory, godown, and numerous out-offices, all slated; but all these are in bad repair. Height of house above sea-level, 5,200 feet, and the plantation ranges from that height to 4,400 feet. Upset price, Rs. 17,000.

These two estates will be put up to auction separately, at the upset prices named, and sold in fee simple to the highest bidder, free of all demands for land revenue, but subject to the rights already named in each case, and also to payment of customary cesses now in force, or that may be imposed hereafter.

Both estates have been surveyed, and maps may be seen at the District Office, Almora. Intending purchasers must satisfy themselves as to the present condition of the estates, and on all other matters involved in their sale. The purchasers must deposit 5 per cent. of the purchase-money at the time of sale, and the balance on or before the 1st of January 1876, when possession will be given: failing payment in full, the deposit will be forfeited, and the estate resold.

By order of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces.

A. COLVIN, Offg. Secretary

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS—No 2609

READ—

The Annual Administration Report of the Commissioner for the Presidency Division for the year 1874-75

THE Commissioner rightly insists on the importance of the district officer's annual tour through the interior of his district. The best way in which an officer in administrative charge can acquire that intimate knowledge of the peculiarities of his jurisdiction, and of the wants of the people, which is essential to efficient administration, is by constant tours into the interior, not only during the cold weather, but at other periods of the year also. The officers of the Presidency division seem to have done their duty fairly in this respect, although in the 24-Pergunnahs there is always a difficulty about the district officer's tour in consequence of the frequent applications at head-quarters requiring to be dealt with by him in person.

2. The rice harvests in the division yielded only a moderate outturn. The cold-weather crops were benefited greatly by the rainfall during the last three months of the year, and in most places were all that could be wished. In the 24-Pergunnahs there have been three successive bad rice seasons. In Nuddea the greatest distress was occasioned by the inundation of 1871, and the season of 1872 was not one of special prosperity: in all the districts there was a very short crop in the famine year of 1873-74. But in spite of these disasters the great majority of the population have been able to tide over their difficulties without any attempt to throw themselves on the charity of Government. The state of the division is a proof of the self-reliance and self-help of the people of Bengal, and of the rapidity with which the country recovers from natural calamities. "It is to be feared, however," adds Lord Ulick Browne, "that the effects of the past year's trials are now telling upon the people, and it may well be doubted whether they will be able to pass through another such crisis without some years of intervening prosperity. Not only are stocks all exhausted, but the ryots are deep in the mahajun's books. The mahajun is to them, in the time of scarcity, a never failing friend; but his exactions in the shape of interest on advances are, as is well known, on no ordinary scale. Repeated good harvests can alone enable the ryots to pay off his advances, with the interest due thereon, and provide fresh stocks against future bad seasons." The Lieutenant-Governor cannot but regard this indebtedness with regret and apprehension. The middle classes and the non-agricultural classes generally were very badly off during a great part of the year.

3. The Commissioner reports that the cultivation of indigo is said to be reviving in the Baraset sub-division of the 24-Pergunnahs district. The mode of cultivation adopted is ryotwaree; the ryots receiving seed from the factory, cultivating the plant themselves, and selling it at fixed prices to the factory which makes the advances. At one place a factory is said to have been started at the solicitation of the ryots themselves, who came forward to sow 1,000 beeghas without any advances. In the Nuddea district the produce of the past year was moderate. The plant is grown under the old system of contracts and advances, the ryot giving from three to five bundles for a rupee. The co-operative system of growing indigo has been accepted by two or three native zemindars of the district, and was alluded to in the Government resolution on the report for 1872-73; but the Collector states that he has no new facts before him showing the progress made under the system during the past year. The indigo season is said to have been on the whole a favorable one in the Jessore district.

4. No new information is given by the Commissioner in section 9 of his report, on trade and commerce. It seems that the sub-divisional officer of Ranaghat has attempted to make an estimate of the local traffic in his sub-division, but the Commissioner cannot accept his figures as even approximately correct. A great part of the trade of the district of Nuddea is, however, already registered in the returns of the toll-collectors of the Nuddea rivers, and in the returns of the Eastern Bengal Railway; and under the system of registration which has recently been sanctioned by Government, we may hope to collect very complete figures of the trade of all the districts of the division. What is of importance is that the traffic returns should be promptly published and widely circulated. At present the value of such information as is at the disposal of Government is impaired by the delay which unavoidably accompanies the submission and collation of the local returns.

5. The late scarcity, and the action taken by Government to help the people, are reported to be the subjects on which public feeling during the year was most interested. "All classes," writes Lord Ulick Browne, "were well pleased with the policy followed from the beginning and its result, and it is hardly too much to say that at no period has our Government been more highly esteemed in respect of liberal views and humane consideration for the well being of its subjects."

6. No less than nine periodicals, chiefly newspapers, are at present published in the 24-Pergunnahs, some of which, especially the Bongo Durshun, which is a monthly magazine, are of considerable interest and circulation. In Nuddea there are now two newspapers, but neither of them is of much importance. Jessore has no newspaper of any kind; the Amrita Bazar Patrika, which takes its name from a place in that district, being now published in Calcutta, though it still enjoys a large circulation in Jessore.

7. Lord Ulick Browne again brings to the notice of Government the complaint that under the present system of administration the district officers are overtasked in work. The same representation was made in Sir George Campbell's time, who replied that work had admittedly much increased in all departments, and could only be met by a system of improved method and arrangement, and the enforcement of a judicious distribution of work. The work in the districts of the Presidency division is no doubt especially heavy, but the Lieutenant-Governor is reluctant to agree with the Commissioner that the general outturn of that work is not as good now as it used to be a few years ago. The administration of the three districts of the 24-Pergunnahs, Jessore, and Nuddea is, indeed, now carried on with full efficiency. If it was essentially better in former days, it must have been extraordinarily good. The Commissioner proposes to appoint an extra officer in these and in all the fully subdivided districts to assist the district officer in his executive work; but it is obvious that there are many difficulties, financial and other, in the way of giving effect to such a proposal. We must do the best we can with the officers we have, for the Government can hardly afford the cost of maintaining more. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to see that the new subdivisional executive establishments are working well.

8. Deputy Collector Baboo Ram Sunkur Sen had already completed his inquiries for the collection of agricultural statistics in the two sub-divisions of Jhenidah and Magoorah in the Jessore district, and during the year he submitted a further report upon the sub-division of Bagirhat. This report also is a very valuable one. But with this exception, the further prosecution of statistical inquiries seems to have languished. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets that this should be the case, and will consider what steps should be taken for the further prosecution of these important inquiries.

9. The experimental farm at Baraset has not been attended with success owing to the absence of any skilled supervision, and the Commissioner has found it necessary to recommend that the farm should be closed.

10. The collections of land revenue were not affected seriously by the scarcity in the early part of the year;—over 98 per cent of the total demand on account of permanently-settled estates was realized in the 24-Pergunnahs, 97 per cent in Nuddea, and over 97 per cent in Jessore. The excise revenue was even on the increase in all the districts of the division, especially in the 24-Pergunnahs, where the increase was as much as $14\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. The higher excise receipts are due principally to the licenses for sale of a number of exciseable articles having been issued under the auction system, and to the fact that licenses for the sale of opium have been issued, for the first time, on payment of a monthly fee. In both cases the result has been to check consumption, and at the same time to add to the revenue.

11. The progress of education has been well looked after. There are now in the 24-Pergunnahs 1,385 schools with 49,333 pupils; in Nuddea, 897 schools with 28,489 pupils; and in Jessore, 808 schools with 26,360 pupils. Female education is, however, said not to be making much advance, except in Nuddea, where there are several girls' schools. The proportion of Mahomedan boys who attend in the schools is improving every year; but there is truth in what the Magistrate of Jessore says, that the Mahomedan population, consisting for the most part of poor agriculturalists, keeps away from schools owing to want of means at least as much as to prejudice.

12. The Commissioner reports favorably of the success of the local committees, whether for road-cess, or for education, or for municipal administration. There is no mistaking, he writes, the amount of interest and desire to take part in public usefulness which the system has called forth. "Much useful information in all departments reaches the district officer through these local bodies, which itself is an advantage. In municipal matters, and in matters connected with road-works specially, the committees can, if they like, be, and often are, a material help. They not only make known the wants of their respective localities, but sometimes accept and carry out the work of supervising the construction and repair of roads." This testimony of the Commissioner to the utility of the local committees is very encouraging. The moral advantage thus gained is, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, equally important with the material advantage.

13. Lord Ulick Browne reports also favorably of the conduct of the zemindars in the division. Many zemindars behaved towards their ryots with forbearance, and many with liberality, during the scarcity. The Commissioner prominently brings to the notice of Government the names of Rajah Komul Krishna and Rajah Narendra Krishna, and the heirs of Sir Rajah Radha Kant Deb, in the 24-Pergunnahs; of Mr. Sibbald, Baboo Soorindro Nath Pal Chowdhuri, Baboo Bamun Das Mookerjee, Baboo Nuffer Chunder Pal Chowdhry, and Moulla Khodadad Khan, in Nuddea.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE DACCA DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1874-75.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS.

READ—

The Annual General Report of the Dacca Division for the year 1874-75.

THE present Acting Commissioner was in charge of the division for only about two and a half months of the year under review, and was detained at headquarters during nearly the whole of the time, so that his report is necessarily rather an abstract of the information supplied by the district officers, than the result of his own experience and observation. The report embraces the districts of Dacca, Fureedpore, Mymensingh, and Backergunge; the district of Tipperah having been added to the division since the close of the year.

2. The rainfall of 1874-75 was considerably below the average, but the rain fell at opportune seasons, and was consequently sufficient for agricultural operations. The rice crop was a good one throughout all the districts of the division. The area sown with jute was somewhat less than in the previous year, but good prices were realized, and the crop brought large profits to the cultivators. The cultivation of safflower is decreasing, in consequence of the lower value which the dye now commands in the Calcutta market.

3. Two remarkable whirlwinds occurred in the district of Mymensingh during the month of March 1875. One of them passed through 12 villages, and is stated to have destroyed upwards of 1,000 houses. Of the other storm, which occurred a few days later in the south-west of the district, an interesting account has been published in the transactions of the Asiatic Society.

4. The year was for the most part a healthy one, and there was no violent outbreak of epidemic disease, but malarious fever was very prevalent in the sub-division of Manickgunge in the Dacca district, and in the district of Fureedpore. In Manickgunge, the death-rate was 54 per thousand, and in the Fureedpore Municipality the registered deaths per 1,000 of population amounted to 56.4, and the mortality in some villages of the interior rose as high as 66.1 per thousand. The Civil Surgeon of Fureedpore, who has had some years experience of the district, thinks that its unhealthiness is due to the gradual silting up of the khalls and minor streams, and he is also of opinion that the people are materially in a worse condition than formerly, and less fitted to resist the attacks of disease. There appears, however, to be no reason for thinking that the condition of the people has altered for the worse. Fureedpore is perhaps not so prosperous as other districts of the division: but even in Fureedpore the Commissioner thinks that the ryots are certainly better off than they were some years ago, and in other districts there is a general agreement of opinion that the condition of the cultivating classes (who form the great bulk of the population) is one of steady improvement and increased comfort.

5. As regards the silting up of the minor streams, causing unhealthiness, it is to be feared that this is but too true; though probably it is not worse in Fureedpore now than in previous periods. Sir Richard Temple believes that the effectual dealing with the great drainage question is one of the subjects most nearly affecting the material condition of the people in many parts of Bengal, and that, by a vigorous co-operation between the executive and the zemindars and the ryots, considerable improvements might be made, so that fever-breeding swamps might be converted into food-providing plains. This, however, is a large subject, which will be separately considered. Meanwhile, the Lieutenant-Governor can only say that, if the district authorities can propose the clearing of any particular stream which is stagnant, and can indicate the means of executing it by use of the Land Improvement Act or otherwise, the Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to take it into consideration. But it is of little avail to propose improvements, unless at the same time the means of executing them are in some degree shown.

6. During the earlier months of the year the price of food was high, owing to excessive exportation; indeed, alarm was caused in some places by the local markets being insufficiently supplied. But it was soon apparent that there was no actual deficiency of stocks, and the excitement subsided, though the high prices continued till November, when the prospects of the winter crop of rice were assured. It would have been interesting to know the estimated extent of the exportation of food grains from the division during the year: but the Commissioner has given no figures to show this.

7. Under the head of commerce and manufactures, the Commissioner notices the remarkable expansion of the jute trade in Dacca during the last twelve years. There are now ten European and Armenian firms who deal largely in this article of produce: three steam-presses have already been set up, and two others are in course of erection. The report, however, gives no estimate of the quantity of jute annually exported from Dacca and Narain-gunge: though, as the greatest part of it is forwarded by steamer, it would not have been difficult to give approximately correct figures of the extent of the trade.

8. The Commissioner has given a list of the several imports and exports of each district of the division, but it is not stated whether this list merely expresses the opinion of the several district officers, or is founded upon any actual registration of the traffic. Sugar is said to be imported into Backergunge. This apparently requires further verification on reference to another fact, which seems to tend in an opposite direction, namely, that one of the principal manufactures of Backergunge is goor, of which large quantities are made. The correctness also of the remark that all the hide trade of the division, except that of Fureedpore, passes through Dacca, appears open to question, as hides exported from Western Mymensingh would naturally reach Calcutta viâ Serajgunge.

9. The Lieutenant-Governor thinks that the Commissioner's report ought to have been more completely elaborated in respect to the interesting topics touched upon in the last three paragraphs. It is hoped that the registration of river traffic, which has been recently ordered, will help the Commissioner in making his future reports more explicit than the present one. If he finds that any additional local registration is needed, the Lieutenant-Governor would be prepared to incur some moderate expense for this purpose.

10. The leading zemindars of the division, with scarcely an exception, assembled at Dacca, in the month of August, on the occasion of the Viceroy's visit to the town. His Excellency was received with a loyal and cordial welcome. During his visit he laid the foundation stone of the Water Works which have been presented to the town by the munificence of Nawab Abdool Gunny, C.S.I.

11. Another, and a less agreeable, topic of public interest during the year, has been the state of feeling between landlords and tenants, which has caused some uneasiness in the Dacca and Mymensingh districts. On one estate in Dacca serious agrarian riots were apprehended: but eventually the Commissioner and the Collector succeeded in persuading both parties to refer the dispute to arbitration. The arbitrators, however, have been long in coming to a decision; and whether they will succeed, not only in promulgating such decision, but also in carrying it on to the stage of amicable adjustment, remains to be seen. In Mymensingh, though no disturbances have occurred, there have in several cases been combinations among the ryots to withhold rents. It is satisfactory to learn that there is but little of this ill-feeling in Fureedpore, and that in Backergunge the relations between the parties are apparently friendly. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, deems it his duty to state that his own information and impressions do not enable him to support this favorable conclusion as regards Backergunge. Many well informed native gentlemen have expressed much apprehension as to the prospect of affairs in that deltaic region. And the experience which the Government itself is having in one of its own estates there, tends to confirm that apprehension.

12. The Lieutenant-Governor entirely approves of the action of the Commissioner in dealing with these unfortunate disputes. It is the duty of the executive officers of Government to maintain the public peace, to act with entire impartiality towards both of the parties, and to induce both of them, if possible, to arrange the difficulty by mutual concession, or a reference to arbitration. The Commissioner has followed this course, under the Lieutenant-Governor's directions, and has hitherto succeeded in preventing any breach of the peace, and in several instances has brought the disputants to agree to arrangements which may lead to a lasting settlement of the differences between them. In the opinion of the Commissioner, the introduction into the Bengal Council of the Bill for the prevention of agrarian disputes is likely to contribute beneficially to the quieting of the country. The Commissioner notices a remarkable rumour, which was disseminated shortly after the Viceroy's visit to Dacca, to the effect that the Queen had sent out orders that no ryot was to pay more than 5 annas per beegah for his arable land, and 8 annas for his homestead. For a time great excitement was caused, and it was eventually necessary to issue a proclamation to undeceive the people. The incident shews the direction in which the mind of the people is being drawn, and should be duly remembered by all concerned.

13. Among the administrative changes of the year, the Commissioner notices the permanent location of an Additional Judge at Fureedpore, the introduction of the Road Cess Act into Backergunge, and the opening of several new registration offices in Dacca and Mymensingh. Since the close of the year, Fureedpore has been constituted a separate civil and sessions division. The Chowkidari Act VI (B C.) of 1870 has been introduced into the districts of Dacca, Backergunge, and Fureedpore: but it is yet too soon to judge of the results.

14. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to see that, though there was an increase in the excise revenue of the division during the year, the consumption of ganjah is steadily diminishing. The auction system has now been extended to licenses for the sale of ganjah, and it is anticipated that this will lead to a further decrease in the consumption of the drug. Sir Richard Temple begs that the district authorities will do all in their power to diminish, by rendering it more and more expensive, the consumption of a drug which is held by the best medical authorities to provoke a variety of serious ailments, which in many instances lead to crime and to lunacy. A fee is now also charged on the issue of opium licenses, which previously were granted free, but this has hitherto had the effect of increasing the revenue from opium, without reducing the consumption. The fees charged are small, and will perhaps admit of being raised, though it was doubtless prudent to charge only a low fee on the first introduction of the new system. If consumption can be reduced by raising the fee, this should be done.

15. In Public Works no new projects of any great importance have been undertaken, but useful progress has been made in some works already in hand, and several lines of road have been efficiently repaired. The action of the local Committees of Mymensingh and Fureedpore, in turning their attention to the improvement of water communication, appears to be judicious.

16. Primary education continues to make a satisfactory advance, especially in Backergunge and Mymensingh. The Commissioner remarks that the great majority of primary aided schools in the division are really new schools which have been called into existence by the operation of the orders of September 1872: and that the statement made in some quarters that the result of those orders has simply been to subsidize schools already founded, which would have done as well if no Government aid had been extended to them, is incorrect, so far as the Dacca division is concerned. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with pleasure the statements of the report on the attention which is now being paid to female education, and on the increasing proportion of Mahomedan boys at school. As regards the expansion and the gradual elevation of primary education, Sir Richard Temple cannot pass over any opportunity of impressing upon the district authorities his sense of the importance of this matter. Indeed, success in this respect—actually tried and proved success—will be one out of many tests whereby he will judge of the ability and efficiency of the district officers in their several grades.

17. The conduct of zemindars is noticed as having been generally worthy of their wealth and position. Several of the Dacca zemindars distinguished themselves by liberality during the scarcity, conspicuous among whom were Nawab Abdool Gunny, C.S.I., his son Khajeh Ahsanoollah, Khan Bahadoor, Ray Kalinarain Chowdhry of Bhawal, and the Koondoo Family of Bhaggacool. Among Mymensingh zemindars, Baboo Kashi Kishore Roy of Ramgopalpore is noticed for his considerate and liberal conduct in remitting three months' rent, and postponing the demand of three months more, to the inhabitants of 12 villages on his estate whose houses were destroyed by the whirlwind of the 19th March alluded to above.

18. On the whole, the Lieutenant-Governor collects from this report that, in the Dacca division, the past year, if it has not been signalized by any very remarkable occurrences, has been a time of steady improvement and of general prosperity. Though a greater number of offences have been reported, the increase is confined to petty cases. The commercial classes among the natives are fairly prosperous. The mass of the agricultural population are better off than in any part of Bengal, save the Rungpore county. Education is advancing very much among the Hindoos, and to some extent among the Mahomedans. The social condition of some of the lower classes among the Mahomedans needs a partial reform. The only source of grave anxiety consists in the relations between landlord and tenant.

RESOLUTION ON THE WORKING OF THE SYSTEM OF SUMMARY TRIAL.

JUDICIAL.

READ—

Reports from the Commissioners of Divisions, on the working of the system of summary trial under the Criminal Procedure Code, from the 1st July 1873 to 30th April 1875.

Read again—

The Resolution dated 6th January 1874, on the working of the system during the half-year ending with June 1873.

1. On the introduction of the new Code of Criminal Procedure, the late Lieutenant-Governor, while admitting the great advantage which would result from the provisions contained in Chapter XVIII, under which the power of summary trial was conferred on District Magistrates, and on such other Magistrates or Benches of Magistrates as Government might specially empower, expressed his apprehension that some officers might possibly run from the extreme of prolix enquiry and lengthy record to too brief and careless a statement of the finding and sentence. He accordingly issued instructions to guard against this, and intimated that he would hold Magistrates of Districts responsible for examining from time to time the proceedings of their subordinates, and for bringing to notice any instance in which the powers of summary trial were indiscreetly exercised, or in which the record was careless and insufficient. In the exercise of their general powers of supervision and control, Commissioners of Divisions were also required to report after a brief period on the manner in which the powers conferred on the several officers within their respective jurisdictions had been exercised. On a review of these reports at the beginning of last year, Sir G. Campbell observed the generally favorable testimony borne to the discretion with which summary trials had been conducted, and to the general regularity of the proceedings of the various courts, and he expressed his willingness to allow an extension of the system in view of the famine then apprehended. During the scarcity which ensued, powers of summary trial were in consequence somewhat freely bestowed, more so than, perhaps, would have been justifiable but for the pressure under which all the departments of Government were then working. At the close of the relief operations, however, the powers were again withdrawn from those officers to whom, in ordinary times, they would not have been granted, and the Commissioners were called on to report on the manner in which summary trials had been conducted from the 1st July 1873 to the 30th April last. These reports have now all been received, and the results, as regards the several divisions, are as follow :—

2. Burdwan Division.—The report on the working of the system in this division is generally favorable. The relief afforded to judicial officers, and also the benefit to the public as regards the speedy despatch of business, has been considerable. There has been a general absence of complaint as to any abuse of the powers exercised, and the proceedings of most of the officers have been quite regular. The Lieutenant-Governor observes, however, that the work of two Deputy Magistrates in Howrah is not favorably reported on, and this would point to the necessity of the exercise of a stricter supervision by the District Magistrate. The Commissioner's report is incomplete, inasmuch as it does not sufficiently explain why in some of the districts of his division no cases have been tried summarily by Benches of Magistrates. His attention is called to the orders of 12th May 1873, in which Sir George Campbell said that it would be a very good thing if, while Magistrates of districts are in their sudder station, they would sit once a week with an Honorary Magistrate for disposal, summarily, of cases fit to come before Benches ; and the Lieutenant-Governor requests that the Commissioner will impress upon the Magistrates of the division the importance of promoting the Bench system by encouraging the Honorary Magistrates to try petty cases in which no tedious procedure is necessary.

3. Presidency Division.—The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find that the Commissioner having been careful when on circuit to examine the records of decided cases, is able to report very favorably of the manner in which the powers of summary trial have been exercised, both by individual officers and by Benches. The Commissioner considers that these powers are a most valuable aid to the administration of justice, and adds that no complaints of injustice have been received, and that, if there has been any error in procedure, it has been on the side of needless prolixity.

4. Cooch Behar Division.—In Darjeeling, the powers of summary trial have been but sparingly exercised by the Deputy Commissioner. In Julpigoree, the Deputy Commissioner, his Assistant, and a Bench of Honorary Magistrates exercised the powers. In both districts the system is said to have worked well, and to the satisfaction of the public.

5. Rajshahye Division.—The reports of the Magistrates of the districts of this division, as regards the proceedings of the Benches vested with summary powers, have been generally favorable. Through some misapprehension, reports have not been submitted on the proceedings of Magistrates sitting alone ; but from the Commissioner's remarks, the Lieutenant-Governor infers that in these cases also the system of summary procedure has worked well.

6. Chittagong Division.—The Commissioner observes that summary powers were judiciously exercised in all the districts of the division, and that there was no indiscriminate application of the provisions of the law. It would seem, however, that an erroneous practice has hitherto obtained of dealing summarily with cases under the Salt, Excise, and Arms Acts.

7. Dacca Division.—In the district of Dacca, the Magistrate reports that in all the cases summarily disposed of which he examined, he found that the record was quite sufficient, that the tendency was rather to write too much than too little, that cases were well chosen, and that the procedure was a great relief to the Magistrates. In Fureedpore, the powers have generally been properly exercised, but one Deputy Magistrate is reported to have disposed of summarily some cases which were not properly triable in this manner. In Dacca and Fureedpore the powers conferred on Benches have been freely exercised with satisfactory results. In Backergunge and Mymensingh, however, the Commissioner complains of the difficulty experienced in getting a Bench together, more particularly in the sub-divisions, owing to the almost entire absence of persons qualified to act as Honorary Magistrates. The Commissioner has promised to give careful consideration to the subject.

8. Patna Division.—The total number of cases tried summarily in this division during the year under report was 1,331, of which 653 were decided by Benches of Magistrates. The district officers are unanimous in reporting that the officers vested with summary powers used them judiciously and with great care. The registers kept were sufficient, and in accordance with the rules on the subject. The result of appeals, so far as reported, has been satisfactory.

9. Bhagulpore Division.—The system has been found to be generally successful in this division, and is said to be popular. Most of the cases were disposed of in one sitting. In the district of Bhagulpore there were no appeals; in Purneah six. In all the districts the results of appeals show that in two cases only were the orders reversed. The Commissioner has regularly called for and inspected a few cases from each of the Courts at the close of every quarter, and reports that he has found but few irregularities.

10. Orissa Division.—The Magistrate of Cuttack has been informed by all classes that no unfavorable prejudice is entertained against summary procedure, and that the decisions of the Bench have given universal satisfaction. The results are reported to have been equally favorable in the other districts. In some cases tried in Pooree, the Commissioner observed that the records were unusually long.

11. Chota Nagpore Division.—The reports received from this division are also very favorable. The Commissioner states that he knows of no instance in which the power was abused, and thinks that, with careful and conscientious officers, it is never likely to be abused.

12. On thus reviewing the reports, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find that so far the introduction of the system of summary trial has been attended with success. In the cases examined by the several Commissioners, the proceedings have almost invariably been found to have been regular and carefully recorded. A few errors have been detected with respect to the classes of cases triable summarily, but generally the test of appeal shows that the work has been well done, and the number of cases, where a reversal of judgment has taken place, has been small. The relief afforded to judicial officers has been very considerable, while the rapid disposal of cases has promoted the public convenience. In the absence of complaint, it is to be inferred that the change has been accepted as beneficial by the classes whom it affects. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that by the continuance of a discreet exercise of the powers entrusted to them, the several Magistrates and Benches of Magistrates will continue to merit the confidence of Government and of the public.

BENGAL.
Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIVN.	1 Burdwan, Aug. 30,* '75	3 87	Rainfall at Culna 3·78, Cutwa 1·98, Jehanabad 2·66, RaneeGUNGE 4·21, and Bood-bood 3·74 inches. All the crops now on the ground, viz. paddy, jute, and sugarcane, are looking well. Fever slightly on the increase.
	2 Bankoora, „ 28, „	8 73	Heavy showers during the week. Prospects of crops are very favorable.
	3 Beerbhoom, „ 28, „	3·46	Showery weather. State and prospects of the crops continue good.
	4 Midnapore, „ 28 „	·95	Rainfall exceptionally scanty at Sudder station; at Contai 7·13, at Tumlook 4·83, and at Gurbetta 3·36 inches. The yield of the early rice (aous) is proving very good, and the prospects of all the other crops on the ground are also good.
	5 Hooghly, „ 28, „	2·80	Rainfall at Chinsurah 3·09, Bansberiah 2·58, Chunditollah 3·90, Serampore 3·05, Pandooah 2·95, Dhonakhally 3·41, Bullagore 3·19, Huripal 3·26, and at Kristonagore 2·83 inches. Weather hot but less fine than last week. State and prospects of the crops are very good everywhere. Good harvest of early rice, jute, and sun . Still a little small-pox and a little fever, but general health is good.
	Howrah, „ 28, „	3·78	Seasonable weather. The early rice crops are in, and are exceedingly good ones. The later crop doing very well indeed. If no unfavorable change occurs in the weather, this will be a bumper one.
Central Districts.
PRESIDENCY DIVN.	6 24-Pergunnahs, Aug. 30,† '75	2·41	Rainy during the first three days of the week, and very hot since. Early rice and jute being cut. Transplantation of the late rice all but completed. Ordinary fever prevailing to some extent in Satkhira. Two cases of small-pox and one case of cholera reported from that sub-division. Fever increasing at Barrpore.
	7 Nuddea, „ 28, „	3 87	Rain daily. The harvest of early rice is going on favorably, and the late rice is promising so far; but in parts of the district (especially Chooadaung) the floods are causing much apprehension. The rivers did fall a little, but are now rising again.
	8 Jessore, „ 28, „	3·30	Weather cloudy, with seasonable rain; wind south-east. The late rice is progressing favorably. The early crop has suffered in Magoora and Narail.
RAJSHAHYE DIVN.	9 Moorsshedabad, „ 28, „	4·70	Weather cloudy and rainy. The Bhagirathce is again rising steadily; the crops on low lands are therefore again under water, and considerable damage to the aous , or early rice crop, is apprehended, as well as to the aman , or late rice crop, in the Kulantar. The late rice crop generally and the early rice crops on high lands promise well. Prices have fallen since last report. Those of common rice at the Sudder range from 14 to 20 seers per rupee. Public health is satisfactory.
	10 Dinagepore, „ 27, „	2·47	Rain according to Magistrate's rain gauge 2·4. Want of rain; trivial local showers only till Tuesday. A fair rainfall on Tuesday and Wednesday. Bhadai koochee being cut. Dhooce beginning to ripen; estimates better than last week; average, say 10 annas. Where ear has formed it is very good, but much is utterly spoilt. Hemanto likewise; transplanting still going on. Probably much higher land will remain fallow. Jute said by ryots to be good; dealers complain of quality.
	11 Maldah, „ 28, „	2 63	Weather fair at the beginning of the week, cloudy and rainy till Thursday; Friday dry and cloudy. In some places a quarter, in others half or more of the early autumn rice is reported to have been destroyed by the floods; the remnant is being reaped; no further damage to it reported. The later autumn rice has been also partly submerged; the extent of damage done to it is as yet uncertain, but its prospects have somewhat improved from the subsidence of the floods. The winter or late rice is being transplanted, and is doing well, though in one place dry weather is said to have injured it. The rain has not been good for mulberry cultivation. Twenty-one deaths from cholera are reported during the week.
	12 Rajshahye, „ 28, „	2·32	Heavy rain reported from Tannore. There has been moderate rain all over the district. The early rice crops are still being cut. The transplanting of the ropa dhan is nearly completed. The heavy rain which fell in Tannore caused some injury to the crops. The prospects of the late rice are very favorable. No cases of cholera or small-pox reported.

* Telegram of the 30th August, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

BENGAL.—(Contd.)
Central Districts.—(Contd.)
RAJSHAHY DIVN.—(Contd.)	13 Rungpore, Aug. 27, '75	8.21	The rainfall was very heavy on the 24th and 25th instant, amounting to over 7 inches, and has been general throughout the district. Transplantation of rice is going on. The rain was much wanted, and has done good. More is required.
	14 Bogra, „ 28, „	5.76	Weather cloudy; there has been an ample fall of rain during the week. Every thing is getting on well.
	15 Pubna, „ 28, „	11.18	Very heavy rain on the 24th and 26th instant; 8.20 inches of rain at Serajgunge. Harvesting of the early rice is progressing. The crop is altogether a very fair one. The excellence of that on the higher ground will compensate for the damage done by floods to that on the low grounds. State and prospects of the late rice crop are satisfactory.
COOCH BEHAR DIVN.	16 Darjeeling, „ 27, „	8.69	Rain every day of the week, particularly heavy on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. All the crops are doing well, the hemanto or late rice crop, is being transplanted; the bhadoi , or early rice, is ripening.
	17 Julpigoree, „ 28, „	6.15	Seasonable weather. Bhadoi harvest still going on. Transplanting of the late rice seedlings still in progress, and under favorable circumstances. Cholera still continues in two places; but there are only a few cases.
	Cooch Behar, „ 26, „	6.86	It was very hot till Saturday; heavy rains from Sunday. The heavy showers are improving the prospects of the late rice crop. Much will depend upon the state of the weather during the next few days.
Eastern Districts.
DACCA DIVN.	18 Dacca, Aug. 30,* '75	3.47	Seasonable weather. State and prospects of crops are good.
	19 Fureedpore, „ 28, „	7.71	Rain almost every day during the week, but weather continues hot. The inundation is falling somewhat lower. The prospects of the crops are as favorable as before, and the general health of the district is good.
	20 Backergunge, „ 26, „	1.75	The general condition of the district and the prospect of the crops are satisfactory. The timely cessation of the rain deluge has enabled the young plants of the late rice crop to get their heads above the water, and they are flourishing everywhere.
	21 Mymensingh, „ 27, „	4.60	Rain six days; no less than 3½ inches at the Sudder on the 24th instant. Wind south-east. Transplantation of the late rice is very nearly finished. The early rice crop has been a good one.
	22 Tipperah, „ 27, „	6.27	Weather rainy and cloudy. South wind prevailing. There has been some heavy rain again in the Sudder sub-division; the river Gumti has risen 8 inches; the flooded tracts of country still continue under water, and there is but small hope of any rice crop in those parts. In the rest of the district the crops are promising. The flooded area is about 1-10th of the whole area of the district.
CHITTAGONG DIVN.	23 Chittagong, „ 26, „	12.19	Weather very favorable for cultivation. Heavy rain for the last three days, but bright on the day of report. Crops are reported as thriving.
	24 Nowkhally, „ 26, „	8.48	Weather cloudy and rainy; continual and heavy rain for the last two days. The reaping of the early rice crops has been stopped in some places owing to the rains; in chur lands it is going on. The transplantation of the late rice has also been stopped in low lands, where the fields are covered with water; in other places it is being vigorously continued. Sickness, chiefly fever and spleen cases, as usual, with some outbreaks of small-pox.
	25 Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 24, „	4.66	Rainy throughout the week. The plough cultivators who lost their crops during the late flood are sowing paddy broadcast. A poor outturn is anticipated. Joom paddy is nearly ripe.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 25, „	8.71	There has been very little rain throughout the week, and reports were received that the aus , or early rice crop, was being everywhere harvested, but heavy rain set in on the 24th instant, and on the 25th it has rained unceasingly, and the river is again nearly at its full. If this continues much longer another inundation is certain. Fever on the increase in the Koelashur sub-division. In other parts the public health is good.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVN.	26 Patna, „ 30,* „	.93	Weather unsettled, with occasional and partial rain. Prospects of bhadoi crops continue favorable. Transplanting of rice going on. More rain, however, wanted for late rice. Health good.
	27 Gaya, „ 28, „	1.15	Rainfall at Aurangabad 4.86, at Nowadah 5.03 inches. Days sultry; rain at night. Maximum reading of thermometer 95.1°. Indian-corn and marua millet being reaped in places. Prospects of other crops continue generally favorable. Cholera reported only from Nubbeenugger, in south-west corner of the district.
	28 Shahabad, „ 28, „	2.37	Weather cloudy and rainy. The bhadoi , or early crop, except where destroyed on the Daura lands by flood, promises well. The dhan , or rice crop, is generally reported favorably on.

* Telegrams of the 30th August, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

PAINA DIVN.—(Contd.)	29 Durbhunga, Aug. 28, '75	3.27	Seasonable weather; copious rainfall throughout the district. No change since date of last report. The outturn of indigo is unusually large this season.
	30 Mozufferpore, „ 28, „	1.87	Weather hot and cloudy. In Mozufferpore sub-division the late rain has done good to the bhadoi crops. More rain is required for paddy. In Seetampurhee sub-division the prospects of the bhadoi and rice crops are good in the northern parts, and the indigo second cuttings are unusually good. The rainfall during the week has been 1.50. In Hajeehpore sub-division considerable damage has been done by the flood to rice in sheets and makai in the Dearah, but these are annual occurrences. The rainfall during the week has been 1.74 inches.
	31 Sarun, „ 28, „	1.23	Rainfall at Sewan 1.41. Weather dry, but now and then cloudy with slight showers of rain. Both east and west wind. There was a slight fall of rain throughout the district, except within the jurisdiction of thanna Barowli in the Sewan sub-division. The prospects of the bhadoi crops are excellent. Transplanting of rice is being fast pushed on. More rain is wanted for the late rice. Cholera still prevalent at Raghonathpore, an outpost of thanna Durawli, in the Sewan sub-division.
	32 Chumparun, „ 27, „	1.84	The weather has been cloudy and threatening for the last three or four days, though but little rain has fallen. There appears now to be a prospect of a heavy fall from the south. The bhadoi crops are splendid, and there can be now little doubt of a full sixteen annas yield. The rice crop still promises well over the greater part of the district, but more rain is wanted in parts of Ramnuggur and near Betteenah, also in the south-east of the district.
HAJEEHPORE DIVN.	33 Monghyr, „ 28, „	5.10	Seasonable weather. No change since last week. The bhadoi crops, except on the inundated lands bordering the Ganges, are fair. The rice prospects continue good.
	34 Bhagulpore, „ 30, „	4.62	Very good accounts from the south, where bhadoi harvest has commenced with very good outturn. Very heavy rain reported from the north, over 7 inches. There ought not to be any more complaints from there for some time. General health very good; but cholera is increasing in the town, and appearing in a few villages in Banka sub-division.
	35 Purneah, „ 28, „	3.59	Seasonable weather. The late rain has been most beneficial for the transplanting of the late rice.
	36 Sonthal Pergas, „ 28, „	3.11	Rain heavy but partial in Deoghur. Very heavy in Dumka. Rain in all the sub-divisions. Prospects of sathi dhan are said to be poor in Deoghur. Everything doing well in Jamtarn. Prospects of the late rice are good all over the district. A bad and sudden but short outbreak of cholera in the north of Hundowna. The disease was decreasing by the last report.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVISION.	37 Cuttack, „ 21, „	1.72	Weather cloudy, but with very little rain. Prospects of crops are excellent. Some of the crops were under water for a short time, but were not injured. Health of the district fair, but some dengue and low fevers about.
	38 Pooree, „ 26, „	3.14	Rainfall at Khoordah sub-divisional station 4.83 inches. Weather cloudy and rainy. Rivers flooded, but subsided after two days. The early rice has begun to ripen; the late rice plants are being weeded and transplanted. The crops on high lands are doing well, and these on low lands are partially blighted by the flood. The general prospects of the crops are tolerably fair.
	39 Balasore, „ 27, „	1.83	The rainfall has been much more moderate consisting of thunderstorms at considerable intervals. A little of the earliest rice crop has been cut. All crops are in excellent condition.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazoreebagh, Aug. 27, '75	1.87	More or less rain every day. The prospects of the early and late rice are very good. Millets suffering from want of fine weather and a ripening sun. Cholera still continues.
41	Lohardugga, „ 28, „	2.07	Seasonable weather. The goondli and mukai are being harvested; these crops will be short, as well as the murwa , owing to excessive rain. Both the rice crops promise well. Prospects in Palamow also are very good. Cholera still prevalent, but on the decrease.
42	Singbhoom, „ 27, „	2.13	Seasonable weather. As previously reported, the prospects are favorable. The gorah or rice cultivated on the high unembanked lands is now being reaped, and the outturn is reported as an average one. Some cases of cholera have been reported from pergunnah Bamunghatty.
43	Manbhoom, „ 28, „	4.39	Favorable weather. Reports of rice cultivation are good throughout the district excepting in pergunnah Soopur, where it is said that owing to want of rain only 4 annas of the cultivation has been completed. The Indian-corn and other crops are all reported good, excepting in pergunnah Bagundi, where it is said that Indian-corn, murwa , and kadoo millets have failed for most part.

* Telegram of the 30th August, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

The 26th August 1875.—In modification of the Notification dated the 27th December 1872, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 29th January 1873, the following revised Rules for the regulation of vessels having gunpowder on board having received the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under clause (O), section 7, Act XII of 1875 (the Indian Ports' Act, 1875), are published for general information.

H. J. REYNOLDS,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Revised Rules for the regulation of Vessels having Gunpowder on board.

1. UNDER the provisions of sections 7 (O), 28, 29, and 33 of Act XII of 1875, it is hereby notified that all inward-bound vessels carrying gunpowder, the total quantity of which is in excess of 5lb. are prohibited from proceeding above Budge-Budge, and the Master of any vessel lying within the Port, or in the river above Budge-Budge, which shall have on board any gunpowder in excess of 5lb. will be liable to the penalty provided in section 34 of the said Act XII of 1875: Provided that boats will be permitted to bring as far as Neeluck Mehal Ghat, under cover of a pass to be granted by the Commissioners, 50lb of gunpowder, the property of dealers and consignees.

2. All such gunpowder, in excess of the prescribed quantity, 5lb, must be landed and deposited in the magazine at Moyapore.

3. The magazine-keeper will take charge of the gunpowder immediately on its being conveyed to the shore at Moyapore, and will deposit it in the magazine.

4. For the convenience of vessels having gunpowder on board, a properly constructed powder-boat will be always in attendance at the magazine for landing and shipping powder. No charge will be made for the use of the boat for landing ship's powder, but the responsibility of the keeper in respect of the powder will not commence until it is landed on the bank, and will cease as soon as it is shipped on board the boat. Every precaution will be taken to ensure the safety of the powder while in the boat, but the landing and shipping is at the risk of the vessel.

5. Vessels bringing consignments of private or Government powder will be liable to pay landing charges for the use of the boat if the magazine boat is used; and should passing vessels require the use of the boat to put out or receive ship's powder, such vessels must be accommodated before the boat can be used to land or ship powder or ammunition brought as cargo.

6. In order to avoid unnecessary detention, the Masters of vessels requiring the use of the powder-boat are required to hoist a flag at the mainmast head on coming in sight of the magazine, as a signal to the keeper to have the boat and coolies in attendance.

7. Masters of vessels are required to mark the names of their respective vessels on the barrels and packages of gunpowder previously to their being landed, and if not marked they will not be received by the magazine boat.

8. Gunpowder shall not be landed or received into the magazine when artificial lights are required to be used.

9. The magazine-keeper shall give to the Master or other person making the deposit a receipt for the number of packages, and he shall be accountable to such master or other person for the re-delivery of such packages.

10. A native clerk will be always in attendance in the powder-boat, and will grant the Master the receipt specified in the foregoing rule.

11. If any vessel shall be prevented, by stress of weather or by being in distress, from landing or depositing such gunpowder, in excess of the quantity allowed as aforesaid, such vessel may be permitted to come up to the lower limits of the port, but shall not proceed above Mettea Broose Ghât, and the Master of such vessel shall forthwith give notice to the Conservator of his having such gunpowder on board, and shall obey his directions relating to the same.

12. Masters of vessels outward bound, who may require gunpowder for their outward voyage, shall not take gunpowder on board in any part of the river above Budge-Budge, with the exception of a quantity not exceeding 5lb.

13. Masters of vessels who have deposited ship's powder at the magazine should inform the Deputy Conservator of the date on which the vessels will pass the magazine outward bound, and on receipt of this information orders will be forwarded to the keeper to place the powder in the boat, and send it off in such time as to avoid any detention of the outward bound vessel. Before delivering the powder, the receipt granted by the magazine-keeper must be given up.

14. Delivery of powder into boats at the magazine for conveyance to Calcutta will only be granted upon orders issued from the office of the Commissioners.

15. No boat containing powder shall be allowed to proceed above Neemuck Mehal Ghât. All powder shall be landed at Neemuck Mehal Ghât, and no powder shall be landed at, any other ghât except with the special permission of the Commissioners.

16. The two foregoing rules shall not apply to Government powder-boats, which will be allowed to enter the port and discharge their powder under the rules laid down by the Inspector-General of Ordnance.

17. No smoking, and no fire or light of any description, shall be permitted on board of any boat having gunpowder, combustible ammunition, or inflammable oil on board.

18. No powder shall be landed within the Port at any time when artificial light is required to be used.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Home Department (Port Blair), No. 321 G, under date, Simla, the 14th July 1875.

Read again—

Home Department Resolution, No. 2028, dated 28th December 1868, restricting transportation to the Andamans to life sentences.

Home Department Resolution, No. 8-440-51, dated 17th November 1874, re-opening the Andamans to term convicts.

RESOLUTION.—The Resolution of the 17th November above cited explained the reasons which induced the Government of India to reverse the orders of 1868 regarding the transportation of term convicts, and contained general instructions as to the manner in which the change of system should be introduced. It also declared that if it were possible to supply the requirements of the Settlement without having recourse to dacoits and habitual thieves, it would be better to avoid sending men of these classes. It further provided that no convicts who had less than seven years to serve, or whose original sentence was for less than ten years, should be sent to the Andamans, and that, whenever practicable, the proportion in each despatch should be one term-convict to every three life-convicts. The exact proportion which term-convicts should bear at the Settlement to life-convicts was, however, left to be afterwards decided. On this point General Stewart's views were, that the number of term-convicts should be sufficient to make their weight felt; to effect which, there should be, he thought, at least one-third term-convicts to two-thirds life-convicts.

2. The Government of India were at the same time informed that the Settlement was able to provide immediately for 1,200 term-convicts; and as term transportation had ceased for some years, it was anticipated that there would be no difficulty in complying with General Stewart's requisition. It was supposed that there would be a sufficient accumulation of term-prisoners in the jails of the several provinces to admit of a sufficient number of term-convicts being selected, whose acquirements rendered them specially eligible for transfer, and that it would be unnecessary to recruit from others belonging to the more troublesome classes. These expectations, however, have not been realised. It has been found that comparatively only a few term-convicts were eligible for transportation, as Courts of Session have abstained as a rule from passing other sentences of transportation than for life. In fact, only 195 altogether appear to have been transported since the 17th November last.

3. It is clear, therefore, that the required proportion of term to life-convicts at the Settlement is far from being attained at present. Prior to the recent change of system, the proportion of such convicts was about one-tenth of the whole; for there were 7,669 convicts of all classes in the Settlement, of whom 733 were term-men, from which number the releases of the year have to be deducted. It is evident, therefore, that to attain the required proportion a large number is still required, and that the requirements of the Settlement cannot be supplied if the restrictions mentioned in paragraph 1 are maintained. Moreover, General Stewart has since urged the transportation of dacoits and habitual criminals, rather than check the supply of the necessary number of term-men.

4. It has also been represented to the Government of India that any restrictions attached to sentences of transportation introduce an element of uncertainty into judicial sentences. A Judge may desire to award a sentence of term transportation as the punishment best suited to the offence committed; but as long as the carrying out of such a sentence is contingent, not upon judicial considerations, but upon the demand at Port Blair for term convicts, he will not know whether effect will be given to the sentence actually passed, or whether some other punishment will be substituted for it. He may, therefore, hesitate to pass an order which may be disregarded.

5. Upon consideration of all these circumstances, the Government of India have resolved that for the next few seasons, and until the desired proportion of term to life-convicts has been attained, as many as possible of the former who have not less than seven years to serve shall be transported to Port Blair, subject only to the restrictions as to physical capacity, prescribed in Home Department orders Nos. 22-1329-1378, dated 18th March 1868, and Nos. 669-675, dated 9th April 1873. Prisoners of the sweeper class are, however, exempted from the provisions regarding fitness for hard labor, and it will be sufficient if they are capable of performing the ordinary duties of their caste; and, in order that Courts of Session may no longer be deterred from passing term sentences of transportation by the consideration that such sentences may not be enforced, local Governments are requested to take the necessary measures for acquainting judicial officers with the purport of this resolution, and to invite their attention to section 59 of the Penal Code.

6. It should be understood that these orders are applicable to male convicts only; female convicts should not for the present be sent to the Andamans, except under sentence of transportation for life.

ORDER.—Ordered that this resolution be forwarded to local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance, to the Superintendent of Port Blair, and to the Foreign Department of the Government of India.

* * The Rig-Veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class-books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholarlike knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammars, and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country.—Extract from Preface.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

MISCELLANEOUS.

No. 1707 A. of 1875, dated the 21st August 1875.

THE following tea plantations in Kumaun, the property of Government, will be offered for sale by public auction at the Senior Assistant Commissioner's Office, Almora, on Wednesday, the 1st of December 1875, at noon:—

Hawalbagh.—Forty-six miles from the plains by bridle-road, and six from Almora. Area, about one hundred acres, after excluding the house known as Mr. Traill's, with its compound, which will not be sold: said house and ground are in an outlying corner of the estate, and are to be set apart for travellers. Separated from the plantation by the Kosi river (suspension bridge) is a pine forest of one hundred and two acres, belonging to the estate, but in which neighbouring villages have the right to graze their cattle. The garden, having lately been used as a nursery for fruit trees, the whole of the area is not under tea. There are on the estate two large, slated houses (exclusive of Traill's house), a slated factory, two slated godowns, a slated barrack for tea-makers, and numerous slated out-offices. The height of the houses above sea-level is 4,000 feet, and the lands are not much higher or lower. Upset price, Rs. 25,000.

Communications.—A good bridle-road, 8 to 10 feet wide and bridged, runs to (1) Haldwani, (2) Kaladungi (via Naini Tal), and (3) Ramnagar (via Khyrna). From Haldwani to Bareilly railway station, 60 miles, over a pukka cart-road; from Kaladungi to Moradabad railway station, 48 miles, on partly pukka road; and from Ramnagar to Moradabad, 45 miles, via Kashipur, of which 25 miles, more or less, are a kutcha fair-weather road, bridged. Bridge-of-boats on Ramganga, north of Moradabad. From Ramnagar up there is a cart-road (Kosi river not bridged) to Ranikhet, 56 miles; and to the Hawalbagh plantation, where the Kosi river is being bridged, 19 miles.

Ayar Toli.—In Kattyur, consisting of about 2,546 acres. The area under tea was some years ago considerable. About 700 acres are cleared, and nearly 1,500 acres consist of jungle, of which part may be unculturable: a portion of the estate named Bineuli, 919 acres, is held under a perpetual lease from the Nagnath temple, at an annual rent of Rs. 24. There were on the estate a house, factory, godown, and numerous out-offices, all slated; but all these are in bad repair. Height of house above sea-level, 5,200 feet, and the plantation ranges from that height to 4,400 feet. Upset price, Rs. 17,000.

Communications.—To Hawalbagh, 24 miles by bridle-road, thence as detailed under Hawalbagh.

These two estates will be put up to auction separately, at the upset prices named, and sold in fee simple to the highest bidder, free of all demands for land revenue, but subject to the rights already named in each case, and also to payment of customary cesses now in force, or that may be imposed hereafter.

Both estates have been surveyed, and maps may be seen at the District Office, Almora. Intending purchasers must satisfy themselves as to the present condition of the estates, and on all other matters involved in their sale. The purchasers must deposit 5 per cent. of the purchase-money at the time of sale, and the balance on or before the 1st of January 1876, when possession will be given: failing payment in full, the deposit will be forfeited, and the estate resold.

MEDICAL SCHOOL AT CUTTACK.

Minute by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, dated 27th April 1875.

THE Commissioner of Orissa (Mr. T. Ravenshaw) and the Civil Surgeon of Cuttack (Dr. Stewart) are anxious to establish a Medical School at Cuttack. It is proposed to effect this by an expenditure of only Rs 3,000 per annum. To this it is objected that the above sum is too small for success, being very much less than that allowed for the new schools at Patna and Dacca, Rs. 14,000 per annum. On the other hand, one great difference in favour of Dr. Stewart's project is this: that he proposes to afford instruction himself. He is an able officer, and his zeal may accomplish much. Again, it is objected that, if the teaching at Dr. Stewart's school were to be inadequate, inferior students only would be produced, and that defective medical training is dangerous. The real test of this, however, is the certificate. The object of every student is to obtain a certificate, and the examination would be made by independent examiners. If the young men failed to come up to a proper standard, they would not obtain the certificates, which are essential to their obtaining medical practice. They will therefore either get really trustworthy certificates, or nothing. Whether many students at Cuttack will be attracted remains to be seen. The local authorities seem to be sanguine that some will be obtained.

In this, as in several other branches, intending students in Orissa, of the higher classes, are placed at a disadvantage, as compared with the natives of Bengal and Behar, by reason of the distance from the upper educational institutions. It is therefore desirable to foster rising institutions within the province itself. And considering that Dr. Stewart's offer is one that is very creditable to him, and is inexpensive, I would authorize his making the attempt, within the financial limit, Rs. 3,000 per annum, proposed by himself; provided, first, that he has a reasonable prospect of being able to remain at Cuttack long enough to go through the course, and second, that the students are to be examined hereafter by independent examiners, according to a standard corresponding as nearly as may be to that of the Medical Schools at Dacca and Patna.

I would convey to Dr. Stewart the expression of my approbation, but I would also send him a copy of the Surgeon-General's letter, so that the possible objections and difficulties may induce care and forethought.

RICHARD TEMPLE.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—EDUCATION—No. 2697.

Calcutta, the 6th September 1875.

READ—

A Minute by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, dated the 27th April 1875, on the proposal to establish a Medical School at Cuttack.

A letter from the Commissioner of Orissa, No. 85, dated the 10th July 1875, submitting the proposals of the Civil Surgeon, Dr. W. D. Stewart, for the establishment of the Medical School.

A letter from the Officiating Surgeon-General, Indian Medical Department, No. 613, dated the 31st August 1875, reporting on the above proposals.

THE Lieutenant-Governor has examined the proposals made by the Civil Surgeon of Cuttack for the establishment of a Medical School at that station, and has also been favored with the Officiating Surgeon-General's opinion upon the scheme.

The Civil Surgeon recommends that the school should be opened on the 15th June 1876: but His Honor is unable to see any sufficient reason for this delay. It is true that June is the month ordinarily selected for the commencement of the Medical College session, and it is understood that this is because the result of the scholarship examination is usually made known in February, and only those who have passed the examination are admitted to the Medical School. But as the rules of the Cuttack School provide for the admission of pupils by a special examination, this argument does not apply to that institution, and Sir Richard Temple believes that on all other grounds the commencement of the cold weather would be a much more convenient time of year than the month of June for opening a school for medical and surgical study. Anatomy will be one of the most important subjects of study: but it is evident that continuous application to anatomy during the hot weather and the rains is practically impossible; whereas by opening the school in October, which is the month generally selected in the schools of Europe, the students will have the advantage of all the months of the cold weather for the prosecution of their dissections.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor is therefore pleased to sanction the opening of a Medical School at Cuttack, under the rules which are appended to the present Resolution. The school should be opened on the 15th October, or on the earliest possible subsequent date on which the Civil Surgeon may be able to complete his arrangements. The Medical Department will be requested to appoint an Assistant Surgeon to Cuttack at once. The Civil Surgeon should submit, without delay, a moderate indent for the chemicals, dissecting instruments, and other apparatus which he considers necessary: and steps should be taken at once for providing the furniture and other fittings required for the dissecting-room and lecture-room.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor has promised to give a grant of Rs. 3,000 per annum in support of the school, and such portion of this as may be required for the current year 1875-76 will be provided.

It is not intended, in the first instance, that any fees should be taken from the students. But if the institution is to be a permanent one, the efforts of the local authorities must be directed towards making it, as far as possible, self-supporting. It may be hoped that native gentlemen of wealth and influence in Orissa will be found willing to endow scholarships to be held at the Medical School.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor has agreed to the proposal that students shall be admitted on passing a special examination to be held by a local committee. But he desires to draw attention to the fact that the standard of the vernacular scholarship examination is one which fairly educated youths may reasonably be expected to attain. Those who pass in the third or lowest division are not required to obtain more than one-fourth of the total marks. It is therefore desirable that the test of a special examination should not be kept up longer than may be absolutely necessary.

5. The thanks of Government are due to the Civil Surgeon, Dr. Stewart, for the zeal he has displayed in carrying out the scheme for the establishment of this school, and for his disinterested offer to undertake the duties both of superintendence and of instruction without extra remuneration. The foundation of a local Medical School is a matter which the Commissioner has frequently pressed upon the attention of Government, and the Lieutenant-Governor has much pleasure in according his assent to a scheme which is likely, in Mr. Ravenshaw's judgment, to contribute materially to the benefit of the province of Orissa.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,
H. J. REYNOLDS,
Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

THE following rules for the Orissa Medical School have received the sanction of Government.

Twenty students will be selected as Government stipendiaries. Each Government student will receive a stipend after examination by the Committee abovementioned of Rs. 5 the first year, Rs. 6 the second, and Rs. 7 the third.

At the end of the third year, a final examination will be held by a Committee appointed by Government. The standard of examination will be the same as at other vernacular medical schools.

RESOLUTION REGARDING THE ESTABLISHMENT OF LOWER VERNAÇULAR AND LOWER ANGLO-VERNAÇULAR SCHOLARSHIPS.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—EDUCATION.—No. 2715.

Calcutta, the 7th September 1875.

READ—

The Resolution of the Government of Bengal in the General (Education) Department, dated the 5th October 1872, laying down rules for the award of scholarships in Bengal.

Read also—

A Minute by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, dated the 3rd May 1875, on scholarships for vernacular education and the encouragement of elementary practical science.

A letter from the Officiating Director of Public Instruction, No. 3035, dated 21st June 1875, submitting an expression of his opinion on certain questions discussed in the above-mentioned Minute.

THE Minute of the 3rd May 1875 prescribed certain standards for the existing vernacular and minor scholarships, and also suggested the establishment of a grade intermediate between those scholarships and the primary scholarships which are competed for by boys of the elementary village schools, the number of which has so remarkably increased during the last few years. The Director of Public Instruction was requested to furnish a report upon this suggestion, and upon some other matters of detail treated of in the Minute.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor now desires to express his thanks to the Director for the attention he has given to the subject, and for the care he has shown in elaborating the details of a scheme, the success of which His Honor has much at heart, and which will, it may be hoped, exercise a beneficial influence over the course of education in those schools which are affected by it.

3. The standard for the primary scholarships was fixed in the Minute of the 27th April 1875; but the establishment of an intermediate grade of scholarships will render it necessary to lower the limit of age for the primary scholarship, and will also make it desirable to decrease the value of such scholarships, so as to afford an additional inducement to boys to compete for scholarships of the higher classes. It is therefore declared that no boy above the age of 11 years shall be eligible to compete for a primary scholarship.

The scholarships will be of the value of Rs. 2 per month, tenable for two years, in any lower or middle-class school at the option of the holder. No fee will be charged for admission to the examination, but no one will be allowed to compete who has not studied for at least a year in the school in which he is at the time of the examination.

4. It seems necessary further to lay down some rule to determine what classes of schools shall be permitted to send up candidates for the primary scholarship examination. The expression "primary school" is one which does not admit of any exact definition, and practically it embraces schools of very different orders and attainments. Many of the institutions classed as primary schools are genuine village pathsalas of a rude and elementary character, while others again are more highly organized, possess well-paid masters, and are qualified to send up boys to try for vernacular scholarships. Competition between the pupils of institutions differing so widely as these is manifestly unequal, and unless some limiting rule is laid down, it is evident that the schools for which the primary scholarships were originally established will have no chance of winning a prize in the examination.

5. The Director has suggested that this difficulty may be overcome by laying down the rule that no primary or lower vernacular school shall be permitted to send in candidates in the same year for more than one class of scholarship. The Lieutenant-Governor approves of this proposal, and desires that it may be carried into effect. The result of this arrangement will be that pathsalas will be required to make their election. If a pathsala or circle school elects to compete for the less valuable, but more easily attainable, primary scholarship, it will be precluded from sending up candidates in that year for the intermediate or the vernacular scholarships. If it feels itself competent to attempt the higher standard which these involve, it will not be allowed to try for primary scholarships. The choice will have to be notified to the Deputy Inspector by the 1st January in each year: but any school will be permitted to pass in successive years from one class to another.

6. The standard for the intermediate vernacular scholarship has been laid down in the 12th paragraph of the Minute of the 3rd May. The limit of age for this scholarship will be 13 years, and the scholarship will be of the value of Rs. 3 per month, tenable for two years, at any middle-class school. It is hoped that diligent students, who may win this scholarship, will be able in two years to compete successfully for the ordinary vernacular scholarship, which is open to boys up to 15 years of age. Candidates for the intermediate vernacular scholarship will be required to pay a fee of 8 annas.

7. There is some difference of opinion among our educational authorities regarding the expediency of establishing a lower anglo-vernacular scholarship of the kind proposed in the 13th paragraph of the Minute. It has been objected that the teaching of English in our middle-class anglo-vernacular schools is imperfect, and that the standard of the present minor scholarship is already so low, that it is inadvisable to found a grade of scholarships for which the standard will necessarily be lower still. But the Lieutenant-Governor is not disposed to admit that this difficulty ought to be considered insuperable. He is inclined to think that the teaching of English in schools of a lower class than those in which it has hitherto generally been taught would be welcome to a large section of the community. If the present standard of the minor scholarship is low, His Honor would make these new scholarships a means of raising it. He would take the existing standard as that which the lower grade of scholarships should strive eventually to reach, and would require some considerable advance upon this to be attained by those who wish to pass the minor scholarship examination. It is not to be supposed that this result can be attained at once, especially in the English subject, but the Lieutenant-Governor would hope that steady progress will be made. The effect will be that while we increase the quantity, we shall do something to raise the quality of English education.

8. Sir Richard Temple has accordingly determined to establish a grade of Anglo-Vernacular scholarships, the standard for which shall be that laid down in the 13th paragraph of the Minute. These scholarships will be open to boys who have not exceeded 13 years of age; they will be tenable at any middle-class anglo-vernacular school, and will be of the value of Rs. 3 a month for three years. As some proficiency in English is indispensable, no boy will be qualified for a scholarship who does not obtain at least one-third of the total marks in the English subject. The fee for admission to the examination will be 8 annas.

9. It has been represented to the Lieutenant-Governor that the limits of age above laid down for the primary and intermediate scholarships will place Mahomedan boys at a great disadvantage in competing with Hindus. It is urged that the education of Mahomedans generally begins at a later period of life, and that much of their time during their earlier years of study is devoted to subjects which their religious prepossessions require them to cultivate, but which are not calculated to assist them in passing an examination in the prescribed standards. For this reason it has been proposed that Mahomedan boys should be allowed to compete a year later than others—that is to say, up to the age of twelve for the primary scholarship, and up to the age of 14 for the intermediate scholarship examination. The Lieutenant-Governor has given full consideration to the arguments which have been advanced in support of this proposal, but he is not prepared to concede anything more than a temporary relaxation of the rules. For the next two years, at the examinations of 1876 and 1877, this additional limit of one year will be allowed to Mahomedan candidates, but it must be distinctly understood that at the end of that time the indulgence will be withdrawn.

10. It remains to determine the number of scholarships in the several grades which shall be offered for competition. The number of primary scholarships will remain as fixed by the Resolution of the 5th October 1872, the only difference being that the scholarships will in future be of the value of Rs. 2 instead of Rs. 3 per month. But boys who already hold primary scholarships will be permitted to draw their stipends at Rs. 3 as before. The sums allotted by that Resolution for vernacular and minor scholarships will not be affected by these orders. For the new intermediate scholarships a sum of Rs. 18,000 will be distributed to the several districts of the Lower Provinces, in accordance with the list hereto appended. This sum will be sufficient to provide for 200 scholarships, half of them being lower vernacular and half lower anglo-vernacular scholarships. But it will be in the discretion of the District Committees to determine (in the same manner as is now done with minor and vernacular scholarships) how much of the grant they will allot to lower vernacular and how much to lower anglo-vernacular scholarships.

11. Any further arrangements which may be necessary for carrying out this Resolution, and for fixing the dates on which the examinations shall be held, will be made by the Director of Public Instruction.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE BHAGULPORE DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1874-75.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS.—No. 2677

Calcutta, the 3rd September 1875.

READ—

The Annual Administration Report of the Commissioner of the Bhagulpore Division for the year 1874-75.

THE Lieutenant-Governor has to thank the Commissioner, Mr. Barlow, for a full and interesting report which treats appropriately of the different subjects connected with the administration of his division. The district officers appear also to have submitted good reports, especially Mr. Lockwood of Monghyr, whose observations are pertinent and merit attention, although the Lieutenant-Governor finds himself unable invariably to agree with his conclusions. Mr. Lockwood's map of the Monghyr district, illustrating the crops, the principal natural productions, the prevalent castes, and other noticeable features, is most valuable, and His Honor is glad to recognize the useful information it contains and presents in so convenient a shape. Mr. Boxwell's map of the Sonthal Pergunnahs is also a useful map.

2. The Commissioner and the district officers thoroughly discharged their duties by travelling in their districts and personally visiting the people during a considerable part of the year.

3. In 1873 there was a deficient rainfall, the season was unusually hot and dry, and there was a widespread failure of the crops. In 1874 there was an abundant and seasonable rainfall, and the outturn of the harvest was exceedingly favorable. The country was also on the whole very free from epidemic or sickness.

4. The Commissioner remarks that the people were hard pressed for food during the scarcity, and that but for the relief which was given to them by Government, they would have been reduced to very great straits. "On the whole, the material condition of the people has suffered, and it is only towards the close of the year that they have commenced to recover their old position." Considering the reports of the local officers, the Lieutenant-Governor cannot but fear that a great part of the population of the Bhagulpore division is really badly off. Mr. Lockwood is very decided in his expressions on the subject. A system of rack-renting prevails in some parts of the division; the zemindaries are let either wholly or in part to farmers or lessees, who are thus middlemen, standing between the landowners and the actual cultivators of the soil. It is reported that the object of the rent-receivers is to exact from the ryots as much profit as they can. Sir Richard Temple, however, must observe, that if any real oppression is going on anywhere, and if exactions contrary to law and custom are persistently made in any place, it will not suffice for the local authorities to deplore these evils in annual reports. It will be their duty to warn those who practise such things of the certainty that ere long the cultivators will vindicate their lawful rights and will be protected by the Courts of Justice. It is not likely that the middlemen will disregard remonstrances coming from such a quarter.

5. Unfortunately, the people are averse to emigration; they are reported to be peculiarly tenacious of their homes, and few will leave them for any inducement. It was expected that during the severe distress and scarcity large numbers of the people would seek employment and their livelihood elsewhere; but this expectation was not realized.

6. It is worthy of remark that the late scarcity did not affect the wages of labor to any considerable extent, and the Commissioner does not anticipate that the famine will cause any permanent increase in the rates of labor. Agricultural laborers are invariably paid in kind.

7. The export trade during the year was necessarily dull; but the import trade was brisk, and rice was brought into the division, particularly by Government, in large quantities, though it is not ordinarily imported. In an ordinary season the principal exports from the division are rice, wheat, oil-seeds, hides, and indigo, and the imports are cotton, salt, and cloth. The trade is mostly with Calcutta. It is said that a brisk trade is carried on with the Nepaulese from Bhagulpore and Purneah, and that cotton and salt are carried in large quantities to Nepaul. The Lieutenant-Governor has recently sanctioned a cordon of stations for the registration of the inter-provincial traffic between Nepaul and Bengal, and he believes that the result of this registration will prove of much interest. A statement is quoted from Mr. Boxwell's report that "Sahebgunge is the point of departure for trade from the East Indian Railway to the districts north of the Ganges. It has taken the place of Rajmehal and the lower Ganges trade crossing. The river seems to be leaving Sahebgunge and returning to Rajmehal. If the process continues, very likely Rajmehal will recover its old importance." The Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to receive a fuller report of the facts as here stated, and of the relative position of Rajmehal and Sahebgunge as centres of trade.

8. So far as the regulation districts are concerned, the topics of chief local interest among the people are reported to have been the famine, the road-cess, and the village schools. Mr. Barlow joins his testimony to that of other Commissioners in recording that the people appreciated the efforts made by Government during the scarcity, and thankful for the help afforded them. The road-cess does not appear to be taken in the light of an oppressive tax, nor is there any opposition anywhere. The house-tax was wholly remitted in all the districts, and the most distressed localities were exempted from the payment of the cess on land. Mr. Kemble, the Magistrate of Purneah, observes:—"The road-cess is beginning to be felt. Every one now wants a road in his own village. This is a good sign, as it shows that the object of the cess is understood." Generally speaking the people are contented and peaceful, and uninterested in special or public subjects.

9. Among the Sonthals, however, there have, for some time past, been manifested various symptoms of uneasiness and restlessness. These people have risen more than once before. On the present occasion the disaffection manifested itself by a spirit of resistance to the payment of rent. In the greater part of Sonthalia a settlement is going on under Regulation I of 1872 between the zemindars (chiefly Bengalees) and the ryots (chiefly Sonthals). Its object is to secure reasonably low rents fixed for terms of years, and is so far clearly advantageous to the ryot. On the other hand, the zemindar will be secured a more punctual realization than heretofore of his dues. Without this Regulation there is every reason to suppose that the zemindars and ryots would proceed to extremities; indeed the arrangement was made expressly (in the words of the Regulation) for the peace and good government of the Sonthal country. A sort of religious movement has also been for some time past perceptible among the Sonthals, and is increasing. They are leaving their aboriginal religion and joining Hindooism. Attempts have been made among them to form a kind of political organization. If there were to be a rising, expense and trouble would have to be incurred in putting it down, and a long time would elapse before the people would recover a good tone. The Lieutenant-Governor accordingly sanctioned the location of additional police in the Pergunnahs. He also obtained the sanction of the Government of India to the proposal that troops should, for the purpose of a demonstration, be quartered at Doomka, and a wing of the 4th Native Infantry from Bhagulpore has been stationed there since March last. Under these precautions no attempts have been made by the Sonthals to rise, and there is reason to believe that the measures adopted have produced a sobering effect.

10. The establishment of rural sub-registrars has been extended in the division during the year and has proved very successful. The utility of the new sub-divisional establishments is generally recognised. There is always now an officer available of a certain grade who can turn his hand to any administrative work as occasion arises, and during the scarcity and distress the Commissioner testifies that these officers rendered special assistance.

11. Little progress has been made in the collection of statistics. The collection of village and agricultural statistics was held in abeyance, as all officers were pressed into relief service during the famine, and since that time they have been fully employed in the collection of the outstanding advances. The road-cess statistics collected under the Act are said to furnish valuable information regarding the valuation of the land, and the extent of sub-infeudation. These returns, which have not yet been submitted to Government, will furnish a complete record of the land-tenures of the division. The registration of vital statistics in the selected areas has been fairly successful, especially in the Sonthal Pergunnahs district.

12. The Lieutenant-Governor commends the interest taken by Mr. Lockwood in the public garden at Monghyr, and observes with satisfaction that this garden is in such good order and so well cared for. There are no experimental farms in the division.

13. There was considerable increase in the amount of crime simultaneously with the pressure for food; but as this pressure disappeared, it is said that crime returned to its normal state. The increase was naturally under the head of offences relating to property. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to infer, from Mr. Lockwood's remarks on the subject of cattle-poisoning, that that crime does not prevail to any large or organized extent in the division. On the other hand, there are occasions and localities where the crime has unquestionably been found to have assumed a serious magnitude. In such cases the utmost vigilance of the District Officers must be exerted for repressing it.

14. Regarding civil justice, it is stated with truth that the Subordinate Civil Officers are better trained now than formerly, and pay more attention to their work; and that the moral tone of the courts has improved under better and stricter supervision. Complaints are, however, made of the law's delay, and the Lieutenant-Governor observes that it is expressly said by the Commissioner, when he is advocating that rent suits should again be made over to executive officers, that delay is not the only complaint, but that rent suits have now become as expensive and troublesome as other civil suits. Mr. Barlow again urges the establishment of a Moonsif's court at Banka. The Lieutenant-Governor has consulted the Honorable Judges of the High Court on this proposal, and he agrees with them in considering that sufficient reason does not exist for the permanent establishment of a Moonsif's court at this station.

15. Notwithstanding the severe distress, the payment of the land revenue seems to have been punctually made, and the balances are very small. In the Sonthal Pergunnahs considerable progress has been made in forwarding the settlement operations, and an arrangement was during the year sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor for supplying increased agency, under which it is hoped that the works will be completed during the next field season. "The net result, so far as I can see," writes Mr. Barlow, "is that the settlement is of enormous benefit to the mass of the cultivating population, and that where in some cases this fact does not seem to be fully understood by those concerned, it cannot fail to be recognized as time goes on. The landed interest and middlemen are naturally opposed to this settlement, but no obstruction has at any time been offered."

16. The famine told upon the excise revenue to a large extent. The gross revenue of the year fell off by Rs. 32,031, as compared with the previous year, and by Rs. 62,456, as compared with the year 1872-73.

17. There has been much improvement in land communications owing to the numerous relief roads constructed, and almost the whole of the division now gives promise of being opened out. In the Kishengunge sub-division, in Purneah, the sub-divisional officer has adopted the plan of advancing small sums of money to the headmen of the villages for petty works, and in most instances he found the work to be satisfactorily carried out. The idea, as the Commissioner remarks, is a good one, and the experiment should be tried in other districts.

18. The Lieutenant-Governor has recently sanctioned the deputation of an officer to enquire into the capacity for development of the Damin-i-koh, the large Government estate in Sonthalia. The regulation of forest conservancy is the main object in view, but an enquiry will also be held as to the feasibility of constructing useful irrigation works.

19. "Although," writes the Commissioner, "alongside of other divisions of Bengal, education is backward here, yet, compared with past years, it has made rapid strides. A thirst for English education is observable in all directions, and primary education has made fair progress. The zillah schools are steadily flourishing, and their usefulness is appreciated by the people." It appears that, at the time of the census in January 1872, there were 1,155 village schools in the division, with 7,609 boys, while in March 1875, there were 1,767 pathshalas, and 29,834 boys. This shows that primary education has made a fair start. The publication of suitable school-books is of the first importance, and, as the Commissioner is aware, the subject is under the consideration of Government.

20. The several dispensaries are said to have worked fairly, and the vaccine operations of the year were considerably extended. But the Lieutenant-Governor is under the impression that the Native gentry in this part of the country do not subscribe to these institutions so liberally as might be expected. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to be able to notice the action of an intelligent zemindar, Baboo Rung Lall Singh, living close to Bhagulpore, who, when he found that the people of his village resisted vaccination, brought out his own two children and had them vaccinated at once; whereupon a number of ryots followed the example.

21. The working of the Local Committees and of the Municipalities is, on the whole, commended. The Lieutenant-Governor acknowledges the valuable services rendered by Baboo Sooruj Narain, a zemindar and member of the Bhagulpore Bar, in his capacity of Vice-Chairman of the Bhagulpore Road Cess Committee. The Monghyr and Deoghur Municipalities are especially well managed.

22. The conduct of the zemindars of the division is very favorably commented on. The Commissioner observes that, during the scarcity, "almost without exception good conduct was the rule, and people vied with one another in offering any aid and assistance that were required of them." The foremost during the famine were, in the Bhagulpore district, Rajah Hurbullabh Narain Singh, Rai Narendra Narain Singh, Bahadoor, Rai Thakur Man Singh, Bahadoor, Rai Rooder Narain Singh, Bahadoor, Baboo Hemun Singh, and Baboo Agore Narain Singh; in the Monghyr district, the Maharajah Sir Joymungul Singh, K.C.S.R., Moulvie Syud Abdool Hossein, Khan Bahadoor, and Moulvie Wilayat Hossein; and in the Purneah district, Rai Hem Chunder Roy, Bahadoor. The services of these and of others who did good work during the famine have already been acknowledged by Government. The names of Baboo Ram Narain (locally known as Rajah Ram Narain), Mussamut Kissen Soondarce Dasee, and Rai Luchmeeput Singh, Bahadoor, are also accorded special mention. In the Sonthal Pergunnahs, the Lieutenant-Governor regrets to find that the report of the Deputy Commissioner is not favorable.

Offg. Junior Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

THE TRIBUTARY ESTATES OF THE SOUTH-WEST FRONTIER

POLITICAL

Calcutta, the 3rd August 1875.

READ—

Letter No. 21884, dated 29th July 1875, from the Commissioner of Chota Nagpore, being the Annual Administration Report of the Tributary Estates of the South-West Frontier for the year 1874-75.

Read again—

The Report of the previous year, with the orders of Government passed thereon.

IN explanation of any want of interesting information which may be observed in the report now submitted by him on the administration of the States of the South-West Frontier during the past year, Mr. Robinson, the present Commissioner of Chota Nagpore, asks with reason that the fact of his very recent accession to office may be considered. As he relieved Colonel Dalton at the close of the year under review, Mr. Robinson had no opportunity of visiting the territories under his charge, and the fact that of late few occurrences calling for interference have happened in the Tributary Estates, accounts for his finding little on record to enable him to compile a very complete history of the affairs and administrative proceedings of the several Chiefs.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor especially observes that there is no mention of educational matters, and that the account given of the financial administration of the various States is but slight. These are, however, deficiencies which the Commissioner will doubtless see his way to supply in the future. The returns furnished by the several Chiefs have enabled him to give some account of the administration of justice in each of the States. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to have, however, in the next report, a full account of the existing system of police, and of the measure of success which attends its working: of the steps taken to educate the people, to open out roads and communications, to extend cultivation, and generally of the action and interest taken by the several Chiefs in matters connected with the improvement of the condition of the people and of the resources of their estates.

3. The report given of the weather and the crops throughout the Tributary Mchals is very satisfactory. In happy contrast to the events of the previous year, the rains are said to have been everywhere seasonable and plentiful. An abundant harvest was gathered in, and this, added to the fact that the public health was good throughout the year, rendered the people happy and contented.

4. The returns of crime are somewhat heavier than in the previous year: the number of offences of all kinds reported having been 406 against 375, while the number of persons implicated was 735 against 689. The Commissioner thinks this increase too trifling to need comment. The Lieutenant-Governor observes, however, that it is under the more serious heads of crime that the increase is chiefly observable, while petty thefts and the like have decreased. There were six cases of murder and three of culpable homicide, against three of the former and one of the latter in 1873-74. The number of burglars charged increased from 30 to 127. At the same time the number of forgeries and of false charges were doubled. Still, considering the great area of the country concerned, the amount of crime reported is comparatively small, and the returns may be accepted as not unsatisfactory.

5. The number of persons committed by the Rajas for trial was 18, against 9 in the previous year. The proportion of convictions was not quite so good as in 1873-74, but was not, on the whole, indicative of a want of discretion in the commitment of cases. There was generally a considerable decrease in the amount of work which came before the Commissioner for disposal in connection with the Tributary Estates. The number of appeals, however, instituted from the decisions of the Chiefs, increased from 5 to 15. In one case only did a reversal of judgment take place, but a very large proportion of these cases remained undisposed of at the close of the year.

6. Colonel Dalton, the late Commissioner, was enabled to make a short tour only, before it was necessary for him to return to head-quarters to make arrangements for his approaching departure. He commenced his tour in the Tributary Estates towards the middle of December, and returned after an absence of some six weeks' duration, having visited Singbhoom, Bonai, and Gangpore. Colonel Dalton had, however, the opportunity, in October last, of meeting most of the Chiefs when they came in to be presented to His Excellency the Viceroy at a Durbar held at Hazareebagh; and again in March last, when on the eve of the Commissioner's departure, the Chiefs re-assembled to bid him farewell. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that Colonel Dalton has been able to record that, during the whole period of his incumbency as Commissioner, the Chiefs of the Political Estates have generally distinguished themselves by a just administration of the territory under their rule, by a benevolent policy towards their people, and thorough loyalty to the British Government.

7. Singbhoom.—The results of the inspection made by the Commissioner of the offices at the head-quarters of this district, the Lieutenant-Governor infers, in the absence of any intimation to the contrary, were favourable. The district was one of those affected by the scarcity in the previous year. The people, the Commissioner found, had honestly worked off the advances made to them. The new village roads, undertaken as relief works, had been well constructed, and the money spent on them, as well as on repairing the old roads throughout the district, had been economically and usefully applied. The Lieutenant-Governor notices the absence of information as to the management of the Political Estates in this district, and trusts that the omission may be supplied in future reports. He is also desirous to be informed of the progress which education is making among the inhabitants of the Kolhan, and is anxious that the effect of the present administration on these people should be observed, especially as regards excise matters.

8. Bonai.—This estate continues to be satisfactorily administered by Tekait Dyah Nedhi Deo, Bahadoor, the Raja himself being incapable of attending to business. The Commissioner found that the few cases which had occurred had been properly disposed of, and that the registers were carefully maintained.

9. Gangpore.—In the report for the previous year, the charges which had been brought against Rughoonath Seekur Deo, the Raja of this estate, of having caused the death of two reputed witches, was noticed. On trial, he and four of his people were convicted of the offence of grievous hurt. On a review of all the circumstances of the case, the Lieutenant-Governor determined to uphold the recommendation of the Commissioner that the Raja should be detained under strict surveillance at Ranchee for a year. It has therefore happened that since September last the administration of the estate, in matters relating to Police and Civil and Criminal Justice, has rested in the hands of two of the chief jagheordars of the place, while the Ranee has had charge of the revenues of the estate. This plan of administration is reported to have answered well. The arrest of the Raja caused some interruption to business; but at the close of the year, arrears had been considerably reduced by the Sirdars in charge. On assuming the administration, they found that a case was pending before the Raja, in which five men were said to have been murdered. It appears that they had made prisoner, and were carrying off, an old woman who had been denounced as a witch, when she was rescued by her sons, who attacked and killed her assailants. The violence used having been, under the circumstances, excessive, the Commissioner properly sentenced the accused to various terms of imprisonment. The case, however, affords additional evidence of the extent to which ignorance and superstition prevail in Gangpore. It appears that in several villages of the estate, standing scaffolds for the trial of witches existed. The Lieutenant-Governor approves of the proceedings of the Commissioner in having ordered that these should be demolished. He desires, however, that strict repressive measures may be adopted with regard to the practice of denouncing witches, and that the gontias or witch-finders, who appear to practice on the credulity of the people, may be strictly brought to account.

10. Though some good may be expected to be effected by these measures, it is to the gradual enlightenment of the people, and to the establishment of a freer intercourse with their neighbours, that we must look for the extinction of the evil. The Lieutenant-Governor is aware that the revenues of the Chiefs of the Tributary Estates are insufficient to admit of any great expenditure; but he trusts that the Commissioner will, on all possible occasions, impress upon them the importance attached by Government to the establishment of schools, and to the opening out of new roads, and will encourage them to contribute within their means towards these objects.

11. Sirgoojah and Udipore.—These estates were not visited by the Commissioner during the year. The administration of Raja Bindessurree Prasad Sing Deo, Bahadoor, however, continues to be successful. The revenues of Sirgoojah have largely increased under his care. The Lieutenant-Governor has, however, already condemned the practice followed by the Raja of entering payments to himself for private expenses in his accounts without sanction. The proceedings of the Commissioner in paying Rs. 10,000 to the Maharanee on account of the marriage expenses of the Joobraj are approved of.

12. Jushpore.—There is little in the management of this estate to call for remark. Crime has decreased on the whole: but one case of dacoity, and three of murder, seem to be an undue proportion of serious crime, compared with the results in the other estates. The leniency with which a case of attempted murder was dealt with by the Raja would seem to call for explanation.

13. Korea.—The young Raja of this estate has come of age, and has been invested with the management of affairs under the supervision of the Dewan. So far as can be judged from the report, the conduct of this officer, in connection with the case of one Hira, falsely charged with arson, would seem to be open to very grave censure, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Dewan's future proceedings will be narrowly scrutinized.

14. Chang Bhakhar.—This remote State continued to be administered by Bhaya Bulbhadra Sing Deo. His conduct of affairs would seem to be satisfactory. The returns submitted by him call for no remarks.

15. The long and meritorious services of Colonel Dalton, the late Commissioner, have separately received a fitting acknowledgment. To Mr. Robinson, his successor, the thanks of Government are due for the report submitted by him.

BENGAL.
Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIV.	1 Burdwan, Sept. 6,* '75	1.90	Rainfall at Bood-ood 2.86, Cutwa 85, Jehanabad .45, Raneegunge nil. Prospects of crops are very good, but more rain is said to be wanted in Jehanabad.

	3 Beerbhoom, „ 4, „	1.54	Showery weather. State and prospects of the crops continue good.
	4 Midnapore, „ 4, „	.02	Rainfall at Contai 1.23, at Tumlook 0.15, at Gurbetta 0.68. There are indications of a probable fall at the Sudder station. State and prospects of the crops are still very good. The break in the rains will do no harm, if it is not prolonged more than two or three days.
	5 Hooghly, „ 4, „	.95	Rainfall at Mohanad 1.66, Chinsurah .62, Bansberiah .27, Dhoneakhally 1.59, Hullahore, 2.60, Serampore 1.65, Chunditollah 1.12, Huripal 1.38, Pandooah 1.21, and Kristonagore .17 inches. Weather very sunny and hot during first four days, then cloudy. Morning of the 3rd heavy clouds to the north-east, and a mist till late. At 9.15 four severe shocks of earthquake; trees, tanks, and buildings affected. Direction east to west. State and prospects of the crops are very good; insects attacking rice in places. General health not quite so good. A little small-pox still. Fever slightly on the increase.
Central Districts.
PRESIDENCY DIV.	6 24-Pergha, Sept. 6,† '75	4.19	Weather very hot, with the exception of Sunday, when it rained almost without intermission. Prospects of the early and late rice are excellent. Maceration of jute has commenced. Fever increasing at Barripore. One case of cholera reported from Satkhora.
	7 Nuddea, „ 4, „	.78	Slight but frequent showers. The harvest of the early rice is nearly over, and the outturn is very good, except in one or two comparatively small areas, where floods have done harm. The late rice crop promises well at present. Prices are still high. A slight earthquake at 9.12 A.M. on the 3rd instant. There were three distinct shocks, lasting in all about half a minute.
	8 Jessore, „ 4, „	.65	Cloudy weather; slight rain. Prospects of late rice are good throughout the district. A slight shock of earthquake on 3rd instant, about 9.20 A.M. Apparent direction south-east to north-west.
	9 Moorsshedabad, „ 4, „	2.93	Weather hot at the beginning, but cooled down towards the end of the week. Rivers rapidly falling. Hemanto , or late rice seedlings, doing very well. Sugarcane in fair order. Fall in prices of rice throughout the district, except in thanas Huriharpara, Burwa, Kallyanganj, Gokarn, and Kandi, attributable to the falling of the rivers and to the harvesting of the early rice. The average price of common rice for the head-quarters sub-district is 18 seers in the rupee. A slight shock of earthquake from south to north at sudder, and from east to west at Jungypore, on the morning of the 3rd instant, which lasted about two minutes. Health good.
RAJSHAHY DIV.	10 Dinagapore, „ 3, „	.96	Rain according to Magistrate's rain gauge 1.36. Rainfall in most stations fair. Great heat at head-quarters. Bhadai 8 annas cut; said to be 12 annas crop. This excludes what was entirely destroyed by drought, say 6 annas. Nearly 14 annas hemanti planted, except in high lands, which, the Collector believes, refers to lands cultivated exceptionally last year. Jute 8 annas cut; a 12 annas outturn. Generally reports are favorable. Rice from 2: to 26, and even 30 seers per rupee. Much sickness (fever) at head-quarters.
	11 Maldah, „ 4, „	1.38	Weather at first rainy, afterwards very warm. No change is reported in the condition of the early autumn rice, which is still being reaped. The later autumn rice has suffered most in the south of the district from submersion, but the floods are receding there. The late winter rice is being weeded and transplanted and promise well. Twenty-nine attacks of small-pox and four deaths from cholera were reported during the week. A slight shock of earthquake at about 8.40 A.M. on the 3rd instant.

* Telegram of the 6th September, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

RAJSHAHY DIVN.—(Contd.)	12 Rajshahy, Sept. 4, '75	1.65	There have been light showers all over the district during the week. On the 28th ultimo there was a heavy downpour throughout the district. Weather was very sultry at the time of report. A storm, with heavy rain, on the night of the 3rd instant. The harvesting of the early rice crop is nearly completed, and the outturn is estimated at about 12 annas of a full crop; towards the north the outturn is not quite so good. The transplanting of the ropa dhan is completed, and the plants are looking well. There is every reason to expect a full winter crop of rice as far as can be seen at present. There was an earthquake at about 9 A.M. of the 3rd instant. Four cases of cholera reported during the week; three recovered.
	13 Rungpore, „ 3, „	1.29	The week has been clear and hot. Heavy rain has fallen to the north during the week; at Bagdogra 6.71 inches. Transplantation of rice is proceeding on the high lands. More rain is wanted for the growing crops. The rainfall this year up to August has been very deficient—57 inches against 70. There was a shock of earthquake between 9 and 9½ A.M. of the 3rd instant.
	14 Bogra, „ 4, „	1.75	Weather hot, with scarce showers. Crops are all doing remarkably well. If everything goes well, the late rice crop should be a singularly good one. A slight shock of earthquake on the morning of the 3rd, at 9 o'clock.
	15 Pubna, „ 4, „	1.61	Weather clear and hot till the morning of report, when it became stormy. Harvesting of early rice is nearly over; the result is very fair. The state and prospects of the late rice are excellent. Shocks of earthquake at about 9.5 A.M. on the 3rd instant.
COOCH BEHAR DIVN.	16 Darjeeling, „ 3, „	2.40	Very little rain, but a good deal of mist till the 2nd instant. Since then it has been very warm. In the hills, the early crops of rice, Indian-corn, and marwa millet, are being reaped on the low lands, and will give a fair yield; in the plains the bhadoi , or early rice, is being reaped with good results. There was a pretty smart shock of earthquake at 9.20 A.M. of the 3rd instant.
	17 Julpigoree	Return not received.
	Cooch Behar, „ 2, „	7.27	Weather cloudy and rainy; several heavy showers during the week. The rain has very much improved the prospects of the late rice crop.
Eastern Districts.
DACCA DIVN.	18 Dacca, Sept. 6, '75	1.25	Weather first hot, since then stormy. State of crops good. Several shocks of earthquake on the 3rd instant.
	19 Fureedpore, „ 4, „	2.62	Weather continues hot; a little rain during the week. The inundation has somewhat increased. The prospects of crops are in a promising condition as previously reported. General health good.
	20 Backergunge, „ 2, „	.11	All is well, save that there is a little cattle disease in thanas Barisal, Bowfal, Gulsakhali, and Baramuddi.
	21 Mymensingh, „ 3, „	.97	Weather generally fine and sunshiny at head-quarters, but ample showers in the Attra and Kishoregunge sub-divisions. Jute is being cut. This crop will be a short one. The very last of the late rice is being transplanted.
CHITTAGONG DIVN.	22 Tipperah, „ 3, „	.09	Weather fine throughout the week; only a few showers. The crops are in good condition, except in the flooded tracts noticed last week. Those still continue under water. A slight shock of earthquake at 9.30 A.M. of the 3rd instant.
	23 Chittagong, „ 2, „	1.47	Weather very hot, steamy, and close. Reports from all parts, state the crops to be flourishing.
	24 Nonkholly, „ 2, „	1.61	Weather fair, but hot and close. The reaping of the early rice crops continues. Late rice plants are being vigorously transplanted.
	25 Chittagong Hill Tracts, Aug. 31, „	6.87	Occasional falls of rain during the whole week. The joom paddy crop is ripening here and there, and is being reaped in small quantities. Melons, cucumbers, &c., are brought for sale. Plough cultivators have resown parts of their lands.
	Hill Tipperah	Return not received.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVN.	26 Patna, Sept. 6, „	1.04	Weather muggy, with occasional showers. Bhadoi crops ready for harvesting; prospects of rice crops are favorable. Health generally good.
	27 Gya, „ 4, „	.95	Complaints of want of rain, except in Aurungabad sub-division, where 5.31 inches rain fell. Maximum reading of thermometer 93.5. State and prospects of crops continue favorable as yet. Bhadoi , or early crops, being reaped; outturn favorable. Cholera almost disappeared.
	28 Shahabad, „ 4, „	.34	Weather cloudy and hot. Prospects of crops still continue good. Rain, however, would prove very beneficial now in most places. In some parts of the district the rainfall is reported up to date as sufficient.

BEHAR.—(Contd.)
PATNA DIVN.—(Contd.)	29 Durbhunga, Sept. 4, '75	2.86	No rain during the last three days. The transplantation of rice has been put a stop to by the temporary cessation of the rains, and it is probable that the area of the crop will be less by about two annas than would otherwise have been the case; the season being now too far advanced for much more work to be done. Murwa millet and Indian-corn are yielding more than average crops, so far as reports at present received show.
	30 Mozufferpore, „ 4, „	2.75	Weather very hot. In the Sudder sub-division the rainfall during the week has done much good to the bhadoi crops and indigo second cuttings. In Hajepore sub-division prospects of the crops are satisfactory, and the rainfall during the week has been 4.73. No report from Seetamurhee.
	31 Saran, „ 4, „	1.41	Rainfall at Sewan 3.68 inches. Weather unsettled, with occasional and partial rain. Both east and west wind. There has been moderate rain all over the district, except within the jurisdiction of thana Purnea, in the Sudder sub-division. Prospects of the bhadoi crops continue favorable. The harvest has commenced. Transplanting of rice going on. More rain is wanted for the late rice. Consequent on the bursting of the Gunduck embankment, about 8,000 beeghas of standing crops have been inundated in the Sewan sub-division.
	32 Chumparun, „ 3, „	1.17	The fall of rain has been general throughout the district, and has in most places been abundant; there are some few isolated spots where it seems to have been somewhat scanty. The prospects of the crops are generally most excellent. The fall of rain in the past week has removed all present apprehensions of a failure of the rice crop. The bhadoi crops are the best ever known in the district.
BHAGULPORE DIVN.	33 Monghyr, „ 4, „	2.25	Seasonable weather. The rice prospects continue good generally. The bhadoi is fair, except on the lands subject to the Ganges flood, where a large proportion of the bhadoi crop has been lost, as previously reported.
	34 Bhagulpore, „ 6, „	2.0	All prospects reported to be exceedingly good throughout the district except in the north-east corner, where rainfall has been rather short. General health very good. Cholera still exists in the town and in a few villages in the south, but is not increasing. Smart shock of earthquake on the 3rd instant.
	35 Purneah, „ 4, „	1.98	Seasonable weather. The early rice crop has been cut; the outturn has been good on the average a 13 anna crop. The Koosi floods have been very high, and done some damages.
	36 Sonthal Pergas, „ 4, „	3.64	Rainfall at Jamtara 2.58, Deoghur 2.25, Godda 6.4, Rajmehal 3.4. Much thunder and lightning and some wind in Dumka. Janera millet not good in Deoghur; called a 12 annas crop in the Rajmehal Damun. All other crops are very good; everywhere else fair. Cholera still in the Deoghur country.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVISION.	37 Cuttack, Aug. 28, „	2.14	Weather cloudy, but with very little rain, and occasional breaks of intense sunshine. The prospects of the crops are everywhere excellent, though they have been under water for a few days in certain places. Early rice crop is now ready, and promise a full outturn. Public health is not very good. Low fevers dengue, and a little cholera still about.
	38 Pooree, Sept. 2, „	3.4	Weather cloudy, with occasional slight rain. Rainfall at Khoordah 1.10 inches. The early rice is ripening, and also being reaped with a fair outturn. The late rice plants are being weeded and transplanted. More sunshine is needed to draw off the blight from the sarad crop in Khoordah. The prospects of the crop are generally fair.
	39 Balasore, „ 8, „	3.8	Rainfall at Bhudruck 2.51 inches. The early rice is being harvested, and the outturn is good. The late rice is a very promising crop. Cholera has at length disappeared altogether.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
South-West Frontier Agency.
40 Hazareebagh, Sept. 3, '75	1.09	Seasonable weather. A few days of fine weather have benefited the millets very much, otherwise prospects are unchanged. Cholera abating.
41 Lohardugga, „ 4, „	2.6	Fine weather. The bhadoi crops are being harvested; the outturn will be short owing to excessive rain. The early rice is being cut in some parts, and the crop will be a fair average one. The prospects of the late rice are excellent. Cholera still prevalent in Palamow.
42 Singbhoon, „ 3, „	2.8	Seasonable weather. State and prospects of the crops are very favorable. Few cases of cholera in pergunnah Bamunghatty are still reported, but the rest of the district is healthy.
43 Manbhoon, „ 4, „	2.4	Favorable weather. The reports are generally good. The Deputy Commissioner has heard of a blight called bhepoo , and has seen paddy suffering from it. It may be described as a withering away of the centre ear bearing shoot. Enquiries are being made about it, and it is believed that it will not much affect the harvest.

* Telegram of the 6th September, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer, means are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain-gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.
